After 18 months and 7 days after beginning of the siege of Jerusalem on Tevet 10, Nebuchadnezzar and his Babylonian forces breached the walls of Jerusalem on Tammuz 17 of the Jewish Calendar, on their way to destroying the First Temple three weeks later, meaning almost 19 months after beginning of the siege, on Av 9 (Tisha B’Av) of the Jewish Calender. Av 9 is the same day on which the Second Temple was later destroyed around 70 AD. Rabbinical Jewish sources state that the destruction of the First Temple happened in 422 B.C.E., while Secular sources state it happened was in 586 (or 587) B.C.E. If the End Times starts in 2019, that means 422 + 2018 = 2440 years after destruction of the First Temple.

On March 29, 2002 (Muharram 15, 1423 Hijri) (Nisan 16, 5762 Jewish), Israel began what it called “Operation Defensive Shield”, an invasion of Palestinian towns in the West Bank. During the Operation, Israeli tanks and troops besieged Arafat’s Palestinian Authority Headquarters in RamAllah, prohibiting him from leaving till May 2, 2002 (Safar 19 (or 20), 1423 Hijri) (Iyar 20, 5762 Jewish). At approximately 2:00 a.m. on April 2, 2002 (Muharram 19, 1423 Hijri is 19th day of 1423 Hijri) (Nisan 20, 5762 Jewish), the Israeli forces invaded Bethlehem (the birth town of Jesus, which is about 20 miles south of Ramallah) using about 250 tanks and armored carriers of troops, F-16 fighter jets, and Apache gunships. By 4:30 a.m., Israeli forces seized full control over Bethlehem, except the Old Town of Bethlehem. Around 11:30 a.m., Israeli occupation forces shelled Santa Maria Church, and as a result, several priests and nuns were wounded. About 200 Palestinian civilians and militants fled to the Church of the Nativity, seeking refuge, including Muhammad Al-Madani, the governor of Bethlehem. In addition, there were some 200 monks resident in the church. The Israeli security forces besieged the Church of the Nativity (located over the birthplace cave of Jesus) in Bethlehem, for 39 days, from April 2, 2002 (Muharram 19, 1423 Hijri) (Nisan 20, 5762 Jewish) till May 10, 2002 (Safar 27 (or 28), 1423 Hijri) (Iyar 28, 5762 Jewish). During the siege, Israeli army snipers, from their rooftop positions surrounding the Church, killed seven Palestinians who were in the Church. After 39 days of siege, an agreement was reached, according to which the Palestinian militants turned themselves in to Israel and were exiled to Europe and the Gaza Strip. Palestinians had last sought refuge in the Church of the Nativity during Israel’s capture of the West Bank in June 1967.

Israel started the construction of the Barrier (or Wall) between Israel and the Western Bank on June 16, 2002 (Rabi Thani 5, 1423 Hijri) (Tammuz 6, 5762 Jewish) (2452,441.5th Julian Day).

After victory of the French forces in Battle of Maysalun and conquering Damascus, General Gouraud reportedly went to the tomb of Salah Eddin Al-Ayyubi (who defeated the Crusaders and liberated Jerusalem in 1187 AD), adjacent to the Umawi Mosque in Damascus, kicked it, and said: “Wake up Salah Eddin. We have returned. My presence here consecrates victory of the Cross over the Crescent.”]

...We ask him to the lowest of low, except those who have believed and done good deeds, for them, there is a reward, not undeservedly. So, what will make you disbelieve, after now, in the Deen (Religion or Judgment)? Isn’t Allah the most wise (verse 4 – 8 of Sura 95): [556 + 540 + 263 (or 264) + 171 + 231 + 32 + 791 + 99 (or 98) + 6 + 147 + 561 (559 or 560) + 155 + 204 + 1210 + 186 + 121 + 752 + 76] + [97 + 101 + 67 (or 66) + 71] = 6101 (6100 or 6102) + 336 (or 335) = 6437 (or 6436)
So, be patient regarding what they say and praise, by thanking, your Lord before rise of the Sun and before the Ghurub (Sun-Set). And from the Night, praise him and after the prostration. And listen the day the caller calls from a close place, the day they hear the Saiha (Scream) in the Haq. That is (verse 39 – 42 of Sura 50): 6437 (or 6436)

And we said, after him, to Bani (Children) of Israel: Inhabit the Land. When Promise of the End Times comes, we bring you Lafifa (from mixed backgrounds). And in the Haq, we descended it (or him) and in the Haq, it (or he) descended. And we have not sent you except as a Mubashir (Bearer of Good News) and a Nazeer (Warner) (verse 104 – 105 of Sura 17): 6437 (or 6438)

When Promise of my Lord comes, he shall turn it into ruins and thus Promise of my Lord shall be fulfilled. And we let some of them make waves against others. And the Trumpet shall be blown (verse 98 – 99 of Sura 18): 212 + (782 + 5 + 80 + 212 + 108 + 26 + 6 + 71 + 80 + 212 + 109 + 6 + 671 + 917 + 766 + 59 + 90 + 872 + 6 + 730 + 90 + 327) = 212 + 6225 = 6437

Allah has promised those who have believed and did good deeds that he shall make them successors in the Ard (Earth or Land) like he made successors those (verse 55 of Sura 24): [80 + 66 + 791 + 98 (or 97) + 150 + 6 + 147 (or 146) ] + [599 (or 600) + 1305 + 90 + 1032 + 61 + 1171 + 791 + 90] = 1338 (1336 or 1337) + 5099 (or 5100) = 6437 (or 6436)

Laila (Eve or Night) of the Qadr and how would you know what Laila of the Qadr is? Laila of the Qadr is better than one thousand months. The Angels and the Spirit descend in it by permission of their Lord from every command. Peace it is till rise of the Dawn (verse 1 - 5 of Sura 97): [75 + 335 + 6 + 41 + 226 + 41 + 75 + 335 + 75 + 335 + 810 + 90 + 111 + 505 + 487 + 136 (or 137) + 6 + 245 + 96 + 753 + 247 + 90 + 50] + [241 + 130 (or 131) + 15 + 418 + 149 + 314] = 5170 (or 5171) + 1267 (or 1268) = 6437 (or 6438)

Rahman the Raheem. O You the Muzzamil. Stand up the Night, except a little. Half of it or subtract from it a little or add to it. And recite the Quran as a recital. We are going to Nulqi (throw or deliver) unto you a heavy Qawl (message or revelation). Verily, the Nashia (event or prayer) of the night is more impacting and best of what is said (verse 1 – 6 of Sura 73): (299 + 289 + 11 + 17 + 148 + 140 + 71 + 32 + 171 + 225 + 7 + 241 + 95 + 171 + 7 + 11 + 115 + 6 + 630 + 383 + 1041 + 52) + [(250 + 130 + 137 + 641 + 51 + 366) + (71 + 15 + 305 + 16 + 6 + 147 + 140)] = 4162 + (1575 + 700) = 4162 + 2267 = 6437

Youths to the Cave, then they say: Our Lord bring us, from what you have, mercy (verse 10 of Sura 18): $890 + 41 + 136 + 218 + 253 + 453$ (or 452) + 90 + 104 + 253 = $2438$ (or 2437)

This is a mercy from My Lord. When the Promise of my Lord comes, He will turn it into (verse 98 of Sura 18): $706$ (or 707) + 253 + 90 + 202 + 782 + 5 + 80 + 212 + 108 = $2438$ (or 2439) take the Book strongly. And we gave him the Wisdom (verse 12 of Sura 19): $2438$ (2437 or 2439)

The Command of Allah is coming (has approached). So, do not hasten it. Glorified and exalted is he. (verse 1 of Sura 16): $402 + 241 + 67 \text{ (or 66)} + 111 + 974 + 126 \text{ (or 125)} + 6 + 511 \text{ (or 510)} = 2438 \text{ (2437 or 2436)}$

prostrate to Allah who brings out the Khib’a (what is hidden) (verse 25 of Sura 27): $2438 \text{ (2436 or 2437)}$

by the self-reproaching soul. Does the human being think that we are not going to assemble his bones? Yes, we are capable of (verse 2 – 4 of Sura 75): $(223 + 113) + [81 + 193 \text{ (or 192)} + 81 + 163 + 1016 + 42 + 365 \text{ (or 364)} + 51] = 336 + [2051 \text{ (or 2050)} + 51] = 2438 \text{ (2436, 2437, or 2439)}$

The Rahman on the throne Istawa (got seated). For him is what is in the Heavens and what is in the Earth and what is (verse 5 – 6 of Sura 20): $329 \text{ (or 330)} + 110 + 601 + 477 + 35 + 41 + 90 + 539 \text{ (537 or 538)} + 6 + 41 + 90 + 1032 + 6 + 41 = 3438 \text{ (3436, 3437, or 3439)}$

In the name of Allah, the Rahman, the Raheem. I do swear by the Qiyama (Resurrection or Beginning of the End Times) and I do swear by the self-reproaching soul. Does the human being think that We are not going to assemble his bones? Yes, We are capable of re-constructing even his finger tips. And that when a worshipper of Allah rose up Yaduh (invoking, calling or praying to) him, they were about to attack him. Say: I Adu (invoke, call or pray to) my Lord and do not worship any thing along with Allah anything. Say: I do not have the capacity for harm or guidance. Say: No one will protect me from Allah and I will not find a refuge in other than Him, except a proclamation (verse 18–23 of Sura 72): 51 + 138 + 66 + 111 + 481 + 110 + 65 + 14 + 6 + 56 + 71 + 141 + 76 + 66 + 95 + 32 + 142 + 115 + 37 + 130 + 92 + 82 + 212 + 6 + 93 + 61 + 31 + 91 + 90 + 1001 + 6 + 31 + 505 + 130 + 61 + 80 + 283 + 90 + 66 + 13 + 6 + 80 + 8 + 90 + 65 + 483 + 32 + 1033 = 7439 (7439 is the 6496th Composite Number)

And thus we let them be found so that they know that the Promise of Allah is true and that the Hour there is no doubt about it. They argue among each other. We descended it in Lailat (Night or Eve) of the Qadr and how would you know what Lailat of the Qadr is? Lailat of the Qadr is better than one thousand months. The Angels and the Spirit descend in it, by permission of their Lord, from every command. Peace is till (verse 1 – 5 of Sura 97):

Sending in a journey, his worshipper at night, from the Haram Mosque to the Aqsa Mosque which we had blessed its surroundings to show him of our signs. It is He who is the All-Hearer, All-See. And we brought Moses (verse 1 - 2 of Sura 17): 271 + 83 + 71 + 90 + 138 + 280 + 41 + 138 + 223 + 741 + 273 + 49 + 295 + 90 + 462 + 56 + 11 + 211 + 6 + 462 + 116 = 4440 (4440 is the 3837th Composite Number)

And we have not made Ashab (Guardians) of the Fire, except as angels and we have not made their Idda (number) except as Fitna (trial or test) for those (verse 30 - 31 of Sura 74): 116 + 535 + 570 + 6 + 41 + 154 + 101 + 282 + 32 + 492 + 6 + 41 + 154 + 523 (or 519) + 32 + 535 + 820 = 4440 (4435 or 4439)

The Raheem. The Command of Allah is coming so do not hasten it. Glorified and exalted is he above what they worship beside him. He descends the Angels with the Spirit from his command upon whomever (verse 1 – 2 of Sura 16): 4440 (or 4439)

So that you seek bounty from your Lord and so that you know number of the years and the Hisab (Calculation or Judgment) and every thing (verse 12 of Sura 17): 1839 + 911 + 90 + 264 (or 262) + 6 + 577 + 78 + 201 + 6 + 102 + 6 + 50 + 310 (or 311) = 4440 (or 4439 or 4441)

Bism Allah al-Rahman al-Rahim. Glory be upon the One who sent in a journey his worshipper at night from the Haram Mosque to the Aqsa Mosque which we had blessed its surroundings to show him from (verse 1 of Sura 17): 102 + 66 + 329 + 289 + 120 (or 121) + 741 + 271 + 83 + 71 + 90 + 138 + 280 + 41 + 138 + 232 + 741 + 274 (or 273) + 49 + 295 + 90 = 4440 (4439 or 4441)

My Lord is Haq. And we let some of them make waves against others. And shall be blown (verse 98 – 99 of Sura 18): 4440 (or 4438)

From you of its remembrance, to your Lord is its end. You are a warner for those who fear (or concerned about) it. As if (verses 43 – 46 of Sura 79): 90 + 927 + 41 + 224 (or 222) + 502 + 92 + 451 + 990 + 90 + 917 + 116 = 4440 (or 4438) (equivalent to 1440)

The Hour: When will its docking be? While you are part of its remembrance (or mention). To your Lord is its end. You are a Warner for those who fear it. (verse 42 - 45 of Sura 79): 167 + 62 + 306 (or 307) + 130 + 451 + 90 + what the Lailat (Eve or Night) of Qadr is? The Lailat of Qadr is better than one thousand months. The Angels and the Spirit descend in it by permission of their Lord from every command. Peace, it is (verse 2 - 5 of Sura 97): 41 + 75 + 335 + 75 + 335 + 810 + 90 + 111 + 505 + 487 + 136 (or 137) + 6 + 245 + 96 + 753 + 247 + 90 + 81 + 111 + 505 + 303 (or 302) + 138 + 1032 + 782 + 214 + 1291 + 41 + 56 + 638 + 131 + 214 + 1281 + 41 + 56 + 31 + 506 + 217 = 5440 (or 5439)

And shall be upon you the Curse till Day of the Deen (Religion or Judgment). He said: My Lord, so give me a respite till the day they will be revived. He said: You are from among those given a respite till day of the Known Time (verse 35 – 38 of Sura 15): 6 + 51 + 130 + 186 + 41 + 56 + 95 + 131 + 214 + 1291 + 41 + 56 + 638 + 131 + 151 + 90 + 1281 + 41 + 56 + 31 + 506 + 217 = 5440 (or 5439)

We have not made People of the Fire except as Angels and We have not made their Idda (count, number, or period) except as a Fitna (Trial) for those who have disbelieved so that, will become certain, those who have been given the Book (verse 31 of Sura 74): 41 + 154 + 102 (or 101) + 282 + 32 + 97 (or 96) + 6 + 41 + 154 + 519 + 32 + 535 + 820 + 307 + 791 + 414 + 453 = 5440 (or 5439)

In the name of Allah, the Rahman, the Raheem.

I do swear by the Qiyama (Resurrection or Beginning of the End Times) and I do swear by the self-reproaching soul. Does the human being think that We are not going to assemble his bones? Yes, We are capable of re-constructing even his finger tips. However, the human being wishes to deny what is coming ahead of him. He asks: when will Day of the Qiyama be? (verse 1 - 6 of Sura 75): 5440 (5438
The Ghurub (Setting). And from the Night, praise him and after the prostration. And listen the day the Calls calls from a near place. The Day they hear the Saiha (Scream) in the Haq, that is Day of the Khuruj (Departure or Coming out) (verse 39 – 42 of Sura 50): 5440 (4438 or 4439) (equivalent to 1440)

We made it/him a guidance to Bani (Children) of Israel. Do not take, besides me, a patron. The progeny of the ones whom we carried with Noah. He was a thankful worshipper. And we decreed to Children of Israel in (verse 2 – 4 of Sura 17): 6440 (equivalent to 1440) (6440 is the 5603rd Composite Number)

Remember the mercy of your Lord, his servant Zakaria. When he called unto his Lord, an in private call. He said: My Lord, my bones have weakened and my head has become full of grey hair (verse 2 – 4 of Sura 19):

Lailat of the Qadr is better than one thousand months. The Angels and the Spirit descend in it by permission of their Lord from every command. Peace, it is, till rise of the Dawn (verse 1 - 5 of Sura 97): 6440 (equivalent to 1440) (The first 19 words (after the introductory mysterious letters) of Sura 19)

The Rahman, the Raheem. We have descended it (or him) in Lailat (Eve or Night) of the Qadr and how would you know what Lailat (Eve or Night) of the Qadr is? Lailat of the Qadr is better than one thousand months. The Angels and the Spirit descend in it by permission of their Lord from every command. Peace it is till rise of the Dawn (verse 1 - 5 of Sura 97): 6440 (equivalent to 1440)
Lord from every command. Peace (verse 1 - 5 of Sura 97): \(330 + 289 + 52 + 143 + 90 + 75 + 335 + 6 + 41 + 226 + 41 + 75 + 335 + 75 + 335 + 810 + 90 + 111 + 505 + 487 + 128 + 6 + 245 + 96 + 753 + 249 + 90 + 50 + 241 + 131 = 6440\) (or 6439)

Allah has promised those who have believed and did good deeds that he shall make them successors in the Ard (Earth or Land) like he made successors those (verse 55 of Sura 24): \([(80 + 66 + 791 + 99 + 150 + 6 + 147) + [561 + 1305 + 90 + 1032 + 61 + 1171 + 791 + 90] = 1339\) (or 1338) + 5101 (or 5100) = 6440 (6438 or 6439)

Very high in the ranks, who has the Throne, he casts the Spirit, from his command, upon whomever he wishes, from among his worshippers to warn about Day of the Talaq (Meeting). The Day they are Barizoon (clearly visible), shall not be hidden, to Allah, of them, anything. For whom is the Mulk (Kingship or Dominion) today? For Allah (verse 15 – 16 of Sura 40):
\[360 + 638 + 706 + 601 + 150 + 245 + 90 + 246 + 110 + 90 + 312 + 90 + 82 + 990 + 56 + 562 + 56] + [45 + 265 + 31 + 700 + 110 + 66 + 135 + 311 + 120 + 121 + 87 + 65] = 5384 + 2056 = 7440 \ (7440 is the \text{6497}th \ Composite \ Number)

The Mosques are for Allah, so do not Tadu (invoke, call or pray to) along with Allah anything. And that when a worshipper of Allah rose up Yaduh (invoking, calling or praying to) him, they were about to attack him. Say: I Adu (invoke, call or pray to) my Lord and do not worship anything along with him. Say: I do not have the capacity for harm or guidance. Say: No one will protect me from Allah and I will not find a refuge in other than Him, except a proclamation (verse 18 – 23 of Sura 72):
\[51 + 138 + 66 + 111 + 481 + 110 + 65 + 14 + 6 + 56 + 71 + 141 + 76 + 66 + 95 + 32 + 142 + 115 + 37 + 130 + 92 + 82 + 212 + 6 + 31 + 521 + 7 + 14 + 130 + 61 + 31 + 91 + 90 + 1001 + 6 + 31 + 505 + 130 + 61 + 80 + 283 + 90 + 66 + 13 + 6 + 80 + 8 + 90 + 65 + 483 + 32 + 1033 = 7440 \ (equivalent to 1440)

The end Times, they shall ruin your faces and they shall enter the Mosque like they entered it the first time and they shall destroy how high they reach, an utter destruction. Perhaps your Lord (verse 7 – 8 of Sura 17):
\[559 + 281 + 6 + 51 + 502 + 116 + 782 + 5 + 80 + 838 \ (or 837) + 107 + 80 + 6 + 681 + 138 + 61 + 645 + 37 + 245 + 6 + 649 + 41 + 107 + 1013 + 140 + 264 \ (or 262) = 7440 \ (7438 or 7439)

And thus we let them be found so that they know that the Promise of Allah is true and that the Hour there is no doubt about it. They argue among each other. So, they said: build above them a building; their Lord is more knowledgeable about them. Those who prevailed over their affair said (verse 21 of Sura 18):

will its docking be? Say: the knowledge of it is with my Lord (God). No one uncovers its timing, except he. It has become heavy in the Heavens and the Earth. It does not come to you, except as all of a sudden. Whatever comes to them of mention of their Lord, they listen to it while they are playing around (verse 1 - 2 of Sura 21):

We descended it in Lailat (Night or Eve) of the Qadr and how would you know what Lailat of the Qadr is? Lailat of the Qadr is better than one thousand months. The Angels and the Spirit descend in it, by permission of their Lord, from every command. And We brought Moses the Book and we made him a guidance to the Children of Israel, so that you do not take aside from me as a Wakeel (Guardian), the progeny of the ones whom we had carried with Noah. He was a thankful worshipper.

And we decreed unto Bani (Children) of Israel in the Book that you shall corrupt in the Ard (Land or Earth) twice and you shall rise to a great height. When the Promise of the first of the two comes, we send against you, servants of ours, of great might. So, they ravage through your homelands. And, it has been a promise bound to be fulfilled. Then, we give back to you the turn against them and we supply you with monies and children and we make you more in number. If you do well, you do well to yourselves, and if you do badly, it is to yourselves. Year 1440 is 1400 Hijri years from year 40 Hijri in which Ali bin Abi Taleb died. He died on January 28 (or 27), 661 AD Julian (Ramadan 21, 40 Hijri).

After 18 months and 7 days after beginning of the siege of Jerusalem on Tevet 10, Nebuchadnezzar and his Babylonian forces breached the walls of Jerusalem on Tammuz 17 of the Jewish Calender, on their way to destroying the First Temple three weeks later, meaning almost 19 months after beginning of the siege, on Av 9 (Tisha B'Av) of the Jewish Calender. Av 9 is the same day on which the Second Temple was later destroyed around 70 AD. Rabbinical Jewish sources state that the destruction of the First Temple happened in 422 B.C.E., while Secular sources state it happened was in 586 B.C.E. If the End Times starts in 2019, that means 422 + 2018 = 2440 years after destruction of the First Temple.

I do swear by the Qiyama (Resurrection or Upheaval) and I do swear by the self-reproaching spirit. Does the human being think that we are not going to assemble his bones? Yes, we are capable of re-constructing even his finger tips. However, the human being wishes to deny what is coming ahead of him. He asks: when will Day of the Qiyama (Resurrection or Upheaval) be? When he sparkles the sight and eclipses the Moon. And the Sun and the Moon are combined. The human being says, on that day: where is the refuge? No (verse 1 – 11 of Sura 75):

We have created the human in best Taqweem (shape or form). Then, We abase him to the lowest of the low except those who believed and done the good deeds, for them, there is a reward, not undeserved. Your Lord to Aad, Iram, the one which has the pillars, which has never been created like it among the Bilad (countries or cities), and Thamud who carved the rocks in the valley, and Pharaoh of the Awtad (Stakes), the ones (verse 6 – 10 of Sura 89):

A command from us, we have been sending a mercy from your Lord, the All-Hearer, All-Knower, Lord of the Heavens and the Earth and what is between them, if you are certain. There is no god, except he. He gives life and causes death, your Lord and the Lord of your first fathers (ancestors). However, they are in doubt playing around. So, wait for the day (the sky) brings (verse 4 – 10 of Sura 44):

In the name of Allah, the Rahman, the Raheem. I do swear by the Qiyama (Resurrection or Upheaval) and I do swear by the self-reproaching spirit. Does the human being think that we are not going to assemble his bones? Yes, we are capable of re-constructing even his finger tips. However, the human being wishes to deny what is coming ahead of him. He asks: when will Day of the Qiyama (Resurrection or Upheaval) be? When he sparkles the sight and eclipses the Moon. And the Sun and the Moon are combined. The human being says, on that day: where is the refuge? Year 1440 Hijri is about 1453 Hijri years from the revelation of the Quran unto Prophet Mohammad (p).

Constantinople was built over 6 years, and consecrated on May 11, 330 Julian (May 12, 330 Gregorian). At the end of the 23rd siege of Constantinople which began on April 6, 1453 (Rabi Awwal 26, 857 Hijri) and lasted 53 days, an Ottoman army, under the command of the 23-year-old Sultan Mohammad II conquered Constantinople (capital of the Eastern Roman, Byzantine Empire), on Tuesday, May 29, 1453 Julian (June 7, 1453 Gregorian) (Jumada Al-Ula 20, 857 Hijri) (Sivan 21, 5213 Jewish) (2251,914.5th or 2251,915th Julian Day), after 3 years of being a Sultan. After conquering Constantinople, Sultan Mohammad II became known as Mohammad the Fatih (Conqueror). Constantine XI Palaiologos (the 92nd Byzantine Emperor) is believed to have died during the conquest, but his body was not found. At the beginning of the siege, less than 50,000 people were living in Constantinople. The invading Ottoman army consisted of about 70,000 men. Constantinople was defended by about 7,000 men, 2,000 of whom were foreigners, primarily from Venice and Genoa. Constantinople had about 20 k.m. of walls (Theodosian Walls: 5.5 k.m., Sea walls along the Golden Horn: 7 k.m., and Sea walls along the Sea of Marmara: 7.5 k.m.), some of the strongest fortified walls in the World at the time. The walls had recently been repaired and thus were in fairly good shape. The Ottomans were equipped with state-of-the-art siege equipment including powerful cannons to destroy walls of the city. Preparations of the Ottomans for the final assault started in the evening of May 26, 1453. The Ottomans granted prayer and resting periods to their soldiers on May 28. On May 28, 1453, large-scale Christian religious processions were held in the streets of Constantinople. In the evening of May 28, a solemn Christian ceremony was held in Aya Sophia, in which the Emperor Constantine XI and representatives of both the Latin and Greek churches participated. Several ominous portents were noticed before the fall of Constantinople. A total lunar eclipse (the color of the Moon was red like Blood during the eclipse) on May 22, 1453, representing a fulfillment of a prophecy of the city's demise, crushed the morale of defenders of Constantinople. Four days later, unusual thick fog covered Constantinople. When the fog was lifted that evening, a strange light was seen hovering around the dome of Aya Sophia, which some people interpreted as the Holy Spirit departing the city. Further ominous portents included an icon of the Virgin Mary that slipped from its platform as it was carried in a procession through the streets of the city. Then, a thunderstorm halted the procession. Shortly after midnight, in the early hours of May 29, 1453, the attack of the Ottomans started, accompanied by a deafening noise of trumpets, drums and war-cries. Taking booties and looting happened, but Mohammad II attempted to protect key buildings such as Churches. On May 29, 1453, the Ottoman forces entered Aya Sophia during the morning religious service in the church. Later, Sultan Mohammad II entered Aya Sophia and ordered an Imam to claim it for Islam. Mohammad II attended the first Friday prayer in the mosque on June 1, 1453 (Jumada Al-Ula 23, 857 Hijri) (Sivan 24, 5213 Jewish) (2251,917.5th or 2251,918th Julian Day). Sultan Mohammad II handed over, to the Greek Orthodox patriarch, the city's second most important church, Church of the Holy Apostles. During the Ottoman rule, the Greek Orthodox patriarchate survived as an institution for administering the Greek and other Orthodox Christian communities in the new multinational Ottoman Empire. As a strange side-effect of the Ottoman conquest of Constantinople, the doctrinal integrity of eastern Orthodox Christianity was preserved. This conquest ended the Byzantine Empire which had lasted for about one thousand years. The political capital of eastern Orthodox Christianity moved northwards to Russia, where patriots proclaimed that Moscow as “the third Rome” after the conquest of Constantinople, which used to be known as “the New Rome”. After the fall of Constantinople, Sultan Mohammad II moved the capital of the Ottoman Empire from Edirne (Adrianople) to Constantinople and declared himself Kayser-i Rum (Caesar of the Romans). Mohammad II had a blood lineage to the Byzantine Imperial family. On January 5, 1454, Gennadios (Georgios Scholarios), a staunch enemy of the West, was chosen as the Orthodox Patriarch of Constantinople by Mohammad II himself acting as a Roman Emperor and in turn Gennadios recognized Mohammad II as an Emperor. Mohammad II was planning on conquering Rome itself when the Italian campaign was cut short by his sudden death. After the death of Mohammad II, the title “Caesar of the Romans” was not adopted by his successors. Following the fall of Constantinople, many Byzantine Greek scholars fled westward to Europe, taking with them valuable ancient manuscripts, where they helped to stimulate the Renaissance.

Mehmed (Mohammad), the Second is the 7th Ottoman Sultan. He is known as Mohammad Al-Fatih (the Conqueror) because he conquered Constantinople on May 29, 1453. He was born on March 30, 1432 (Rajab 27, 835 Hijri) (Nisan 27, 5192 Jewish) and died on May 3, 1481 (Rabi Awwal 5, 886 Hijri) (Sivan 5, 5241 Jewish). He ruled first for a short time from August 1444 to September 1446, and later from February 3, 1451 to May 3, 1481.

Romulus Augustulus, the final emperor of the Roman Empire in the West, was deposed by the Germanic king Odoacer on September 4, 476 AD (Elul 28, 4236 Jewish). More than 300 years later, Charlemagne was crowned by Pope Leo III at the Old St. Peter’s Basilica in the Vatican, as the first Emperor of the revived Holy Roman Empire on Christmas Day, December 25, 800 AD (Zu Al-Hijja 4, 184 Hijri). Pope Leo III was supposed to anoint Charlemagne's son as Charlemagne’s heir, as King of the Franks. But unexpectedly, as Charlemagne was rising from prayer, the pope placed a crown on Charlemagne head and proclaimed him emperor. Initially Charlemagne expressed some displeasure, but accepted the honour. The displeasure was probably diplomatic, for the legal emperor was the one in Constantinople. Otto I reached Rome with his army on January 31, 962 and was crowned by Pope John XII on February 2, 962 AD (Zu Al-Hijja 24, 350 Hijri). This marked a revival of the concept of a Christian emperor in the West. It was also the beginning of an unbroken line of Holy Roman emperors lasting for more than eight centuries. Otto I did not call himself Roman emperor, but his son Otto II uses the title - as a clear statement of western and papal independence from the other Christian emperor in Constantinople.

On Monday, January 2, 1492 AD (Rabi Awwal 2, 897 Hijri), Sultan Abu Abdallah Muhammad XII surrendered the city of Granada, the last city ruled by Muslims in Andalus, to King Ferdinand of Aragon and Queen Isabella of Castile, the Royal family of Spain.

On March 31, 1492 AD (Jumada Thania 2, 897 Hijri), during the Spanish Inquisition period when Spain was ruled by King Ferdinand and Queen Isabella, the Al-Hambra Decree for the expulsion of all the Jews from Spain was issued. The Jews were permitted to take their belongings with them, except gold or silver or minted money. The punishment for any Jew who did not convert to Catholicism or leave by the deadline was death without trial. It resulted in about 130,000 – 800,000 Jews leaving Spain for refuge in Portugal, North Africa and the Balkan region (ruled by the Ottomans), etc. More than half of the Jews went to Portugal, where they eluded persecution for only a few years. The deadline of the expulsion was originally July 31, 1492, but it was later postponed to August 2, 1492 (Shawwal 8, 897 Hijri) (Av 9, 5252 Jewish Calendar). The next day, on August 3, 1492, Christopher Columbus set sailed on his first voyage that led him to discover the Americas. Thus, the first words Columbus wrote in his diary were: “After you expelled the Jews, your majesties sent me with a fleet.”

As the first Crusade was approaching Jerusalem, an eclipse of the moon on June 5, 1099 was regarded by the Crusaders as a favorable sign from God. The Crusade reached Jerusalem, the main destination of their pilgrimage journey, in the morning, on Tuesday, June 7, 1099 Julian (Rajab 15, 492 Hijri) (Sivan 15, 4859 Jewish). The final assault of the Crusaders on Jerusalem started on July 13 at night. The Crusaders fought all day on July 14, 1099 Julian (July 20, 1099 Gregorian) (Shaban 22, 492 Hijri) (Tammuz 22, 4859 Jewish) (2122,661.5th or 2122,662nd Julian Day) without establishing a foothold. The Crusaders (about 1300 knights and 12,000 soldiers) breached the walls of Jerusalem and conquered Jerusalem on Friday, July 15, 1099 AD Julian (July 21, 1099 Gregorian) (Shaban 23, 492 Hijri) (Tammuz 23, 4859 Jewish) (2122,662.5th or 2122,663rd Julian Day). The Ottomans decisively defeated the Mamluks in Battle of Marj Dabiq, about 40 km north of Aleppo, Syria on August 24, 1516 AD (Rajab 26, 922 Hijri) (Elul 26, 5276 Jewish). Damascus surrendered to the Ottomans on September 27, 1516 (Ramadan 1, 922 Hijri). Ottoman Sultan Selim I remained in Damascus until he left it through Bab (Gate) of Al-Jabiya on December 15, 1516 (Zu Al-Qada 20, 922 Hijri). The Ottomans entered Jerusalem on December 28, 1516 (Zu Al-Hijja 4, 922 Hijri) (Tevet 4, 5277 Jewish). Ottoman Sultan Selim I entered Jerusalem on December 30, 1516 (Zu Al-Hijja 6, 922 Hijri). After a battle near Gaza in which the Mamluks were defeated, he entered Gaza on January 2 (or 3), 1517 (Zu Al-Hijja 9 (or 10), 922 Hijri). The Ottomans defeated the Mamluks in the Battle of Ridaniya, near Cairo, on January 23, 1517 (Zu Al-Hijja 29, 922 Hijri) and entered Cairo. After the battle of Ridaniya, Selim encamped on the island of Vustaniye (or Burac) facing Cairo, the capital. But he didn't enter Cairo. Because Tumanbay II, the sultan of Mamluks, as well as Kayıtbay another leader of Mamluks had managed to escape, Selim decided to concentrate on arresting the leaders of the Mamluks before he enters Cairo. Thus, the Selim sent only a vanguard regiment to Cairo on January 26, 1517. Although the regiment was able to enter Cairo without much fighting, the same night, Tumanbay also secretly came to Cairo. With the help of Cairo citizens, he raided the Ottoman forces in the capital and began controlling Cairo. After hearing the news of Tumanbay's presence in Cairo, Selim sent his elite troops to the city. After several days' fighting, the Ottoman forces entered the city on February 3, 1517 (Muharram 10, 923 Hijri). Selim entered the city and sent messages to other rulers about the conquest of Cairo. Nevertheless, the leaders of Mamluks were still on the loose. Tumanbay escaped from Cairo and tried to organize a new army composed of Egyptians together with what was left out of the Mamluk army. His army was no match for the Ottoman army. But he was planning to raid Selim's camp on Vustatiye island. However Selim heard about his plan and sent a force on Tumanbay to forestall his plans. After some small scale clashes, Tumanbay was arrested around March 26, 1517 (Rabi Awwal 3, 923 Hijri). Selim's initial decision was to send Mamluk notables to Istanbul. But after a while, he changed his decision. Tumanbay and the other notable Mamluks were executed on April 13 (or 15), 1517 by a former Mamluk commander who had switched sides.

Ottoman Sultan Selim I's reign is notable for the enormous expansion of the Empire, particularly his conquest between 1516 and 1517 of the entire Mamluk Sultanate of Egypt, which included all of Sham (Greater Syria), Egypt, and Hijaz (where Mecca is located). With the heart of the Arab World now under their control, the Ottomans became the dominant power in the region and in the Islamic World. Upon conquering Egypt, Sultan Selim I adopted the title of Caliph of Muslims after Al-Mutawakkil III, the last of the Abbasi Caliph in Cairo, formally surrendered the Caliph title and regalia [the sword, mantle and other relics of Prophet Muhammad (p)] to Sultan Selim I in Constantinople. In the summer of 1517, the Sharif of Mecca, Barakat Effendi, who was a descendant of Prophet Mohammad (p), sent an envoy to Sultan Selim I to deliver to him the keys of the Islamic holy cities of Mecca and Medina. Sultan Selim I sent the envoy back to Mecca with a caravan carrying 200,000 gold coins and food. Sultan Selim I adopted the title of "Khadim Al-Haramain Al-Sharifain" (Servant of the Two Noble Sanctuaries). Selim I’s full title became: Sovereign of the House of Osman, Khan (King) of Khans (Kings) of the Two Lands (Europe and Asia) and the Two Seas (Mediterranean and Indian), Amir (Commander or Prince) of the Believers, Caliph (Successor) of the Prophet of the Lord of the Universe, Servant of the Two Noble Sanctuaries, Emperor of the Three Cities of Constantinople, Adrianople and Bursa, Conqueror of the two Armies (i.e. the European and Persian armies). Sultan Selim I died on September 22, 1520 (Ramadan 29, 926 Hijri) (Elul 29, 5280 Jewish). During his reign, the size of the Ottoman empire tripled.

On the morning of December 9, 1531, a native peasant named Juan Diego saw a vision of a maiden at a place called the Hill of Tepeyac, which would become part of Villa de Guadalupe, a suburb of Mexico City. Speaking to him in his native Nahuatl language (the language of the Aztec empire), the maiden identified herself as the Virgin Mary, and asked for a church to be built at that site in her honor. Today, this is known as the apparition of Our Lady of Guadalupe or Virgin of Guadalupe. Construction of a church on that site of this apparition started in 1695, but was not finished until 1709. Next to it, construction of a new church called Basilica of Our Lady of Guadalupe started in 1974. The new Basilica was consecrated on October 12, 1976. It is the most visited Catholic pilgrimage site in the World, and the world's third most-visited sacred site. Pope John Paul II beatified Juan Diego at Basilica of Our Lady of Guadalupe during a Mass on May 6, 1990. On July 31, 2002, Pope John Paul II canonized Juan Diego before a crowd of 12 million at the Basilica of Our Lady of Guadalupe.

On February 11, 1531 (Jumada Thania 23, 937 Hijri), the Catholic Church in England recognized King of England, Henry VIII as its supreme head. This day marked an important step in the formation of the Church of England as a separate entity independent of papal authority. On July 11, 1533 (Zu Hijja 18, 939 Hijri), Henry VIII was excommunicated from the Catholic Church by Pope Clement VII. In 1534, the Act of Submission of the Clergy removed the right of any appeal to Rome, which ended the Vatican's influence with regard to the Church of England. Thus, Henry VIII ceased to be Defender of the Faith, a title that was bestowed upon him by Pope Leo X after Henry VIII published a small book criticizing Martin Luther (founder of Protestantism) in 1521.

The first Crusade started their march from Europe on Friday August 15, 1096 AD (Shaban 23, 489 Hijri) and conquered Jerusalem on Friday, July 15, 1099 AD Julian (July 21, 1099 Gregorian) (Shaban 23, 492 Hijri)

After about 400 years of slavery in Egypt, Moses led Children of Israel, in an Exodus, out of Egypt. Pharoah with his Egyptian army followed them to prevent them from escaping. However, as a miracle, God parted the Red Sea, so that Children of Israel were able to cross the Red Sea. About 40–54 years later, the Children of Israel crossed the Jordan River into the Promised Land which was inhabited Canaanites for the first time.
In the Bible, 1 Kings 6:1 mentions that Solomon started building Solomon’s Temple (the First Temple) in the month of Ziv (the old Hebrew of month of Iyar) in the 4th year of his reign, 480 years after the Exodus of Children of Israel from Egypt. Since some scholars believe the construction of the Temple began in 958 BC, this means that the Exodus may have happened around 1438 BC. The construction of the Temple lasted 7 years, so it was completed in 951 BC. From 951 BC till 1967 (Israel captured the old city of Jerusalem, West Bank, and Gaza in June 1967), there are 2917 years. The Kindom of Israel split into two kingdoms in 922 BC.

The Babylonians, at the time of their king Nebuchadnezzar II, attacked and ended the Southern Kingdom of Israel, which was the last Kindom of Children of Israel, and destroyed Solomon’s Temple (referred to as the First Temple) in Jerusalem around 586 - 587 BC according to secular scholars (or 422 BC according to Rabinical sources). After the destruction of the First Temple, the Babylonians exiled the Children of Israel to Babylon (in today’s Iraq). After the Persians conquered Babylon, the Persians’ King Cyrus II (Cyrus the Great) allowed the Children of Israel to return to Palestine. This period is called the Babylonian Captivity of Children of Israel. Several years after Children of Israel returned to Palestine, they re-built the Temple in Jerusalem, this Temple is referred to as the Second Temple. The Romans destroyed the Second Temple and banned the Children of Israel from remaining in Jerusalem around 70 AD.

Biblical Prophecies in Daniel 9:1 - 2, Jeremiah 25:11, Jeremiah 29:10, talk about 70 years of desolation in Jerusalem and period of exile of the Jews to Babylon till their return to Jerusalem.

There are about 70 years from the destruction of Solomon’s Temple (First Temple) by the Babylonians in 586 (or 587 BC) till the rebuilding of the Temple (known as the Second Temple or Zerubbabel’s Temple) (which had started in 521 BC) was finished in Spring of 516 BC. The Jews were allowed by the Persian King Cyrus to return to the Holy Land around 537 BC and then it took the Jews 19 -20 years to re-build the Temple.

There are about 70 years from the first deportation of some Jews (which included Prophet Daniel and his friends Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-Nego) to Babylon around 607 BC, about 20 years before the destruction of the First Temple and the exile of the remaining Jews in the Holy Land to Babylon around 586 (or 587 BC) till 50 years later when a decree was issued around 537 BC by Persian King Cyrus, after conquering Babylon, that allowed the Jews to return to Jerusalem. This is known as the Babylonian Exile or Captivity. The reason for this 70 - year captivity is that the Children of Israel had failed to observe 70 Sabbath years during the past 490 years.

In 19 BC, Jewish King Herod of Judea (Judea was not independent, but rather it was part of the Roman Empire) ordered renovating the Second Temple enlarging and beautifying it. The main part of the renovation was completed before his death in 4 BC. However, the renovation work was not entirely finished until around 63 AD, about 7 years before the destruction of the entire Temple by the Romans in 70 AD.

However, early in the morning of July 24, 1920 (Zu Al-Qada 9, 1338 Hijri) (Av 9, 5680 Jewish Calendar) (2422, 529.5th Julian Day), French forces broke a truce, attacked and defeated the Arab forces of led by Yusuf Al-Azma, Minister of War, in the Battle of Maysalun (a strategic hilly location about 12 miles west of Damascus, overlooking a valley used as a passage to Damascus), captured Damascus, and took control of Syria. Then, General Gouraud reportedly went to the tomb of Salah Eddin Al-Ayyubi (who defeated the Crusaders and liberated Jerusalem in 1187 AD), adjacent to the Umawi Mosque in Damascus, kicked it, and said: “Wake up, Salah Eddin. We have returned. My presence here consecrates victory of the Cross over the Crescent.”

King Philip III of Spain signed the Edict of Expulsion on April 9, 1609 (Muharram 5, 1018 Hijri) (Nisan 5, 5369 Jewish) which decreed that all Moriscos (Spanish Muslims who were forced to become Christians, but still secretly practiced Islam) were to be expelled from Spain to North Africa. The expulsion campaign lasted from 1609 till 1614. On September 11, 1609 (Jumada Thania 11 or 12, 1018) (Elul 12, 5369 Jewish), the expulsion order was announced by town announcers, starting in Valencia and later across Spain. According to some sources, the date of the announcement of expulsion was September 22 (Jumada Thania 22 or 23, 1018 Hijri) (Elul 23, 5369 Jewish), instead of September 11. On September 30, 1609, the first of the expelled Moriscos were taken to the ports, where, as a last insult, they were forced to pay their own fare for the trip. The Moriscos were transported to North Africa.

On September 11, 1609 Julian (Jumada Thania 11, 1018 Hijri) (Elul 12, 5369 Jewish), Henry Hudson (English explorer who worked for the Dutch East India Company) during his mission to find an easterly passage to Asia, sailed into the New York bay, and discovered Manhattan Island. On the next day, he began a 10- day journey up what became later known as the Hudson River, sailing 150 miles to what is now Albany, before realizing that it would not lead to his destination. This eventually led to establishment of Dutch settlements in North America and the establishment the city of New Amsterdam on Manhattan Island to become the capital of New Netherland (Dutch colony of North America) in 1625. Later, after Britain captured the city of New Amsterdam, they changed its name to New York.

The Lady of Kazan (also called Theotokos of Kazan) is one of the most revered Russian religious icons as Protectress of Russia. According to tradition, the original icon of Our Lady of Kazan was brought to Russia from Constantinople in the 13th century. After the Tatars besieged and then conquered Kazan and made it the capital of their khanate in 1438, the icon disappeared. After a fire destroyed Kazan in 1579, the Virgin Mary appeared in a prophetic dream to a 10-year-old girl named Matrona, revealing the location of where the icon was hidden. The girl told the archbishop about the dream, but was not taken seriously, but on July 8, 1579 (Jumada Ula 13, 987 Hijri) (Tammuz 14, 5339 Jewish), after repetitions of the dream, the girl and her mother recovered the icon on their own, buried under a destroyed house in Kazan. The Time of Troubles was a period of Russian history comprising the years of interregnum between the death of the last Russian Tsar of the Rurik Dynasty, Feodor Ivanovich, in 1598, and the establishment of the Romanov Dynasty in 1613. By 1611, Polish-Lithuanian forces had occupied Moscow and other Russian cities, but in the autumn of 1612, Prince Dmitri Pozharsky and Novgorod merchant Kuzma Minin led an uprising in Moscow against the invaders. In 1612, St. Sergei was said to have appeared to Bishop Arseni. St. Sergei, who had died in 1392, told the bishop that the Lady of Kazan would intervene in battle. Hence, the Lady of Kazan icon was brought to lead the Russian troops of Prince Pozharski that were trying to liberate Moscow from Catholic Polish-Lithuanian occupation. On October 22, 1612 Julian (Ramadan 7, 1021 Hijri), the initial success of Russians was achieved when Russian forces succeeded in capturing the Kitai Gorod area of Moscow. However, it was not until November 27, 1612 Julian (Shawwal 13, 1021 Hijri), that the Kremlin and Moscow were completely liberated by withdrawal of the Polish army from Moscow, after 18 months of Polish occupation. Ever since that incident, whenever Russia had to go into battle, the Virgin of Kazan or one of its copies was carried in front of the army. Invocation of the Virgin Mary through the icon is also credited with helping the country to repel the Swedish invasion of 1709 and Napoleon's invasion of 1812. The icon was kept till it was stolen in 1904 in Church of the Elevation of the Holy Cross, a part of Kazan Monastery of the Theotokos in Kazan, the site where the original icon of Our Lady of Kazan was found. On the night of June 29, 1904 (Rabi Thani 15, 1322 Hijri), the icon was stolen from the monastery in Kazan. Several years later, Russian police apprehended the thieves and recovered only the frame of the icon. The thieves originally declared that the icon itself had been cut to pieces and burnt. On October 13, 1917 (Zu Al-Hijja 26, 1335 Hijri) (day of the last apparition of the children in Fatima, Portugal), during the Russian Communist Revolution, the Basilica of Our Lady of Kazan housing the icon was destroyed, apparently to prove that God did not exist. As great sledges and rams of the Communists knocked down the Basilica, loudspeakers blared: “You see, there is no God! We destroy the church of the so-called protectress of Russia, and nothing happens!” After the destruction of the Basilica, the whereabouts of the icons were not known. It might have been stolen. On September 23, 1953 (Muharram 14, 1373 Hijri), Mike Mitchell-Hedges, antique collector, purchased the Lady of Kazan icon in England. In 1964-1965, a special pavilion was erected at World Trade Fair in New York to house Lady of Kazan icon so that people could come to admire it. On October 4, 1965 (Jumada Thania 8, 1385 Hijri), Pope Paul VI, during his one-day visit to the U.S. address the United Nations General Assembly in New York, visited the World Trade Fair to bless the icon. Then, the “Blue Army” entered into the issue of this icon, an American organisation that had embraced the communist strife and the role of Fatima. The icon was the perfect billboard to promote their campaign. The Blue Army had its first “official contact” with the icon on September 13, 1965 (Jumada Ula 17, 1385 Hijri), at the New York World’s Fair. That night, the pavilion was filled with members of the Blue Army, led by the Bishop of Fatima himself. It appears that the entire night was spent in adoration and prayer for the conversion of Russia and world peace. Blue Army groups around the world, in many cities, held similar all night vigils on that same date. The Blue Army learned about the opportunity to purchase the icon from from Anna, Mike Mitchell-Hedges’ daughter, in January 1970. Once the icon was purchased, it was taken to Fatima, Portugal. When Pope John Paul II discovered the icon in 1991, during one of his many visits to Fatima, he realized the icon was most important, politically, but maybe also to his own personal cause. He asked to have it transferred to the Vatican, where it was installed in the papal apartment. In 1993, the Blue Army consented to this transfer. On November 5, 2003 (Ramadan 10, 1424 Hijri), Russian president Vladimir Putin met Pope John Paul II in the Vatican. During the meeting, an icon known as the Virgin of Kazan was brought from the Pope’s private chapel into the Vatican Library, where the meeting was held. Putin watched as the Pope blessed the icon and then the Russian leader himself kissed it. On August 26, 2004 (Rajab 10, 1425 Hijri), the Lady of Kazan went on display on the altar of St. Peter’s Basilica in the Vatican. Two days later, Cardinal Walter Kasper handed the icon back to the Russian Orthodox Church in Moscow in a ceremony at the Kremlin’s Cathedral of the Assumption, as a personal gift from Pope John Paul II. It would be almost one year later, on the next feast day of the holy icon – July 21, 2005 (Jumada Thania 14, 1426 Hijri) – that Patriarch Alexius II and Mintimer Shaymiev, the President of Tatarstan, placed it in the Annunciation Cathedral of the Kazan Kremlin in Kazan, Tatarstan, Russia. Today, the icon is kept in the Church of the Elevation of the Holy Cross, a part of Kazan Monastery of the Theotokos in Kazan.

In July 614 AD, the Persian King Khosrau II conquered Jerusalem, in alliance with the Jews. They massacred the Christians of Jerusalem and burned down their churches. The Jews were interested in the Staff of Aaron, the "Rod of Hefzibah", which they claimed was what the Christians called "the remainder of the Holy Cross." They tortured Christian priests until they finally told the Jews where it was hidden. The Persians took the Holy Cross to Khosrau. Consequently, the Jews attacked Tyre, but failed to enter it. From 614 AD to 2019 (possible Beginning of the End Times), there are 1405 years.

Sura 30 of the Quran which was revealed before the Hijra (Migration) of Prophet Mohammad (p) to Medina, prophesied that the Romans will defeat the Persians, within few years.

Byzantine Emperor Heraclius managed to re-capture Jerusalem around 629 AD. The Byzantines accused the Jews of Jerusalem of having cooperated with the Persian conquerors and massacred them. Heraclius re-captured the Holy Cross from the Persians. During the reign of the Crusaders over Jerusalem, the Holy Cross was housed in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre under the protection of the Latin Patriarch.

Within a period of about 23 years from 614 AD – 637 AD, Jerusalem was conquered by the Persians, then the Romans, then the Muslims.

622 AD is the year of Prophet Mohammad’s (p) migration from Mecca to Madina and the beginning of the Hijri Calendar.

The first day of the Hijri Calendar was Friday, Muharram 1, 1 AD (July 16, 622 AD, based on Julian Calendar). It was the 1948,440th Julian day.
The Hijra (Migration) of Prophet Mohammad (p) from Mecca to Medina started after he learned from the Angel Gabriel, on Thursday, Safar 26, 1 Hijri (September 9, 622 Julian) (September 12, 622 Gregorian) (Elul 28, 4382 Jewish), about a plot to kill him at Dawn on Friday, Safar 27, 1 Hijri. Angel Gabriel told Prophet Mohammad (p) not to sleep in his bed that night and that he should migrate to Medina. The decision to kill him was made in a meeting of his enemies on Safar 26, 1 Hijri. Prophet Mohammad (p) went to Abu Bakr and told him that a permission was given to him (meaning from God) for the Khuruj (Coming out, Exodus, or Departure). Then, he went back to his house and asked his cousin Ali bin Abi Talib to sleep in Prophet Mohammad (p)’s bed that night, after Prophet Mohammad (p) leaves to Medina, so that Prophet Mohammad’s enemies would think that the Prophet was sleeping in his house and asked him to start delivering items that were entrusted to Prophet Mohammad (p) to the individuals entitled to them in the next morning. At night on Thursday, 26th of Safar, 1 Hijri, the enemies of Prophet Mohammad (p) were surrounding his house, but Angel Gabriel came and told Prophet Mohammad (p) to leave his house and pass by the enemies waiting outside his house and God will ensure that they will not be able to see him. Prophet Mohammad (p) left his house as was told by Angel Gabriel while reciting the first verses of Sura 36 till he reached verse 9 of this Sura which can be translated as: “And We have put, in front of them, a barrier and, behind them, a barrier, so We have blocked their vision such that they do not see.” Then, he went to Abu Bakr’s house and stayed there till midnight and left with Abu Bakr from a back exit and started their migration journey. On that night, his cousin Ali bin Abi Talib risked his life and was willing to sacrifice himself by sleeping in Prophet Muhammad's bed, instead of Prophet Muhammad (p) to thwart the assassination plot against Prophet Mohammad (p). That is why it is called Laylat (Night) of Al-Mabeet (the Staying). Prophet Mohammad (p) and Abu Bakr reached a cave in Mount of Thawr where they stayed till Monday, 1st of Rabi' Al-Awwal, 1 Hijri. (September 13, 622 AD Julian). They arrived to Quba, near Medina, on Monday, 8th of Rabi Al-Awwal, 1 Hijri (September 20, 622 AD Julian) where Prophet Mohammad (p) established of Mosque of Quba, the first mosque in Islam. On Friday, 12th of Rabi Al-Awwal, 1 Hijri (September 24, 622 AD Julian), they left Quba, heading to Medina. Around noon time, they passed by the locality of Banu Salim bin Auf in a valley about one kilometer away from Quba, The people of Banu Salim implored: “O Prophet of Allah, you stayed at the homes of our cousins for a number of days, reward us too with something, for they will pride themselves over us till the Day of Judgement that you stayed with them”. So, in that locality, the Prophet (p) led the first Friday Prayer in the history of Islam and delivered the first Friday sermon, in a spot where a mosque was later built. Because of this event, the Mosque is referred to as the Friday Mosque, but it is also known as Mosque of Bani Salim, Mosque of Al-Wadi, Mosque of Ghubaib or Mosque of Aatikah. Approximately 100 Muslims participated in this first Friday Prayer. After the prayer, Prophet Mohammad (p) continued his journey to Medina. When he reached Medina, his camel stopped at a specific location and Prophet Mohammad (p) declared that it is the location where he will establish a mosque, which is known today as the Nabawi Mosque (Mosque of the Prophet) which is about 2.5 km away from the Friday Mosque.

On March 5, 2000 (Zu Al-Qada 28, 1420 Hijri), the Israeli cabinet (headed by Prime Minister, Ehud Barak) voted unanimously to unilaterally withdraw from Lebanon by July 7, 2000. Israel intended to hand over the positions of its army to the South Lebanon Army (which is a Lebanese armed force supported by Israel). On May 21 - 22, 2000, the South Lebanon Army (S.L.A.) started to quickly collapse against the advancing Lebanese resistance forces and civilian demonstrations. Some S.L.A. soldiers surrendered to Lebanese authorities while others took refuge in Israel. May 22, 2000 was Safar 17, 1421 Hijri, 2451,686.5th or 2451,687th Julian Day. The quick collapse of S.L.A. was in contrast with how S.L.A. managed to maintain its control of a significant area of South Lebanon between the Israel’s invasion in 1978 and Israel’s invasion in 1982. This forced Israel in the night of May 23 - 24, 2000, before the dawn of May 24, 2000, to complete full withdrawal of Israeli troops from almost all of the Lebanese territories it had occupied for 18 years since Israel’s invasion of Lebanon that started on June 6, 1982. It is worth noting that May 24 Julian is June 6 Gregorian.

On Friday, May 18, 1291 (Jumada Ula 17, 690 Hijri) (Sivan 18, 5051 Jewish), Mamluk Sultan of Egypt Al-Ashraf Khalil conquered Acre (Akka) the capital of the remainder of the Kingdom of Jerusalem after a siege that started from April 5, 1291. His father, Sultan Qalawun, conquered the Tripoli in 1289, and in 1290 marched on Acre, but he died in November before launching the attack. He was succeeded by his son Al-Ashraf Khalil who decided to continue the attack. Early in the morning of May 18, 1291, the Sultan gave his order to launch an all-out attack on all points. After being in the hands of the Franks of the Third Crusade for the last time since July 11, 1191 Julian (July 18, 1191 Gregorian) (Jumada Thania 16, 587 Hijri) (2156,261.5th Julian Day) after a long siege and confrontation with Salah Eddeen Al-Ayyubi, by sunset on May 18, 1291, Acre, Al-Ashraf Khalil’s army re-captured Acre, with the exception of a fortress that served as headquarters of the Templars which stood on the west side of the city seashore. Under the cover of darkness, Thibaud Gaudin, the new Master of the Temple, left the fortress for Sidon with a few followers and the fortune of the Templars. On May 28, 1291, the Sultan’s forces captured the remaining fortress. With the fall of Acre, the Crusaders lost their last major stronghold of the Crusaders’ Kingdom in the Middle East. The capture of the Acre by the Mamluks marked the end of further crusades to the Levant. The Crusaders’ Kingdom continued to exist, theoretically, on the Island of Cyprus, where the Crusaders schemed and planned to recapture the mainland, but in vain.

On July 1, 1690 Julian (July 11, 1690 Gregorian) (Shawwal 4, 1101 Hijri), Battle of the Boyne happened in Ireland. The armies of Protestant King of Britain & Ireland William III of Orange defeated those of the exiled former Catholic king James II. It was the first proper victory for the League of Augsburg, the first-ever alliance between the Vatican and Protestant countries. In the following year, another important follow-up battle occurred in Ireland, Battle of Aughrim, in which Protestants defeated the Catholics on July 12, 1691 Julian (July 22, 1691 Gregorian) (Shawwal 25, 1102 Hijri). It is known as “Aughrim of the Slaughter”. These two battles are celebrated by Protestants annually on July 12 as part of a celebration called the Twelfth or Orangemen’s Day.

On July 22, 1706, the details of the Treaty of Union were agreed upon, and separate Acts of Union were later passed by the parliaments of England and Scotland to ratify the Treaty. This treaty was for the union of Kingdom of England and Kingdom of Scotland and it led to the creation of the Kingdom of Great Britain, which took effect on May 1, 1707. They had been in informal union under the House of Stuart since the death of Queen Elizabeth I on March 14, 1603 when James of Scotland became King of England and Scotland. He also held the title of King of France, as had all his predecessors in the English throne since October 21, 1422. James became King of Scotland on July 24, 1567, at the age of 13 months, and was formally crowned on July 29, 1567. On January 1, 1801 (Shaban 15, 1215 Hijri), Great Britain merged with the Kingdom of Ireland to form the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. After most of Ireland left the union on December 6, 1922 (Rabi Thani 16, 1341 Hijri), its name was amended on April 12, 1927 (Shawwal 10, 1345 Hijri) to the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

On April 30, 711 AD (May 4, 711 AD Gregorian) (Rajab 7, 92 Hijri) (Iyar 8, 4471 Jewish) , Muslims under the leadership of Tariq Bin Ziyad, at the time of Umayya Caliph, Al-Walid, landed in Gibraltar, beginning the Muslims’ rule over the Andalus (southern Spain & Portugal) which lasted till the surrender of Granada, the last city ruled by Muslims, on January 2, 1492.

Battle of Guadalete between the Christian Visi Goths of Hispania led by their king, Roderic, and an invading force of Muslims led by Tariq bin Ziyad took place near Medina Sidonia (city founded by the Phoenicians in today’s Cadiz province, in Southern Spain), around July 19 – 25, 711 AD (July 19 was Ramadan 27, 92 Hijri). The Muslims defeated the army of the Visigoths.
King Roderic died in the Battle. It was the beginning of Muslims’ rule of Hispania. A Christian Visigothic nobleman named Julian helped the Muslims. It is said that Julian wished the fall of the Visigothic kingdom because his daughter had been raped by Roderic. According to legends surrounding the battle, Roderic arrived to the field in a chariot drawn by eight white mules. Abd Al-Hakam, a Muslim historian, mentioned that the Carpet of Solomon and a gold table covered with gems and other precious stones that once also belonged to Solomon were discovered in Toledo after it was conquered.

On the night of Ramadan 24 - 25, 129 Hijri (June 8 - 9, 747 AD Julian), (on the night of Thursday, 5 days left of Ramadan, according to Ibn Katheer’s book ‘The Bidaya (Beginning) and the Nihaya (End)'), Abu Muslim Al-Khurasani officially started an uprising in Khurasan (Khurasan or Khorasan comprises some parts of Iran, Afghanistan, Turkmenistan, Tajikstan, Kyrgyzstan, and Uzbekistan) against the Umawiyeen (Umayyads), calling for the Caliphate to be transferred to Abbasiyeen (Abbasids) and soon spread into other regions. This uprising eventually led to the end of the rule of the Ummawiyyeen (Umayyads) in 750 AD. Mohammad ibn Ali Abbasi (Muhammad ibn Ali ibn Abdullah ibn Al - Abbas, one of Prophet Mohammad’s uncles) began to campaign for the return of power to the Hashimites (family of Muhammad) during the reign of Umayyad Caliph Umar II.

Mohammad ibn Ali Abbasi (son of Ali ibn Abdullah ibn Abbas, the uncle of Prophet Muhammad), was the Imam of one of the branches of the Shia, known as Kaysani Shia. Mohammad ibn Ali Abbasi, in turn, designated his own son, Ibrahim, as his successor Imam. Ibrahim led the rebellion against the last Umayyad Caliph Marwan II. Ibrahim was captured by the Umayyads in the year 747 AD and died in prison. He was succeeded by his brother Abdallah who ultimately became the first Abbasid Caliph. Abdallah (born in 721 or 722 AD) is known as Abu Al-Abbas Al-Saffah.

On Friday, October 31, 749 (Rabi Awwal 14 (or 13), 132 Hijri), Abu Al-Abbas Al-Saffah’s army entered the city of Kufa, in Southern Iraq, where As-Saffah was declared Caliph. He chose Kufa as the capital of his Caliphate. Kufa served as capital till his successor, Al-Mansur, established a new capital and called it Baghdad in 762 AD. The last Umayyad Caliph Marwan II was decisively defeated in February 750 AD at a battle on the Zab River, north of Baghdad, effectively ending the Umayyad caliphate, which had ruled since 661 AD. Marwan II fled back to Damascus, which didn't welcome him, and was ultimately killed on the run in Egypt in August 750 AD. After the triumph of the Abbasids, they disavowed their former Kaysani beliefs and they established their legitimacy based on the alleged right of succession from the Prophet Mohammad (p) through their forefather, Al-Abbas (Prophet Mohammad’s uncle). Due to this, most Kaysani Shia responded by abandoning Kaysani Shiism and following other Shi'i sects, leading to the eventual extinction of Kaysani Shiism. Twelver Shia’s Imam Jafar ibin Mohammad, known as Abu Abdallah and as Al-Sadiq, was approached to support the rebellion and even be offered the Caliphate, but he declined. After Abu Al-Abbas Al-Saffah became the caliph in 749 AD, he rewarded Abu Muslim Al-Khurasani by appointing him as the governor of Khurasan. However, Al-Saffah’s successor Caliph Al-Mansur, founder of Baghdad, fearing the rise in power of Abu Muslim Al-Khurasani, he arranged his murder. The avenged and cowardly murder of Abu Muslim inspired many later uprisings against Abbasids. In addition to Abbasid’s rebellion, Al-Harith ibn Suraj led a rebellion against the Umayyads in Khurasan and Transoxiana starting from 734 AD till his death in 746 AD.

Romulus Augustulus, the final emperor of the Roman Empire in the West, was deposed by the Germanic king Odoacer on September 4, 476 AD (Elul 28, 4236 Jewish). More than 300 years later, Charlemagne was crowned by Pope Leo III at the Old St. Peter’s Basilica in the Vatican, as the first Emperor of the revived Holy Roman Empire on Christmas Day, December 25, 800 AD (Zu Al-Hijja 4, 184 Hijri). Pope Leo III was supposed to anoint Charlemagne's son as Charlemagne's heir, as King of the Franks. But unexpectedly, as Charlemagne was rising from prayer, the pope placed a crown on Charlemagne head and acclaimed him emperor. Initially Charlemagne expressed some displeasure, but accepted the honour. The displeasure was probably diplomatic, for the legal emperor was the one in Constantinople. Otto I reached Rome with his army on January 31, 962 and was crowned by Pope John XII on February 2, 962 AD (Zu Al-Hijja 24, 350 Hijri). This marked a revival of the concept of a Christian emperor in the West. It was also the beginning of an unbroken line of Holy Roman emperors lasting for more than eight centuries. Otto I did not call himself Roman emperor, but his son Otto II uses the title - as a clear statement of western and papal independence from the other Roman / Byzantine emperor in Constantinople.

Pope Pius VII left Rome to Genoa seeking refuge from Napoleon on March 22, 1815, during the “100 Days” after Napoleon escaped from Elba. After the temporal power of the Pope was restored, Pope Pius VII returned finally to Rome on June 7, 1815 (Jumada Thania 28, 1230 Hijri) (Iyar 28, 5575 Jewish). Napoleon was defeated in the Battle of Waterloo on June 18, 1815 (Rajab 10, 1230 Hijri) (Sivan 10, 5575 Jewish). Napoleon abdicated, in favor of his son Napoleon II, 4 days later on June 22, 1815 (Rajab 14, 1230 Hijri) (Sivan 14, 5575 Jewish). In the meantime, the Provisional Government deposed his son and tried to negotiate a conditional surrender with the Coalition powers. They failed to obtain any significant concessions from the Coalition who insisted on a military surrender. On the July 7, 1815 (Rajab 29, 1230 Hijri) (Sivan 29, 5575 Jewish), coalition forces entered Paris.

Following Treaty of Chaumont in 1814 and the Treaty of Paris (signed on May 30, 1814), the Congress of Vienna, a conference of representatives of European states, including Russia, was held in Vienna from September 1814 to June 1815 to re-organize Europe after the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars. The immediate background was Napoleon France's defeat and surrender in May 1814, followed by Napoleon's dramatic return from exile and resumption of power in France during the Hundred Days of March–July 1815. The Congress of Vienna ended on June 8, 1815. The General Treaty of the Final Act of the Congress of Vienna embodying all the separate treaties, was signed on June 9, 1815 (Rajab 1, 1230 Hijri) (Sivan 1, 5575 Jewish), just 9 days before Napoleon's final defeat at the Battle of Waterloo on June 18, 1815. The objective of the Congress was to provide a long-term peace plan for Europe by settling critical issues arising from the French Revolutionary Wars and the Napoleonic Wars. The goal was not simply to restore old boundaries between European countries to pre-Napoleonic wars, but also to resize the main powers so they could balance each other off and remain at peace. The Congress of Vienna was the first of a series of international meetings which attempted to forge a peaceful balance of power in Europe. The Congress of Vienna was the first occasion in history where, on a continental scale, national representatives came together to formulate treaties, instead of relying mostly on messages between the several capitals. Congress of Vienna was the first genuine attempt to create an international order based upon consensus rather than conflict. It served as a model for later organizations such as the League of Nations in 1919 and the United Nations in 1945. Congress of Vienna prevented another widespread European war for nearly a hundred years from 1815 till the outbreak of World War I in 1914. The treaty that resulted from Congress of Vienna was the most-comprehensive treaty Europe had ever seen. The Congress of Vienna resulted in the consolidation of Germany from the nearly 300 states of the Holy Roman Empire (dissolved in 1806) into a much less complex system of 39 states (4 of which were free cities). These states formed a loose German Confederation under the leadership of Prussia and Austria. The Papal States were restored to the Pope.
On August 8, 1815 (Ramadan 1 (or 2), 1230 Hijri) (Av 2, 5575 Jewish), early in the morning, a British ship called “The Northumberland”, carrying Napoleon Bonaparte, set sail to Island of Saint Helena for his last exile. He reached Saint Helena on October 15, 1815 (Zu Al-Qada 11, 1230 Hijri) (Tishri 11, 5576 Jewish).

The 7-day dedication (or consecration) festival of Solomon’s Temple in Jerusalem, which remained unused for 11 months after the completion of its construction till its dedication, started on Tishri 8, 2935 Jewish (826 B.C.). This festival was followed by the 7-day Feast of Tabernacles (Tents) that starts on Tishri 15. In verses 1 - 12 of Kings 8 Chapter of the Old Testament, there is a description of what happened. On the 8th day of Tishri, the ceremonies began with a procession that brought the Ark of the Covenant (which contains the stone tablets of Moses) from its special tent in the City of David up to the Temple Mount. During the 8th and the 9th days of Tishri, the Ark was in the courtyard of the Temple and a huge amount of sacrifices were made in front of it. The Ark remained covered so that it could not be seen by the people. On the 10th day of Tishri (Yom Kippur), the Ark was moved a few feet and placed inside the front room of the Temple, and then it was carried further inside the Temple into the Holy of Holies room. According to the Old Testament, Solomon declared that the promise made to David by God had now been fulfilled by the dedication of the Temple and Solomon said that the Temple was God’s dwelling place on Earth forever.

The first of Our Lady of Lourdes, France apparitions of Virgin Mary happened February 11, 1858 (Jumada Thania 26, 1274 Hijri), when Bernadette Soubirous, a 14-year-old Catholic French peasant girl, admitted to her mother that a "lady" spoke to her in the cave of Massabielle (a mile from the town) while she was gathering firewood with her sister and a friend. She claimed that a beautiful woman appeared to her and said, "I am the Immaculate Conception". Similar apparitions of the alleged "Lady" were reported on 17 occasions that year, until the climax revelation of Our Lady of the Immaculate Conception took place. On February 25, 1858 (Rajab 10, 1274 Hijri) (2399,735.5th Julian Day), the Lady asked Bernadette to dig in the ground and drink water from the spring that resulted from her digging. As word spread, this water was given to medical patients of all kinds, and many reports of miraculous cures followed. Bernadette Soubirous was later canonized as a Saint. Roman Catholics and some Protestants believe her apparitions have been validated by the overwhelming popularity and testament of healings claimed to have taken place at the Lourdes water spring. Because of these apparitions, Lourdes is now a major pilgrimage site in France, only Paris has more hotels than Lourdes. Around 4 - 6 million pilgrims travel annually to Lourdes.

On Tuesday, May 31, 1859 (Shawwal 27, 1275 Hijri) (Iyar 27, 5619 Jewish) (240,0195.5th Julian Day), Big Ben Clock, in London, England, started operating and keeping time. The clock is perched on a 96-meter (315-foot) elegant tower called the Clock Tower, overlooking River Thames, adjacent to Westminster Bridge, at the northern end of the Palace of Westminster (the meeting place of the House of Commons and the House of Lords, the two houses of the Parliament of the U.K.) in Westminster, in central London. The Clock Tower also houses Big Ben Bell (also called the Great Bell) that rings every hour on the hour (that is why it is called “The Hour Bell”), and 4 smaller Quarter bells which chime every quarter of an hour (meaning 15 minutes). Big Ben Bell was initially hung in New Palace Yard for testing. It was tested each day until October 17, 1857 (Safar 27 (or 28), 1274 Hijri) when a 1.2m crack appeared. A new replacement bell was cast on April 10, 1858 (Shaban 26, 1274 Hijri). The Big Ben Bell rang for the first time on July 11, 1859 (Zu Al-Hijja 9 (or 10), 1275 Hijri) (Tammuz 9, 5619 Jewish), but its success was short-lived. In September 1859, the new bell cracked again and Big Ben remained silent for four years. During this 4-year period, the hour was struck on the fourth Quarter bell. In 1863, a solution for Big Ben's was found: (a) Big Ben was turned by a quarter turn so the hammer struck a different spot, (b) the hammer was replaced by a lighter version, (c) a small square was cut into the bell to prevent the crack from spreading. The Quarter bells first chimed on September 7, 1859 (Safar 8 (or 9), 1276 Hijri) (Elul 8, 5619 Jewish). The Clock Tower is one of the most distinctive architectural symbols of London.

The Twelver Shia believe that their Imam Mahdi is Mohammad son of Al-Hasan Al-Askari, the 12th Imam. According to them, he was born on July 29, 869 AD (Shaban 15, 255 Hijri). His father died on January 1, 874 AD (Rabi Awwal 8, 260 Hijri) and since that day, his son Mohammad, who was only 5 years old, became their 12th Imam. After the funeral of his father, he went into the Ghayba Sughra (Minor Occultation), in which he used to communicate with his followers through deputies. The 4th deputy announced that he received a communication from the Mahdi that he (the 4th deputy) would soon die and the deputyship would end and that starting from the day of the 4th deputy’s death, the period of the Mahdi’s Ghayba Kubra (Major Occultation) will begin. This last deputy died six days later, on July 8, 941 AD (Shawwal 10, 329 Hijri). This means, according to the Shia, the Mahdi’s Ghayba Kubra (Major Occultation) started on July 8, 941 AD.

During the Second Italian War of Independence, much of the Papal States had been conquered by the Piedmontese Army. The Italian Parliament declared the creation of the Kingdom of Italy on February 18, 1861 (Shaban 7 (or 8), 1277 Hijri) (officially proclaiming it on March 17, 1861 (Ramadan 5 (or 6) 1277 Hijri)]. On March 27, 1861 (Ramadan 15 (or 16), 1277 Hijri), the Parliament declared Rome the Capital of the Kingdom of Italy. However, the Italian government could not take its seat in Rome because it did not control the territory. In addition, a French garrison was maintained in the city by Napoleon III of France in support of Pope Pius IX. The Franco-Prussian War started on July 19, 1870. After the Battle of Sedan fought between France and Prussia on September 1, 1870, the situation changed radically. It resulted in the surrender and capture of Emperor Napoleon III and large numbers of his troops on September 2, 1870. The French lost over 17,000 men killed and wounded with 21,000 captured. On September 4, 1870, with disgraced emperor in captivity, the French Emperor was deposed. The French proclaimed end of Monarch and establishment of a Republic. The new French government was clearly in no position to retaliate against Italy, nor did it possess the political will to protect the Pope's position. King of Italy, Victor Emmanuel II sent Conte Gustavo Ponza di San Martino as a delegate to Pope Pius IX with a personal letter, offering a face-saving proposal that would have allowed the peaceful entry of the Italian Army into Rome. The Pope would retain the inviolability and prerogatives attaching to him as a sovereign. The Leonine city would remain under the full jurisdiction and sovereignty of the Pope. The envoy of King Victor Emmanuel II headed to Rome on September 9, 1870 and met with Cardinal Antonelli (Secretary of State) that same evening. The negotiations lasted till September 10, 1870. The Pope's reception of the envoy of King Victor Emmanuel II on September 10, 1870 was unfriendly. The Pope said: “you will never enter Rome”. The Italian army of 60,000 soldiers, commanded by General Raffaele Cadorna, crossed the papal frontier on September 11 and advanced toward Rome. By September 19, 1870 (Elul 23, 5630 Jewish), Italian army was just outside Rome ready for entry. On September 20, 1870 (Jumada Thania 23, 1287 Hijri) (Elul 24, 5630 Jewish), after a limited battle, the Italian army of the Kingdom of Italy entered Rome. The next day, on September 21, 1870 (Jumada Thania 24, 1287 Hijri) (Elul 25, 5630 Jewish) (2404.326.5th Julian Day), the Italian army entered Leonine City, including the Vatican, seat of the Pope. Leonine City is the part of the city of Rome surrounded by the Leonine Wall from 3 sides and by the Tiber River on the 4th side. The Vatican is within the enclosed area. This is the end of the Papal State which was later revived on June 7, 1929 when the City of the Vatican became an independent state.

- Mustafa Kemal Atatürk was the first President of Turkey and was behind the end of the Ottoman Sultanate in 1922 and abolition of the Islamic Caliphate in 1924. His father’s name is Ali Riza. At birth, he was identified as Mustafa son of Ali Riza. He was an army officer. During a battle in Derna, Libya on January 16–17, 1912 (Muharram 26 - 27, 1330 Hijri) (Teveth 26 - 27, 5672 Jewish), while the Ottoman forces were attacking the Italian-controlled fortress of Kasr-i Harun, two Italian planes dropped bombs on the Ottoman forces and a piece of limestone shrapnel from a damaged building's rubble entered Mustafa Kemal's left eye which caused a permanent damage on his left eye's tissue, but not total loss of sight. So, Mustafa Kemal became an Awar (person with a defective eye). Prophet Mohammad (p) described the Dajjal as an Awar. Some researchers believe that Mustafa Kemal Atatürk’s ancestors were Crypto Jews, possibly Dönmeh (descendants of followers of Sabbatai Zevi who claimed to be the awaited Jewish Messiah, but after being imprisoned by the Ottomans, he was freed after pretending to convert to Islam). Crypto Jews pretend in public to be Muslims, but remain Jews in private. Salónica (the city where Mustafa Kemal was born) served as an important center for such Crypto Jews and the base of the Young Turks movement which led a rebellion to turn the Ottoman Sultanate into constitutional monarchy, governed according to a constitution, thus limiting the power of the Sultan. Today, Salónica is called Thessaloniki and it is the capital Macedonia region of Greece and the second largest city in Greece. Mustafa Kemal Atatürk made a name for himself as the Commander of the 19th Division of the Ottoman army, where his bravery and strategic prowess helped thwart the Allied invasion of the Dardanelles in 1915. The real date of birth of Mustafa Kemal Atatürk is unconfirmed. In a speech he delivered in 1927, Mustafa Kemal Atatürk claimed to have been born on the same day as day of his landing in Samsun, meaning May 19. Atatürk landed in Samsun on May 19, 1919 (May 6, 1919 Julian) (Shaban 19, 1337 Hijri) (Iyar 19, 5679 Jewish) (242,2097.5th or 242,2098th Julian Day). Atatürk’s landing in Samsun is considered the beginning Turkey’s War of Independence, the Turkish uprising against the decision of the Allies after World War I to divide among themselves many territories of the defeated Ottoman Empire. Turkey designates Atatürk’s date of birth as May 19, 1881 Gregorian (Junuma Thania, 1298 Hijri) (Iyar 20, 5641 Jewish) (2408,219.5th Julian Day). Today, May 19 is an annual national holiday in Turkey, called “Commemoration of Atatürk, Youth and Sports Day”. Greece claims that starting from May 19, 1919, Mustafa Kemal Atatürk began a genocide or ethnic cleansing against the Greeks, known as Pontos, who had been living in the region for thousands of years. That is why today, in Greece, May 19 is an annual holiday to commemorate what Greece claims to be a genocide against of Pontic Greeks in which 353,000 Pontic Greeks died. Mustafa Kemal Atatürk died in Istanbul (Constantinople) on November 10, 1938. At 8:10 a.m. on November 19, 1938 (Ramadan 26 (or 25), 1357 Hijri) (Heshvan 25, 5699 Jewish) (2429,221.5th or 2429,222nd Julian Day), a religious funeral prayer was conducted by the Director of the Institute for Islamic Studies, in Turkish, not in traditional Arabic, and was attended by people who were close to him. His state funeral was held in Ankara on November 21, 1938, and was attended by dignitaries from 17 countries. Atatürk’s coffin was placed inside a white marble sarcophagus at the Ethnography Museum of Ankara and remained there until November 10, 1953 (Rabi Awwal 3, 1373 Hijri), the 15th anniversary of his death, when his coffin was buried in his final resting place at Anıtkabir (Masuleum or Memorial Tomb) in Ankara.

Mustafa Kemal Atatürk was closely connected to Number 19 in several ways:

(a) He was born on May 19, 1881 Gregorian (Jumada Thania 19, 1298 Hijri) (Iyar 20, 5641 Jewish).

(b) He landed in Samsun on May 19, 1919 (May 6, 1919 Julian) (Shaban 19, 1337 Hijri) (Iyar 19, 5679 Jewish).

(c) His funeral was held on November 19, 1938.

(d) From 1881 (year of his birth) till 1919 (year of his landing in Samsun), there are 38 years (= 19 x 2).

(e) From 1919 (year of his landing in Samsun) till 1938 (year of his death), there are 19 years.

(f) From 1881 (year of his birth) till 1938 (year of his death), there are 57 years (= 19 x 3).

(g) He made a name for himself as the Commander of the 19th Division of the Ottoman army.

In the 1870s, while Sudan was part of Egypt which was ruled by the Albanian dynasty of Muhammad Ali Pasha as an autonomous province of the Ottoman Empire, a Muslim scholar in Sudan named Muhammad Ahmad bin AbdAllah preached renewal of the faith and liberation of the land, and began attracting followers. On June 29, 1881 (Shaban 1, 1298 Hijri) (Tammuz 2, 5641 Jewish), he proclaimed himself the Mahdi, the promised redeemer of the Islamic world. He changed the Shahada, or profession of faith, to include the phrase, "Muhammad Al-Mahdi is the Khalifa of the Prophet of God," and revised the five pillars of Islam by replacing the Hajj or pilgrimage to Mecca with the obligation to undertake jihad, and adding a sixth pillar, which was belief in the Mahdiyya. An Egyptian expedition, dispatched to attack the Mahdi, was ambushed and slaughtered the Mahdi’s men on the night of December 9, 1881 (Muharram 17, 1299 Hijri) (Kislev 17, 5642 Jewish). Egypt sent a larger expedition to attack Mahdi’s men who were poorly clothed, half starving, and armed only with sticks and stones, so the Mahdi led a successful assault against the Egyptian forces, defeating decisively at dawn, on June 7, 1882 (Rajab 20, 1299 Hijri) (Sivan 20, 5642 Jewish). By the end of 1882, the Mahdi controlled most of Sudan. In 1882, Egypt (including Sudan), while remaining as an autonomous province of the Ottoman Empire, became an official protectorate of Britain. On January 26, 1885 (Rabi Thani 9, 1302 Hijri) (Shevat 10, 5645 Jewish), after a ten-month siege that started on March 13, 1884, the Mahdi’s fighters captured Khartoum (the capital of Sudan) and killed Charles Gordon, the British Governor. The British public reacted to his death by acclaiming
'Gordon of Khartoum', who had had a strong Christian faith, a martyred warrior-saint. Muhammad Ahmad bin AbdAllah was born on August 12, 1844 (Rajab 27, 1260 Hijri) and died due to typhus on June 22, 1885 (Ramadan 9, 1302 Hijri). His great-grandson, Al-Sadiq Al-Mahdi became Prime Minister of Sudan starting from 1966.

In 1878, an Egyptian army officer, Ahmad Urabi Al-Husseini [a descendant of Al-Hussein, grandson of Prophet Mohammad (p)] started a rebellion against Tewfik Pasha, the Khedive of Egypt and Sudan, against the corrupted government of Egypt. On May 20, 1882, a combined Anglo-French fleet arrived at Alexandria to support Tewfik Pasha. On June 13, 1882, Khedive Tewfik fled from Cairo to Alexandria which was protected by the British fleet. On July 11, 1882 (Shaban 24 (or 23), 1299 Hijri) (Tammuz 24, 5642 Jewish), the British fleet started bombarding Alexandria. A large British naval force finally managed to land in Alexandria by July 13, 1882. On September 13, 1882 (Shawwal 29, 1299 Hijri) (Tishri 1, 5642 Jewish), Britain’s decisively defeated the Egyptian forces loyal to Ahmad Urabi in the Battle of Tal El-Kabir, near Cairo. In the evening of September 14, 1882 (Zu Al-Qada 1, 1299 Hijri) (Elul 1, 5642 Jewish), the British advancing forces reached Cairo and Ahmad Urabi surrendered to the British forces. On September 24, 1882, Khedive Tewfik and his “ministers” returned to Cairo. Ahmad Urabi was sentenced to death in December 1882, but was later exiled to the British colony of Ceylon (Sri Lanka).

In the morning of October 13, 1884 (Zu Al-Hijja 23, 1301 Hijri) (Tishri 24, 5645 Jewish) (2409,462.5th Julian Day), Pope Leo XIII had an interesting vision. After a Mass, as he was leaving the Altar, the 74 year old and frail Pope Leo XIII fell to the ground as if dead. One version of this incident has it that those around him thought for a few moments that he may have passed away, but a few minutes later, his breathing returned to normal and he revived. Another version has it that as he was leaving the altar after a weekday low Mass, he paused as if in a trance for about 10 minutes, turning ashen white. And yet another version states that Pope Leo went into this trance while kneeling in attendance of a mass of thanksgiving after his own Mass that morning.

When asked what had happened, he explained that, as he was about to leave the foot of the altar, he suddenly heard voices – two voices, one kind and gentle, the other guttural and harsh. They seemed to come from near the tabernacle. As he listened, he heard the following conversation:

The guttural voice (the voice of Satan in his pride, boasted to God): “I can destroy your Church.”
The gentle voice of God said: “You can? Then, go ahead and do so.”

Satan said: “To do so, I need more time and more power.”

God said: “How much time? How much power?”

Satan said: “75 to 100 years, and a greater power over those who will give themselves over to my service.”

God said: “You have the time, you will have the power. Do with them what you will.”

Then, Pope Leo XIII went immediately from the Chapel to his office where he composed the prayer to St. Michael, with instructions it be said after all Low Masses everywhere. In his vision, he saw what was going to happen in the future, the misleading powers and the ravings of the devils against the Church. But Arch-Angel Michael had appeared in the nick of time and cast Satan into the abyss of Hell. Such was the occasion that caused Pope Leo XIII to have this prayer recited over the entire world at the end of the Mass.

The Dreyfus Affair began in November 1894 with the conviction for treason of Captain Alfred Dreyfus, a Jewish French artillery officer. He was sentenced to life imprisonment for allegedly having communicated French military secrets to the German Embassy in Paris and he was sent to the penal colony at Devil's Island in French Guiana, where he spent almost five years. In 1896, an evidence came to light identifying a French Army major named Ferdinand Esterhazy as the real culprit. However, as a result of high-ranking military officials suppression of the new evidence, a military court unanimously acquitted Esterhazy. The Jews felt it was unfair and this affair led Theodor Herzl (Father of Zionism) to conclude that the Jews must have their own state to avoid the anti-Jewish sentiments.

Father of Zionism, Jewish journalist Theodor Herzl's famous booklet titled Der Judenstaat (The Jewish State), advocating the creation of a Jewish state, was published in Vienna, Austria, on February 14, 1896 (Shaban 29, 1313 Hijri) (Shevat 30, 5656 Jewish). From 1896 to 1946 (Birth of Donald Trump), there are 50 years.

Following the assassination of Arch-Duke Franz Ferdinand of Austria, heir presumptive to the Austro-Hungarian throne, and his wife, in Sarajevo by a Bosnian Serb on June 28, 1914 (Shaban 4, 1332 Hijri), an ultimatum was sent by the Austro-Hungarian Empire and delivered to the Serbian foreign ministry by the ambassador of the Austro-Hungarian Empire to Serbia at 6:00 pm on July 23, 1914 (Shaban 29, 1332 Hijri). On July 25, 1914 (Ramadan 1, 1332 Hijri), just before the 6 p.m. deadline, Serbian Prime Minister Nicola Pasic delivered the Serbian answer to the ultimatum to the Austrian embassy. Serbia's response effectively accepted all terms of the ultimatum except one: Serbia would not accept the Austro-Hungarian Empire's participation in any internal inquiry. The Austro-Hungarian Empire considered that Serbia did not accept all the conditions of the ultimatum, so it declared war against Serbia and attempted to invade Serbia on July 28, 1914 (Ramadan 5, 1332 Hijri). This is the official beginning of World War I. Germany invaded Luxembourg on August 2, 1914 (Ramadan 11, 1332 Hijri) and invaded Belgium at dawn, on August 4, 1914 (Ramadan 13, 1332 Hijri).

The Ottoman Empire joined the Central Powers, by signing a secret alliance agreement with Germany on August 2, 1914 (Ramadan 10, 1332 Hijri), one day after the German Empire declared war on Russia. The Ottoman Empire effectively entered World War I on October 29, 1914 (Zu Al-Hijja 9, 1332 Hijri), when it allowed German warships to shell Russian Black Sea ports to destroy the Russian Black Sea Fleet. In the meantime, Austria started its invasion of Serbia on November 1, 1914. Russia declared war on the Ottoman Empire on November 2, 1914 (Zu Al-Hijja 13, 1332 Hijri). The British Navy attacked Turkish seaports on the Dardanelles (a narrow strait in northwestern Turkey connecting the Aegean Sea to the Sea of Marmara), on November 3, 1914. The rest of the Allies declared war on the Ottoman Empire on November 5, 1914 (Zu Hijja 15, Sykes–Picot Agreement is a secret agreement, between Britain and France, with the assent of Tsarist Russia, to divide the Middle East, among themselves. The first round of discussions took place in London on November 23, 1915 (Muharram 16, 1334 Hijri) with the French government represented by François-Georges Picot, a diplomat with extensive experience in the Middle East, and the British government represented by Arthur Nicolson. The second round of discussions took place on December 21, 1915 (Safar 13 (or 14), 1334 Hijri) with the British now represented by Mark Sykes (British Conservative MP, and assistant to the secretary of state for war, Lord Kitchener), a leading expert on the Middle East. Sykes–Picot Agreement is named after its final negotiators, Mark Sykes and François-Georges Picot. The terms of the agreement were specified in a letter, dated May 9, 1916 (Rajab 6, 1334 Hijri) (Iyar 6, 5676 Jewish), from Paul Cambon, ambassador of France in London, addressed to Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary of Britain. These terms of the agreement were ratified in a return letter from Edward Grey to Paul Cambon on May 16, 1916 (Rajab 13, 1334 Hijri) (Iyar 13, 5676 Jewish) (242,0999.5 or 242,1000th Julian day). Sykes–Picot Agreement was revealed to the public for the first time in Izvestia and Pravda newspapers in Russia on November 23, 1917 (Safar 8, 1336 Hijri), after the Communists came to power in Russia. On November 26, 1917 (Safar 11, 1336 Hijri), in Britain, the Manchester Guardian newspaper (which in 1959, became known as “The Guardian”) printed the text of the Sykes-Picot Agreement.

The revolution became formal on June 10, 1916 when he also declared the establishment of an independent Kingdom of Hijaz with himself as its king. And we brought Moses the Book and we made it/him a guidance (or guide) to Bani (Children) of Israel that you do not take besides me (verse 2 of Sura 17): \[3917 \text{ (3917 is the } 542^{\text{nd}} \text{ Prime Number)}\]

Those from People of the Book and Polytheists have become separated (or dis-engaged) till the Bayina (Evidence) came to them, a Messenger from Allah, reciting purified scriptures, in which there are valuable books and have not (verse 1 – 4 of Sura 98): 90 + 36 + 454 + 6 + 651 + 250 + 418 + 856 + 98 + 296 + 90 + 67 (or 66) + 447 + 179 + 259 + 96 + 422 + 155 + 6 + 41 = 4917 (or 4916)

Some Bible scholars believe that Prophet Abraham may have received covenant from God in 1917 BC. Some Bible scholars believe that Ur, where Prophet Abraham used to live, was destroyed in 1917 BC.

After a 7-week siege that started on April 6, 1453 (Rabi Awwal 26, 857 Hijri), an Ottoman army, under the command of the 21-year-old Sultan Mehmed II (whose is also called “Al-Fatih”, meaning “the Conqueror”) conquered Constantinople (capital of the Eastern Roman Empire), on Tuesday, May 29, 1453 Julian (June 7, 1453 Gregorian) (Jumada Al-Ula 20, 857 Hijri) (Sivan 21, 5213 Jewish) (2251,914.5th Julian Day). Later, Sultan Mehmed II entered the Hagia Sophia and ordered an Imam to claim it for Islam. Mehmet II attended the first Friday prayer in the mosque on June 1, 1453 (Jumada Al-Ula 23, 857 Hijri) (Sivan 24, 5213 Jewish) (2251,917.5th or 2251,918th Julian Day). Sultan Mehmet II handed over, to the Greek Orthodox patriarch, the city's second most important church, Church of the Holy Apostles.

On Monday, June 5, 1967 (Safar 26, 1387 Hijri) (Iyar 26, 5727 Jewish) (2439,646.5\textsuperscript{th} or 2439,647\textsuperscript{th} Julian Day), at 7:45 a.m., Israel launched its 6-day war against the Arabs, starting with air raids on nine Egyptian air bases. In less than 2 hours, Israel destroyed about 300 warplanes, of Egypt’s 420 warplanes, while they were still parked in the air bases. Israel captured Gaza on June 6, 1967. Then, Israel captured East Jerusalem including the Old City of Jerusalem and the Aqsa Mosque and therefore, all of Jerusalem became under its control on Wednesday, June 7, 1967 (Safar 28, 1387 Hijri) (Iyar 28, 5727 Jewish) (2439,648.5\textsuperscript{th} or 2439,649\textsuperscript{th} Julian Day) (491,209\textsuperscript{th} Hijri Day). Iyar 28 is celebrated annually in Israel as Jerusalem Day. The leader of the brigade, Lt. General Mordechai (Motta) Gur [who was born on May 6, 1930 (Zu Hijja 7, 1348 Hijri) (Iyar 8, 5690 Jewish) and died by committing suicide on July 16, 1995 (Safar 18, 1416 Hijri) (Tammuz 18, 5755 Jewish)] communicated the unfolding events to his company commanders by radio: “Shortly we’re going to go in to the Old City of Jerusalem, that all generations have dreamed about. We will be the first to enter the Old City.” Then, after an intense battle, he uttered his now-famous words: “The Temple Mount is in our hands!” Then, the Chief Rabbi of Israel’s army, Shlomo Goren (who was born on February 3, 1917 (Rabi Thani 10, 1335 Hijri) (Shevat 11, 5677 Jewish) and died on October 29, 1994 (Jumada Ula 24, 1415 Hijri), while dressed in military uniform and carrying a Torah scroll, blew a Trumpet (ram’s horn) at the Western Wall to announce the re-unification of East Jerusalem (which was ruled by Jordan) with West Jerusalem (which was ruled by Israel), and held the first Jewish prayer session at the Western Wall since 1948. Until then, during the Ottoman and the British occupation of Jerusalem, Jews were not allowed to sound the Trumpet at the Western Wall. Israeli soldiers were singing a popular Israeli song titled “Jerusalem of Gold” written by Israeli poetess and song-writer, Naomi Shemer. This event was broadcast live on Voice of Israel radio station. This war resulted in Israel capturing East Jerusalem, Gaza, and Golan Heights from the Arabs.

- During World War I, on May 5, 1917 (Rajab 13, 1335 Hijri) (Iyar 13, 5677 Jewish) (472, 915\textsuperscript{th} Hijri Day), Pope Benedict XV issued a pastoral letter to the Catholics around the World, inviting them to perform a nine-day Novena of prayer to petition the Virgin Mary for her intercession to bring an end to the World War I.

A Novena, derived from the Latin word “novem” which means "nine", is an ancient tradition of devotional praying in Christianity, consisting of private or public prayers repeated for nine consecutive days or weeks. During a Novena, the devotees make petitions, implore favors from God with possible intercession from Mary or other saints.

Pope Benedict XV was born on November 21, 1854 (Safar 29, 1271 Hijri) (Heshvan 30, 5615 Jewish) and died on January 22, 1922 (Jumada Ula 22, 1340 Hijri) (Teveth 22, 5682 Jewish). He was elected as a pope on September 3, 1914, shortly after the beginning of World War I.

Eight days later, on May 13, 1917 (Rajab 21, 1335 Hijri) (Iyar 21, 5677 Jewish) (2421,361.5\textsuperscript{th} Julian Day) (472, 923\textsuperscript{th} Hijri Day), the Virgin Mary appeared for the first time to three Catholic children (Lucia, Jacinta, and Francisco), at Cova da Iria in a town called Fatima in Portugal. They experienced apparitions in which they visualized what looked like a lady holding a rosary (believed to be the Virgin Mary), once a month, for 6 consecutive months: on May 13, June 13, July 13, August 19, September 13, and October 13, 1917.

On July 13, 1917 (Ramadan 23, 1335 Hijri) (Tammuz 23, 5677 Jewish) (2421,422.5\textsuperscript{th} or 2421,423\textsuperscript{rd} Julian Day) (472,984\textsuperscript{th} Hijri day) the Virgin Mary told the children three secrets about future events. Number 984 is the numerical value of:

- صواريخ نووية Nuclear Missiles: 907 + 77 = 984
- خراب أسلحة نووية Kharab (Devastation) of Nuclear Weapons: 803 + (104 + 77) = 803 + 181 = 984

July 13, 1917 was 69 days after Pope Benedict XV’s plea for intercession from Mary on May 5, 1917.

In the First Secret, the children saw a vision of Hell.

In the Second Secret, Mary told the children that the World War I was going to end, but if people would not cease offending God, a worse war (predicting World War II) would break out. She said that she would appear later to ask for consecration of Russia by the Pope so that it would be converted. Otherwise, Russia would spread its errors throughout the World, causing wars and persecutions of the Church.

In the Third Secret, the children were able to visualize events that included a Pope passing by a big city, half in ruins and later, this Pope and a group of bishops and priests were killed by soldiers.

The third secret witnessed to the three Children on July 13, 1917, as described in writing by Lucia on January 3, 1944, but not revealed by the Vatican till June 26, 2000 Gregorian (June 13, 2000 Julian) (Rabi Awwal 23, 1421 Hijri) (Sivan 23, 5760 Jewish) (2451,721.5\textsuperscript{th} or 2451,722\textsuperscript{nd} Julian day), includes the following: "we saw an Angel with a flaming sword in his left hand. Flashing, it gave out flames that looked as though they would set the World on fire... the Holy Father passed through a big city half in ruins and half trembling with halting step, afflicted with pain and sorrow, he prayed for the souls of the corpses he met on his way... he was killed by a group of soldiers who fired bullets and arrows at him, and in the same way there died one after another the other Bishops, Priests, men and women Religious, and various lay people of different ranks and positions...”

A book titled, “A Pathway Under the Gaze of Mary” (authored by Sister Lucia’s fellow nuns) reveals that Lucia described a new vision she saw on January 3, 1944, while praying about writing down the third secret for her bishop, as follows: “I felt my spirit flooded by a mystery of light that is God and in Him saw and heard: The tip of a spear as a flame unlatches and touches the axis of the Earth. It shudders. Mountains, cities, towns and villages with their inhabitants are buried. The sea, the rivers, and the clouds emerge from their limits, overflowing and bringing with them in a whirlwind houses and people in numbers that are not possible to count. It is the purification of the World by sin as it plunges. Hatred and ambition cause the destructive war.”
On August 13, 1917, the children missed their scheduled meeting with the Lady at the Cova da Iria because they were detained by the anti-clerical civil authorities. The children resisted the pressure to have them deny the apparitions. They were put in prison and released on August 15, the feast of the Assumption. The Lady then appeared to the children a few days later, on August 19, 1917 (Zu Al-Qada 1, 1335 Hijri) (473,020th Hijri day), at Valinhos near their home in Aljustrel. This was the fourth apparition. August, the 8th month in Gregorian Calendar, is similar to Shaban, the 8th month of Hijri Calendar and Iyar, the 8th month in the Jewish Calendar). Therefore, August 19 may represent Shaban 19 and Iyar 19.

During the apparitions, each child’s role was distinct: Lucia was the only one who spoke to the Lady, Jacinta saw and heard her, but did not speak, and Francisco saw the Lady, but could not hear her, and had to be told afterward what she said.

Eugenio Maria Giuseppe Giovanni Pacelli was consecrated by Pope Benedict XV as titular Bishop of Sardis and elevated to archbishop in the Sistine Chapel on May 13, 1917. Later, he was elected as a Pope on March 2, 1939, the anniversary of his birthday (shortly before beginning of World War II), and adopted the name Pope Pius XII. He is often referred to as “Hitler’s Pope”. He served as a pope till he died on October 9, 1958. He was buried in a crypt under Saint Peter's Basilica on October 13, 1958 (Rabi Awwal 29, 1378 Hijri) (Tishri 29, 5719 Jewish).

The 6 apparitions (visions) of the 3 children in Fatima, Portugal happened on the following dates:

1. May 13, 1917 (Rajab, 21, 1335 Hijri) (Iyar 21, 5677 Jewish) (2421,361.5th Julian Day) (472,924th or 472,923rd Hijri Day)
2. June 13, 1917 (Shaban 23 (or 22), 1335 Hijri) (Sivan 23, 5677 Jewish) (2421,392.5th Julian Day)
4. August 19, 1917 (Zu Al-Qada 1, 1335 Hijri) (473,020th Hijri)
5. Sept. 13, 1917 (Zu Al-Qada 25 (or 26), 1335 Hijri) (Elul 26, 5677 Jewish) (2421,484.5th Julian Day)
6. October 13, 1917 (Zu Al-Hijja 26, 1335 Hijri) (Tishri 27, 5678 Jewish) (2421,514.5th Julian Day)

The 3 children in the apparitions in Fatima are:
(a) Francisco was born on June 12, 1908 (Jumada Ula 13, 1326 Hijri) (Sivan 13, 5668 Jewish) and died on April 4, 1919 (Rajab 3, 1337 Hijri) (Nisan 4, 5679 Jewish).

(b) Jacinta was born on March 11, 1910 (Safar 28, 1328 Hijri) (Adar I 30, 5670 Jewish) and died on February 20, 1920 (Jumada Thania 1, 1338 Hijri) (Adar 1, 5680 Jewish).

(c) Lucia was born on March 28, 1907 (Safar 13, 1325 Hijri) (Nisan 13, 5667 Jewish) (2417,662.5 or 2417,663rd Julian Day). She died on February 13, 2005 (Muharram 4, 1426 Hijri) (Adar I 4, 5765 Jewish) (2,453,414.5th or 2,453,415th Julian Day).

Jacinta and Francisco were beatified on May 13, 2000 (Safar 8, 1421 Hijri) (Iyar 8, 5760 Jewish) by Pope John Paul II in Fatima. May 13, 2000 was the 19th anniversary of the first apparition on May 13, 1917. The Feast day for both of them is February 20.

Later in her life, Lucia became a nun.

During her July 13, 1917 apparition in Fatima, Mary said to Lucia: “I shall come to ask... that on the First Saturday of every month, Communions of reparation be made in atonement for the sins of the World.” Mary made no further mention of this devotion at Fatima until December 10, 1925 (Jumada Ula 23, 1344 Hijri) (Kislev 23, 5686 Jewish), when Mary again appeared to Lucia while she was a nun at a convent in Pontevedra, Spain and completed her request for the Five First Saturdays of Reparation and gave her a great promise.

In calling for the Five First Saturdays, Mary was, in a way, reiterating the First Saturday devotions previously approved by the Church. On July 1, 1905, Pope Pius X approved and granted indulgences for the practice of the first Saturdays of twelve consecutive months in honor of the Immaculate Conception. On June 13, 1912, finally, he granted new indulgences to the practice of the first Saturday of each month.

In 1926, Lucia left the convent in Pontevedra, Spain to enter St. Dorothy convent in Tuy, Spain. She took her habit on October 26, 1926, and pronounced her first vows on October 3, 1928. At St. Dorothy convent in Tuy, Spain, the last apparition of Mary witnessed by Lucia happened, around midnight, on Thursday, June 13, 1929 (Muharram 5, 1348 Hijri) (Sivan 5, 5689 Jewish) (2425,768.5th Julian Day), on the eve of the second Friday of June 1929, meaning on the eve of Friday, June 14, 1929. She mentions the following in her diary: “I had sought and obtained permission from my superiors and confessor to make a Holy Hour from eleven o’clock until midnight, every Thursday to Friday night.” Mary’s Promise contained in the secrets revealed in the apparition of July 13, 1917: “I shall come to ask for the consecration of Russia...” was fulfilled on June 13, 1929, when Mary appeared to Lucia and told her: “The moment has come in which God asks the Holy Father (Pope) to make, in union with all the bishops of the World, the consecration of Russia to My Immaculate Heart, promising to save it by this means.”

On the night of May 29 - 30, 1930, as Lucia was praying, she received an interior locution explaining why it was necessary to have a communion of reparation on five Saturdays.
Later, Lucia returned to Portugal and became a Discalced Carmelite on May 31, 1949.

Construction of the Sanctuary of Fatima in Portugal in Cova da Iria (where the apparitions happened) started on May 13, 1928 (Zu Al-Qada 23, 1346 Hijri) (Iyar 23, 5688 Jewish) and it was opened and consecrated on October 7, 1953 (Muharram 28, 1373 Hijri) (Tishri 28, 5714 Jewish).

- Pope Paul VI (real name: Giovanni Battista Montini) was born on September 26, 1897 (Rabi Thani 28, 1315 Hijri) (Elul 29, 5657 Jewish), was elected Pope on June 21, 1963 (Muharram 28, 1383 Hijri) (Sivan 29, 5727 Jewish) and served until his death on August 6, 1978 (Ramadan 2, 1398 Hijri). On January 4, 1964 (Shaban 18, 1383 Hijri) (Teveth 19, 5724 Jewish), Paul VI started his 3-day historic pilgrimage journey to the Holy Land by visiting Jordan. Then, on January 5–6, 1964, Pope Paul VI visited Jerusalem. His visit to the Holy Land was historic for several reasons. It was the first time a Pope has travelled abroad for over a century, the first time a Pope has travelled in an airplane, and the first time ever since Saint Peter that a Pope has visited the Holy Land. In the evening of January 5, 1964 (Shaban 19, 1383 Hijri) (Teveth 20, 5724 Jewish) (2438.399.5th Julian Day) (498,960th Hijri Day), a historic meetings was held on the Mount of Olives in Jerusalem between Pope Paul VI and Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras (the 268th Patriarch of Constantinople from 1948 to 1972). It was the first time that the universal leader of the Western Church and the spiritual leader of the Eastern Church met face-to-face since March 8, 1438 (Ramadan 11, 841 Hijri) at the Council of Florence (1438-1439). The venue for the meeting was on the Mount of Olives, where Christians believe Jesus Christ, pleaded with God, on the night of his betrayal, for the unity of his followers. For many centuries, the Eastern and Western Churches were not in formal contact and shared very little official communication since what became known as the Great Schism of 1054. On the next day, January 6, 1964 (Shaban 20, 1383 Hijri), Pope Paul VI and Patriarch Athenagoras also met for the second time. Pope Paul VI arrived by an airplane to J. F. Kennedy airport in New York City for a historic 14-hour visit to address the United Nations on October 4, 1965 (Jumada Thania 8, 1387 Hijri) (Tishri 8, 5726 Jewish). U.S. President Lyndon B. Johnson met Pope Paul VI at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York. It was the first visit in history by a Pope not only to the U.S., but also to the Western Hemisphere, Africa, Oceania and Asia. On May 13, 1967 (50th anniversary of the first apparition) (Safar 3, 1387 Hijri) (Iyar 3, 5727 Jewish), Pope Paul VI visited Fatima, Portugal, becoming the first pope to visit Fatima. In the presence of 1,000,000 pilgrims, after a Mass celebrated in the open square in front of the basilica in Fatima, Portugal, Lucia approached Pope Paul VI and said: "I want to have a private conversation with you." She repeated this request several times. But Pope Paul VI rejected her requests. His rejection made Lucia start weeping. Pope Paul VI visited Istanbul (Constantinople), Turkey on July 27, 1967 (Rabi Thani 19, 1387 Hijri) (Tammuz 19, 5727 Jewish) and met with the Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras, Patriarch of Constantinople, as the first pope to visit Constantinople since Pope Constantine in 710. With his visit to Istanbul (Constantinople), Pope Paul VI became the first pope to visit six continents, and was the most travelled pope in history up to that time, earning the nickname the “Pilgrim Pope”. Pope Urban II (whose speech, on November 27, 1095 at the Council of Clermont, prompted the launch the First Crusade) was the first pope to travel extensively outside Rome. On November 27, 1970 (Ramadan 28, 1390 Hijri) (Heshvan 28, 5731 Jewish) (2440.917.5th Julian Day) (492,479th Hijri Day), at 9:30 a.m., shortly after Pope Paul VI disembarked from his chartered airplane at Manila airport in his visit to the Philippines, Pope Paul VI was attacked and stabbed with a dagger by Benjamin Mendoza y
Amor Flores, a Bolivian painter, disguised as a priest. Pope Paul VI was wounded in this incident. This assassination attempt could be connected to the third apparition of the 3 children in Fatima, Portugal.

Pope Paul VI may symbolize the the Dajjal because the numerical of the name بول “Paul” is equal to the numerical value of دجال Dajjal:

بول Paul: 38
دجال Dajjal: 38

On May 2, 1981, a man named Laurence James Downey hijacked an airplane and demanded that Pope John Paul II make public the Third Secret of Fatima.

On May 13, 1981 (Rajab 9, 1401 Hijri) (Iyar 9, 5741 Jewish) (2444,737,5th Julian Day) (496,186th Hijri Day), a Turkish man called Mehmet Ali Agca (who was 23 years old) shot at Pope John Paul II. The Pope was hit by three bullets, one of which entered his stomach. He accused the Bulgarian secret service and the Soviet KGB for plotting the assassination attempt. Two years later the Pope publicly forgave Agca and even visited him for 20 minutes in his prison in Rome. At the plea of Pope John Paul II, he was pardoned by Italian President Carolo Ciampi on June 13, 2000 (Rabi Awwal 10, 1421 Hijri) (Sivan 10, 5760 Jewish). However, he was extradited to Turkey to complete his prison sentence for the murder of Abdi Ipekci, a prominent newspaper editor in Turkey, whom he killed in 1979. He was released from prison in Turkey on January 18, 2010 (Safar 4, 1431 Hijri) (Shevat 4, 5770 Jewish). He was declared mentally disturbed by doctors. Following his release, he declared himself the "Christ eternal" and prophesied that humanity would be wiped out this century.

Just 3 weeks prior to the assassination attempt of Pope John Paul II in 1981, he held a meeting with 6 of the most powerful cardinals in the Vatican. The main purpose of the meeting was to re-organize, limit the power of, or end the Jesuit Order (Society of Jesus), headed by Father Pedro Arrupe [born on November 14, 1907 (Shawwal 8, 1325 Hijri) and died on February 5, 1991 (Rajab 20, 1411 Hijri)] who was the 31st “Black Pope” to be elected for life. Pedro Arrupe was removed from office by Pope John Paul II in 1981. He was the first Black Pope ever to be removed from office. Since the founding of the Jesuits by Don Ignatius LIEola and Don Francis Borgia in 1534, many “White Popes” have tried in vain to curtail the power of the Jesuit generals. All of the attempts met with death by poisoning.

During this first visit to Fatima, Pope John Paul II was attacked with a knife (or dagger) by Juan Fernandez y Krohn (born in 1948), a fanatical, ultra-conservative Spanish Catholic priest on May 12, 1982 (Rajab 19, 1402 Hijri) (Iyar 19, 5742 Jewish) (2445,101.5th Julian Day) (496,663rd Hijri Day or 496,664th Hijri Day). The Vatican chose not to disclose that Pope John Paul II was wounded in the attack. The news media reported that the Pope was attacked, but he was not wounded. Juan Maria Fernandez y Krohn attacked Pope John Paul II because he thought Pope John Paul II was a communist and an agent working for the Soviet Union. On October 15, 2008, Cardinal Stanislaw Dziwisz finally disclosed that the Pope was actually wounded in the attack on May 12, 1982.
Stanislaw Dziwisz served as Pope John Paul II's secretary and closest aide for nearly 40 years, including all of his 27 years as Pope, and after the Pope John Paul II’s death, Stanislaw Dziwisz became Archbishop of Krakow, Poland on June 3, 2005 and Cardinal in 2006. Cardinal Dziwisz made this revelation as the Vatican prepared for the first screening of the movie titled Testimony, based on Cardinal Stanislaw Dziwisz's book, My Friend Karol (Karol is the real first name of Pope John Paul II), about his 40 years as secretary of Pope John Paul II. After being convicted of the assault, Juan Fernandez y Krohn was sentenced to six years, but served only three years in a Portuguese prison and then he was expelled from Portugal. After he was released from prison, he worked as a lawyer in Belgium but became known for his violent acts in court rooms. He has been involved in several other criminal cases involving violent behavior at extremist political protests. In 1996, in Spain, Juan Fernandez y Krohn was charged with setting to fire in a local centre of the Herri Batasuna Party of Bask separatists. Juan Fernandez y Krohn was arrested again in July 2000 and received a five-year sentence after climbing over a security barricade at the Royal Palace of Brussels, intending to kill either King Albert II or the approaching Spanish King Juan Carlos. Juan Fernandez y Krohn believed Juan Carlos Bourbon, King of Spain was involved in the killing his older brother Alfonso Bourbon, Infante of Spain in 1956 so that he could become king.

On May 13, 1982 (65th anniversary of the first apparition in Fatima, Portugal) (Rajab 19, 1402 Hijri) (Iyar 20, 5742 Jewish) (2445, 102.5th Julian Day) (496,664th Hijri Day or 496,665th Hijri Day), during his first visit to Fatima, Portugal, Pope John Paul II had a private meeting with Lucia for the first time at 8:00 am, and later he consecrated the World (but not specifically Russia and not in union with Bishops of the World) to the Immaculate Heart of Virgin Mary. On May 19, 1982, Pope John Paul II explained why he did not specifically consecrate Russia during his visit to Fatima, Portugal on May 13, 1982, by saying: "I have tried to do all which I could do in the concrete circumstances to show forth the collegial unity of the Bishop of Rome with all his brothers in the ministry and the episcopal service of the World."

Three important events happened in year 2000, meaning 19 years after the first assassination attempt against Pope John Paul II by Mehmet Ali Agca on May 13, 1981:

(a) Pope John Paul II visited Fatima, Portugal and beautified Jacinta and Francisco on May 13, 2000 (Safar 8, 1421 Hijri) (Iyar 8, 5760 Jewish) in the Sanctuary of Fatima in Cova da Iria (where the apparitions happened).

(b) President of Italy Carlo Ciampi pardoned Mehmet Ali Agca (the man who attempted to kill Pope John Paul II on May 13, 1981) on June 13, 2000, the anniversary of the Second Apparition on June 13, 1917 (Shaban 23, 1335 Hijri) (Sivan 23, 5677 Jewish).

(c) The Third Secret was not revealed to the public by the Catholic Church until June 26, 2000 Gregorian (June 13, 2000 Julian) (Rabi Awwal 23, 1421 Hijri) (Sivan 23, 5760 Jewish) (2451,721.5th or 2451,722nd Julian day). This date seems to be connected to the day of the second apparition June 13, 1917 (Shaban 23, 1335 Hijri) (Sivan 23, 5760 Jewish).
(d) Israel’s leader of the Likud party, Ariel Sharon’s provocative visit to the Aqsa Mosque on September 28, 2000 triggered the beginning of the Palestinians’ Aqsa Uprising, the next day, on U.S. President, John F. Kennedy was born on May 29, 1917 (Shaban 7, 1335 Hijri). He was assassinated on November 22, 1963 [Rajab 6 (or 5), 1383 Hijri].

Balfour Declaration (or Promise) by the British government to facilitate the creation of a homeland in Palestine for the Jews was offered to the Jews in a letter signed by Britain’s Foreign Minister on November 2, 1917 (Muharram 16, 1336 Hijri) (Heshvan 17, 5678 Jewish) (2421,534.5th or 2421,535th Julian Day).

Bolshevik Communist Revolution in Russia led by Vladimir Lenin, that led to 5 - 6 years of civil war, started on November 7, 1917 (based on Gregorian Calendar) (October 25, 1917 based on Julian Calendar used in Russia at that time) (Muharram 22, 1336 Hijri). On December 29, 1922
(Jumada Ula 10, 1341 Hijri), Union Treaty for the creation the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (U.S.S.R.) was approved by a conference of delegations and the treaty was confirmed by the first Congress of Soviets of the U.S.S.R. and signed by heads of delegations, the next day, on December 30, 1922 (Jumada Ula 11, 1341 Hijri) (Teveth 11, 5683 Jewish). The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (U.S.S.R.) adopted its first constitution on July 6, 1923 (Zu Al-Qada 22, 1341 Hijri) (Tammuz 22, 5683 Jewish). On January 21, 1924 (Jumada Thania 13, 1342 Hijri), Vladimir Lenin died.

- In the evening of December 8, 1917 (Safar 23, 1336 Hijri), the Ottoman Governor of Jerusalem, Izzat Bey, gave a “Surrender Letter” to former mayor of Jerusalem, Dr. Hussein Al-Husseini [descendant of Al-Hussein, grandson of Prophet Mohammad (p)], so that he delivers it to the invading British forces. During this meeting, he re-instated Dr. Hussein Al-Husseini to the position of Mayor of Jerusalem, the office he had been removed from by Jamal Pasha in 1915. The Ottoman forces started retreating from Jerusalem during that night. The next morning shortly before 9:00 a.m. on Sunday, December 9, 1917 Gregorian (November 26, 1917 Julian) (Safar 24, 1336 Hijri) (Kislev 24, 5678 Jewish) (2421,571.5th Julian Day), Hussein Al-Husseini attempted to deliver the letter of surrender and the keys of the city to British Officers, Sergeants James Sedgwick and Frederick Hurcombe, just outside Jerusalem's western limits. They refused to accept the letter, but it was eventually accepted by Brigadier-General C. F. Watson, Commander of the 180th British Infantry Brigade. At 10:30 a.m., the British army entered Jerusalem. On that day, all Christian denominations rang their church bells in celebration of this happy occasion and held prayers. The head of the British forces, General Allenby, entered Jerusalem on foot through Jaffa Gate on December 11, 1917
Gregorian (November 28, 1917 Julian) (Safar 26, 1336 Hijri) (Kislev 26, 5678 Jewish) (473,135th Hijri Day). General Allenby said: "The wars of the Crusaders are now complete.” This event represented the return of the rule of the Crusaders over Jerusalem after being ruled by Muslims since year 1244. When General Allenby entered Jerusalem, he was accompanied by Archibald Wavell, British Lieutenant-Colonel (later became of Field Marshal), who was an Awar (a person who has a defective eye) like the Dajjal, as described by Prophet Mohammad (p).
Archibald Wavell was a British military officer who reached the rank of Field Marshal by the end of his military career. In the Second Battle of Ypres against Germany, during World War I, he was wounded by a shell splinter that destroyed his left eye on June 16, 1915 (Shaban 3 (or 4), 1333 Hijri) (Tammuz 4, 5675 Jewish). He was awarded a Military Cross. In 1917, as a Lieutenant-Colonel, Archibald Wavell was assigned to serve in the Middle East under General Edmund Allenby. Wavell considered Allenby a mentor, from whom he learned the importance of secrecy, surprise and deception in combat. When Edmund Allenby entered Jerusalem in December 11, 1917, Archibald Wavell was with him. He participated in World War II. He also served as Viceroy to India (1943 - 1947). He was born on May 5, 1883 (Jumada Thania 27, 1300 Hijri) (Nisan 28, 5643 Jewish) and died on May 24, 1950 (Shaban 7, 1369 Hijri) (Sivan 8, 5710 Jewish).

On July 22, 2011 (Shaban 20, 1432 Hijri) (Tammuz 20, 5771 Jewish), Norway was the victim of twin terror attacks, by a white, Christian, anti-immigrants extremist Norwegian, named Anders Behring Breivik. He was born on February 13, 1979 (Rabi Awwal 15, 1399 Hijri) (2443, 917, 5th Julan Day). The first attack was a car bomb blast which targeted government buildings in central Oslo, killing about 8 people, the second being a massacre at a youth camp on the island of Utøya, in which 69 people were killed.

Ottoman Sultan Abdul Hameed II was the last Sultan to have absolute power and exert autocratic control over the Ottoman State. He refused to allow the establishment of a Jewish State in Palestine. He was born on September 22, 1842 (Shaban 18, 1258 Hijri) (Tishri 18, 5603 Jewish) and died on February 10, 1918 (Rabi Thani 28, 1336 Hijri). Ottoman Abdul Hamid II ascended to the throne following the deposition of his brother Murad on August 31, 1876. The girding of the sword of Osman was a vital ceremony which took place after a sultan's ascension to the throne. Abdul Hamid was girt with the sword of Osman on September 7, 1876 (Shaban 18, 1293 Hijri).

The town of Moscow was first mentioned in Russian chronicles in 1147. In 1328, Moscow became the capital city of the Great Moscow Principality (Russia). Moscow was burned by the Tatars in 1381 and again in 1572. Russia’s Emperor, Peter the Great (Peter I) moved the capital of the Russian Empire from Moscow to St. Petersburg (which he founded in 1703) in 1712. During Napoleon’s invasion of Russia in 1812, a major fire broke out in Moscow. Russian historians say the French army set Moscow on fire while French historians say Russian patriots did it. On March 12, 1918 (Jumada Al-Ula 29, 1336 Hijri), Moscow became the capital of the Russian Soviet Federative Socialist Republic. On December 30, 1922 (Jumada Al-Ula 11, 1341 Hijri), Moscow became the capital of the U.S.S.R.

On June 4, 1918 (Shaban 24 (or 23), 1336 Hijri) (Sivan 24, 5678 Jewish), Faisal son of Hussein met for the first time Chaim Weizmann (President of the Zionist Organization and who later became the first President of Israel) in Aqaba to discuss the issue of establishment of an Arab state and a Jewish State. After few meetings, an agreement between them was reached on January 3, 1919. Later, Faisal renounced the agreement after the Arab demand for independence was not accepted and the French and British received mandates over the region.

On September 16, 1918 (Zu Al-Hijja 10, 1336 Hijri) (Tishri 10, 5679 Jewish), the forces of the Allies (made up primarily of British, Australian, Indian forces, with some forces from France and New Zealand) led by Edmund Allenby began their attacks on the Ottoman army in Palestine in what came to be known as Battle of Megiddo (where the battle referred to by the Bible as Battle of Armageddon is supposed to happen). Starting from 1:00 a.m. on September 19, 1918 (Zu Al-Hijja 13, 1336 Hijri) (Tishri 13, 5679 Jewish), aircrafts of the Allies bombed the telephone exchanges to cut off the communications between the Ottoman headquarters in Nazareth and the Ottoman forces in the battle field and also bombed railway stations. Allenby sought to trap the Ottoman forces, which were encamped and re-grouping on the plains of Megiddo, and block off any escape routes. He aimed to launch a co-ordinated attack with cavalry, infantry, artillery, armoured vehicles and aircraft to annihilate them. As the infantry and artillery closed on the Ottoman forces positions, the forces of the Allies quickly encircled the Ottoman forces, preventing the Ottomans’ escape. The forces of the Allies held aerial and numerical superiority over the Ottoman forces. In Palestine, the British forces captured Beisan and Nazareth on September 20, 1918, Nablus on September 21, 1918, and Haifa and Akka (Acre) on September 23, 1918 (Zu Al-Hijja 17, 1336 Hijri) (Tishri 17, 5679 Jewish). The British forces that participated in the Battle included Indian troops and the 61st Cavalry Regiment of the Indian Army still commemorates this battle of Haifa every year on the September 23 as Haifa Day.

The forces of the Allies captured Amman in Jordan on September 25, 1918. Most of the Ottoman forces in Palestine & Jordan were defeated by September 26, 1918. In the entire Battle of Meggido, the Allied forces had inflicted heavy losses on the Ottoman Army of over 25,000 Ottoman soldiers killed, wounded or captured. Victory at Megiddo owed much to the British Army’s horses (as well as donkeys and mules). However, at the end of the war, over 20,000 of these animals were sold locally for food or work as it was cheaper than shipping them home. Damascus was captured by the Allies and Arab forces on Tuesday, October 1, 1918 (Zu Hijja 25, 1336 Hijri) and Hussein bin Ali’s son Faisal entered Damascus on horseback on Thursday, October 3, 1918. In Lebanon, Allied forces captured Tyre on October 4, Sidon on October 6, Beirut on October 7, and Tripoli on October 13, 1918. Aleppo, in Northern Syria, was captured by the Allies on October 26, 1918 (Muharram 20, 1337 Hijri). This defeat led the Ottomans to sign the Armistice of Moudros, a cease-fire and an informal surrender agreement between the Ottomans and the Allies, on October 30, 1918 (Muharram 24, 1337 Hijri). Armistice of Moudros came into effect on October 31, 1918. Based on Armistice of Moudros, French troops started the Allies’ occupation of Istanbul (Constantinople) on November 12, 1918 (Safar 7, 1337 Hijri), followed by British troops on November 13, 1918. The Allied forces left Constantinople by October 6, 1923 (Safar 26, 1342 Hijri) (Tishri 26, 5684 Jewish) and the first Turkish troops entered the city on the same day.

World War I ended on November 11, 1918 (Safar 6, 1337 Hijri).

Anwar Al-Sadat, former President of Egypt, was born on December 25, 1918 (Rabi Awwal 21, 1337 Hijri). He was assassinated on October 6, 1981 (Zu Hijja 8, 1401 Hijri) (Tishri 8, 5742 Jewish).

The total solar eclipse of June 8, 1918 (Shaban 27 (or 28), 1336 Hijri) crossed the United States from Washington State to Florida. This path is roughly similar to the August 21, 2017 (Zu Al-Qada 29, 1438 Hijri) total solar eclipse and was the last time totality crossed the nation from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

The Faisal - Weizmann Agreement regarding the establishment of a State, in Palestine, for the Jews that welcomes immigration of Jews from around the World to exist alongside an Arab State was signed on January 3, 1919 (Rabi Thani 1, 1337 Hijri) (Shevat 2, 5679 Jewish), by Faisal (son of Hussein bin Ali, King of Hijaz), and Chaim Weizmann representing the Zionist Organization. The boundaries of the two states were to be determined by a special commission after the Paris Peace Conference.

The Paris Peace Conference, also known as Versailles Peace Conference, was the meeting of the Allied victors, following the end of World War I to set the peace terms for the defeated Central Powers following the armistices of 1918. It took place in Paris during 1919 and involved diplomats from more than 32 countries and nationalities. The major decisions made during this conference included the creation of the League of Nations. Paris Peace Conference opened on January 18, 1919 (Rabi Thani 17, 1337 Hijri) (Shevat 17, 5679 Jewish) and ended on January 21, 1920 (Rabi Thani 29, 1338 Hijri) (Shevat 1, 5680 Jewish), with the inaugural General Assembly of the League of Nations.

Mustafa Kemal Atatürk landed in Samsun on May 19, 1919 (May 6, 1919 Julian) (Shaban 19, 1337 Hijri) (Iyar 19, 5679 Jewish) (242,2097.5th or 242,2098th Julian Day). May 19, 1919 is May 19 in both Rumi and Gregorian calendars because after January 1, 1918, the days became the same in both calendars. Turkey designates Atatürk’s date of birth as May 19, 1881 Gregorian (Jumada Thania 19, 1298 Hijri) (Iyar 20, 5641 Jewish) (2408,219.5th Julian Day). Today, May 19 is an annual national holiday in Turkey, called “Commemoration of Atatürk, Youth and Sports Day”.

The Treaty of Versailles was one of the peace treaties at the end of World War I. It ended the state of war between Germany and the Allied Powers. It was signed on June 28, 1919 (Ramadan 29, 1337 Hijri) (Sivan 30, 5679 Jewish), exactly five years after the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand on June 28, 1914.

On September 10, 1919 (Zu Al-Hijja 14, 1337 Hijri) (Elul 15, 5679 Jewish), around the end of World War I, the Treaty of Saint-Germain-en-Laye was signed, at the Château de Saint-Germain-en-Laye (19 Km west of Paris, France), between the victorious Allies on the one hand and Austria on the other. The treaty declared that the Austro-Hungarian Empire was to be dissolved. The new Republic of Austria, consisting of most of the German-speaking Danubian and Alpine provinces in former Cisleithania, recognized the independence of: Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland, and the Kingdom of Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, which used to be part of the Austrian Empire. The treaty included war reparations of large sums of money that had to be paid by Austria to the Allies. The treaty became effective on July 16, 1920.

On July 11, 1920, King Faisal bin Hussein, head of the Syrian Arab Kingdom (which was established by King Faisal on March 8, 1920) sent the following telegram to the various Consulates in Damascus for transmission to their Governments:

“Following the massing of French troops on the border between the eastern and western zones in Syria and the creation of military bases in preparation for war, General Gouraud declared that he had conditions that he wanted me to fulfill. These conditions - up to now I've read unofficially only a part of them - plainly aim at the destruction of our national sovereignty. Insofar as he made any statements, the General said that he would place obstacles in the way of my trip to Paris unless his demands were met and that the French Government would refuse to discuss the Syrian case with me if I didn’t go through the western zone en route. I have the honor to call the attention of the Allied Powers and the League of Nations to this act and request that they intervene to prevent Syria’s yielding to force and becoming a victim of the militaristic spirit, the annihilation of which was the major objective of the Great War. I am relying on the fairness of the Allies to avert bloodshed and the total ruination of this country which sacrificed so much in their behalf. I ask you to form an Allied arbitration commission to review General Gouraud's demands. My people and I pledge ourselves in advance to accept and abide by the decisions of this board.”

In response, an ultimatum was issued, on July 14, 1920, by Commander of the French Forces, General Henri Gouraud, to government of the Syrian Arab Kingdom to surrender or fight which was accepted on July 20, 1920 by the Syrian government. However, early in the morning of July 24, 1920 (Zu Al-Qada 9, 1338 Hijri) (Av 9, 5680 Jewish Calendar) (2422,529.5th Julian Day), French forces broke a truce, attacked and defeated the Arab forces of led by Yusuf Al-Azma, Minister of War, in the Battle of Maysalun (a strategic hilly location about 12 miles west of Damascus, overlooking a valley used as a passage to Damascus). French forces had captured Aleppo without a fight, on July 23, 1920, and after their victory at Maysalun, the French troops besieged and captured Damascus on July 25, 1920. Then, General Gouraud reportedly went to the tomb of Salah Eddin Al-Ayyubi (who defeated the Crusaders and liberated Jerusalem in 1187 AD), adjacent to the Umawi Mosque in Damascus, kicked it, and said: "Wake up, Salah Eddin. We have returned. My presence here consecrates victory of the Cross over the Crescent." General Henri Gouraud was born on November 17, 1867 (Rajab 19, 1284 Hijri) (Heshvan 19, 5628 Jewish) and died on September 16, 1946 (Shawwal 19, 1365 Hijri) (Elul 20, 5706 Jewish).

Following the Paris Peace Conference, France was awarded a Mandate over Syria and Lebanon, under which the definition of Lebanon was still to be set by France. On August 3, 1920 (Zu Al-Qada 19, 1338 Hijri), the French High Commissioner for Syria and Lebanon, General Gouraud, at Grand Kadri Hotel in Zahle, proclaimed the intent of the French authorities to create a Greater Lebanon, by adding, to Mount Lebanon, several regions from Syria. On August 24, 1920 (Zu Al-Hijja 10, 1338 Hijri) (Elul 10, 5680 Jewish), French Prime Minister Alexandre Millerand wrote to Lebanese Maronite Archbishop Khoury: "Your country's claims regarding the Bekaa, that you mentioned to me, have been granted. Based on instructions from the French government, General Gouraud proclaimed, at Zahle's Grand Kadri Hotel, the incorporation into Lebanon of the territory that extends up to the summit of the Anti-Lebanon mountain range and of Mount Hermon." On August 31, 1920 (Zu Hijja 16, 1338 Hijri), General Gouraud, officially proclaimed the formation of Greater Lebanon by annexing, to Mount Lebanon, several regions from Syria, that included the cities of Beirut, Tripoli, Sidon, Tyre, Baalbak and Zahle.

On September 23, 1920 (Muharram 10, 1339 Hijri), General Henri Gouraud issued another decree establishing the "State of the Alawites."

Treaty of Sevres in France was signed on August 10, 1920 (Zu Al-Qada 25 (or 26), 1338 Hijri) between the Ottoman Empire and the Allies, following the defeat of the Ottoman Empire in World War I. In this treaty, the Ottoman Empire was forced to renounce all non-Turkish lands that used to be part of the Ottoman Empire. The terms Treaty of Sevres were considered so harsh that the treaty was never ratified by the Ottoman Empire because of the rise to power of Mustafa Kemal Atatürk and his opposition to it. Thus, the treaty became obsolete. Later, it was replaced by Treaty of Lausanne which was signed on July 23, 1923 (Zu Al-Hijja 9, 1341 Hijri).

The Crusaders captured Jerusalem on Friday, July 15, 1099 AD Julian (July 21, 1099 Gregorian) (Shaban 23, 492 Hijri). From 1099 AD till 2019 AD (possible Beginning of End Times), there are 920 years.

Jamal Pasha, the Ottoman governor of Greater Syria, hanged prominent activists and intellectuals, opposed to his oppressive rule, in both Damascus and Beirut, on May 6, 1916 (Rajab 3, 1334 Hijri) (Iyar 3, 5676 Jewish) (2420,989.5th Julian Day). In commemoration of this event, May 6 is celebrated annually as the Martyrs’ Day in Syria and Lebanon. He is referred to as the Jazzar (Butcher or Slaughterer). He was born on May 6, 1872 (Safar 27, 1289 Hijri). He was killed on July 21, 1922 (Zu Al-Qada 25, 1340 Hijri) (Tammuz 25, 5682 Jewish) (2423,256.5th Julian Day).
The March on Rome was a march by which Italian dictator Benito Mussolini's National Fascist Party came to power in the Kingdom of Italy. The march took place from October 22 to October 29, 1922. King of Italy handed power to Mussolini on October 28, 1922. Mussolini was asked to form his cabinet on October 29, 1922 (Rabi Awwal 8, 1341 Hijri) while some 25,000 Blackshirt-Fascists were parading in Rome.

On February 28, 1922, Egypt is declared a sovereign state by Britain. On March 16, 1922, Sultan Faud appoints himself King of Egypt and thus Egypt achieves independence.

On April 25, 1920 (Shaban 5, 1338 Hijri) (Iyar 6, 5680 Jewish), at the Conference of San Remo, the Allies awarded the Mandate over Palestine to Britain. The revised final draft of the British mandate (including Transjordan) was forwarded to the League of Nations and was announced by League of Nations on July 22, 1922 (Zu Al-Qada 26, 1340 Hijri) (Tammuz 26, 5682 Jewish).

On September 21, 1922, U.S. President Warren G. Harding signed the joint Congressional resolution that was adopted earlier by the Senate and House of Representatives, supporting the establishment a Jewish National Home in Palestine.

On August 30, 1922 (Muharram 6, 1341 Hijri), the Greek army of 200,000 soldiers was defeated at the Battle of Dumlupinar, with half of its soldiers captured or slain. This date is celebrated as Victory Day, a national holiday in Turkey. On September 9, 1922 (Muharram 16, 1341 Hijri) (Elul 16, 5682 Jewish), the Kemal Ataturk’s Turkish army entered Izmir (Smyrna) (the wealthiest of Ottoman cities) and liberated it from the Greek occupation which started on May 15, 1919.
British troops began to occupy the key buildings of the Ottoman Sultanate in Constantinople and arrest nationalists after the establishment of military rule on the night of March 15, 1920. Britain officially dismissed the Ottoman Sultanate’s parliament on March 16, 1920 and restored it on September 9, 1922 (Muharram 16, 1341 Hijri) (Elul 16, 5682 Jewish) to the Ankara Turkish Government.

The Turkish forces of Mustafa Kemal Ataturk defeated and expelled the Greek forces from Anatolia in September 1922. A revolution in Greece overthrew the Greek monarchy on September 27, 1922. Italy and French moved toward not confronting the national liberation movement of Turkey. Mudanya Armistice between Turkey, on the one hand, and Italy, France, and Britain, on the other hand, was signed on October 11, 1922. All of these developments left Britain in a bad position. On October 19, 1922 (Safar 27, 1341 Hijri), the government of Lloyd George in Britain collapsed and Lloyd George resigned as Prime Minister for mishandling the Turkish crisis.

On October 19, 1922 (Safar 27, 1341 Hijri), Refet Bele Pasha, an army commander and representative of the Ankara Turkish Government loyal to Kemal Ataturk, arrived to Istanbul with a small armed force to gradually take over the administration of the city. They were greeted with a welcoming reception by the people of Istanbul. He met Ottoman Sultan Mohammad VI (also known as Waheed Eddeen), who had nothing left to do but abide by the decisions of the government in Ankara. Soon after this meeting, on November 1, 1922 (Rabi Awwal 11, 1341 Hijri) (Heshvan 10, 5683 Jewish) (2423,359.5th or 2423,360th Julian Day) (474, 921st or 474,922nd Hijri Day), the Ottoman Sultanate was separated from the Caliphate and the Sultanate was abolished. The abolition of the Ottoman Sultanate effectively ended the Ottoman Empire, which had lasted since 1299.

On November 11, 1922, at the Conference of Lausanne, the Government in Ankara was recognized. Turkey refused to allow him to be buried in Turkey. So, his corpse remained several months in Italy. Finally, Syria agreed to allow him to be buried in Syria. His coffin was transported to Beirut and then to Damascus where he was buried on February 21, 1927 (Shaban 19, 1345 Hijri) in a historic mosque built by the Ottomans. President of Syria attended his burial ceremony. Mohammad VI was born on January 14, 1861 (Rajab 3, 1277 Hijri). He was a brother of Sultan Abd-Al-Hamid II and a descendant of Mohammad II who conquered Constantinople on May 29, 1453.

Comet Hale – Bopp was discovered after midnight, in the early hours of July 23, 1995 (Safar 25, 1416 Hijri) (Tammuz 25, 5755 Jewish Calendar) (2449,922nd Julian Day) independently by two observers in the U.S., Alan Hale in New Mexico and Thomas Bopp in Arizona. Comet Hale – Bopp was perhaps the most widely observed comet of the 20th century and one of the brightest seen for many decades. It was visible, to the naked eye, for a record 18 months, twice as long as the previous record holder, the Great Comet of 1811. Hale–Bopp became visible to the naked eye in May 1996.

Hale–Bopp had its closest approach to Earth on March 22, 1997. As it passed perihelion on April 1, 1997 (Zu Al-Qada 23, 1417 Hijri) the comet developed into a spectacular sight. It shone brighter than any star in the sky except Sirius, and its dust tail stretched 40–45 degrees across the sky. The comet was visible well before the sky got fully dark each night, and while many great comets are very close to the Sun as they pass perihelion, comet Hale–Bopp was visible all night to northern hemisphere observers. The last naked-eye observations were reported in the Southern Hemisphere in December 1997, which meant that the comet had remained visible without aid for 569 days, or about 18 and a half months.

Pope Benedict XV (real name was: Giacomo Paolo Giovanni Battista della Chiesa) was born on November 21, 1854 (Safar 29, 1271 Hijri) and died on January 2, 1922 (Rabi Thani 2, 1341 Hijri). He served as Pope from September 3, 1914 (Shawwal 12, 1332 Hijri) until his death in 1922.

8 years are equal to 417 weeks + 3 days, meaning 2922 days (equivalent to 922) (= 2 x 3 x 487) (2922 is the 2499th Composite Number) (3401 is the 2922nd Composite Number)

The following historical events happened around 922nd – 923rd Julian Day:

(a) The Fourth Crusade siege of Constantinople started on April 8, 1204 (Shaban 6, 600 Hijri) (Iyar 6, 4964 Jewish) (2160,916.5th or 2160,917th Julian Day) and ended by conquering it on April 12, 1204 (Shaban 10, 600 Hijri) (Iyar 10, 4964 Jewish) (2160,921.5 or 2160,922nd Julian Day).

(b) At night, on January 25, 1938 (Zu Al-Qada 23, 1356 Hijri) (Shevat 23, 5698 Jewish) (2428,923.5 Julian Day), a strange display of lights (accompanied by a crackling sound, attributable to discharges of atmospheric energy) was visible across Europe and North America. Many people thought, it was fire, war, or End of the World. Telephone systems were tied up, wire services were disrupted, and all trans-atlantic radio communication was down until nearly midnight. This phenomenon is regarded as fulfillment of the sign that will precede the Second World War mentioned in the Second Secret revealed to the 3 children in Fatima, Portugal:

(c) On January 31, 1990 (Rajab 5, 1410 Hijri) (Shevat 5, 5750 Jewish) (2447,922.5th Julian Day), Dr. Rashad Khalifa (who pointed the significance of no. 19 and later claimed to be a Messenger of God) was stabbed to death in Arizona.

(d) Comet Hale – Bopp was discovered after midnight, in the early hours of July 23, 1995 (Safar 25, 1416 Hijri) (Tammuz 25, 5755 Jewish Calendar) (2449,922nd Julian Day)

(e) On Monday, September 22, 2014 (Zu Al-Qada 27, 1435 Hijri) (Elul 27, 5774 Jewish), the first day of the academic year, Turkey announced allowing girls to wear Hijab in public schools for the first time since Kemal Ataturk banned wearing the Hijab. September 22, 2014 is 2456, 922.5th Julian Day. In addition, September 22 can be perfectly symbolized by 922 because it is the 22nd day of the 9th month. Turkey's lifting the ban on Hijab represents Turkey's return to Islam and may serve as a sign the beginning of the End Times is approaching.

(f) On Tuesday, September 23, 2014 (Zu Al-Qada 28, 1435 Hijri) (Elul 28, 5774 Jewish) (2456, 923.5th Julian Day) at 3:30 a.m. local time in Syria [September 22, 2014 (Zu Al-Qada 27, 1435 Hijri) at 8:30 p.m. Eastern Time in the U.S.], an international coalition of countries (including some Arab countries) started airstrikes against ISIS in Syria.

(b) On November 1, 1922 (Rabi Awwal 11, 1341 Hijri) (Heshvan 10, 5683 Jewish) (2423,359.5th or 2423,360th Julian Day) (474, 921st or 474,922nd Hijri Day), the Ottoman Sultanate was separated from the Caliphate and the Sultanate was abolished.

However, there were still delays over the settlement of other minor issues till July 23, 1923 (Zu Al-Hijja 9, 1341 Hijri), the day on which Treaty of Lausanne was signed. It was a peace treaty between Turkey and the Allies, which was less harsh on Turkey than Treaty of Sevres. French troops started the Allies’ occupation of Istanbul (Constantinople) on November 12, 1918 (Safar 7, 1337 Hijri), followed by British troops on November 13, 1918. The last Allied forces left Constantinople (Istanbul) on October 6, 1923 (Safar 26, 1342 Hijri) (Tishri 26, 5684 Jewish) and on the same day the first Turkish troops entered the city.

Today, Turkey celebrates the Republic Day, as an official national holiday, annually on October 29.

Gibran Khalil Gibran is a Lebanese author, philosopher, and painter, born in Bsharri, Lebanon on January 6, 1883 Gregorian (December 25, 1882 Julian) (Safar 26, 1300 Hijri), but lived most of his life in the U.S., where he was known as Kahlil Gibran. Gibran Khalil Gibran is considered the third best selling poet in history, after Shakespeare and Lao Tse. His most famous book is titled “The Prophet”. This book has been translated to almost all main languages of the World and is considered one of the best selling books of the 20th Century. In this book, written in poetic prose, the Prophet, called Al-Mustafa (the Chosen) lived in a city called Orphalese, away from his Island homeland, for 12 years. On 7th day of September, before he was about to sail back to his homeland, people of Orphalese asked him questions about various topics and he replied with memorable, philosophical words of wisdom that are still frequently quoted today. The Prophet was first published on September 12, 1923, even though he started writing it in 1912. He died in New York, at the age of 48, on April 10, 1931 (Zu Al-Qada 23, 1349 Hijri) (Nisan 23, 5691 Jewish). An animated film based on this book was released in 2014. The book’s chapters were directed for the film by different directors from around the World, among them Paul and Gaëtan Brizzi (twin French directors). Alfred A. Knopf, the publisher of Gibran Khalil Gibran’s book “The Prophet”, was born on September 12, 1892 in New York, and died on August 11, 1984. He was the founder and longtime chairman of the prestigious publishing house Alfred A. Knopf, Inc. He was a Jew.

At night, on January 25, 1938 (Zu Al-Qada 23, 1356 Hijri) (Shevat 23, 5698 Jewish) (2428,923.5 Julian Day), a strange display of lights (accompanied by a crackling sound, attributable to discharges of atmospheric energy) was visible across Europe and North America. In London, two magnificent arcs appeared in the East and West, from which pulsating beams radiated like search-lights in dark red, greenish blue and purple colors. From an airplane, the display looked like "a shimmering curtain of fire." Many people thought, it was fire, war, or End of the World. Telephone systems were tied up, wire services were disrupted, and all trans-atlantic radio communication was down until nearly midnight. This phenomenon is regarded as fulfillment of the sign mentioned in the Second Secret revealed to the 3 children in Fatima, Portugal:

“The war (meaning World War I) is going to end. If people do not cease offending God, a worse one (meaning World War II) will break out during the pontificate of Pius XI. When you see a night illuminated by an unknown light, know that this is the great sign given to you by God that He is about to punish the World for its crimes, by means of war, famine, and persecutions of the Church and of the Holy Father (meaning the Pope).”

The last Ottoman Caliph was Abdul Majeed II, who was the 29th Ottoman Caliph, served from November 19, 1922 (Rabi Awwal 29, 1341 Hijri) till Monday, March 3, 1924 (Rajab 27 (or 26), 1342 Hijri) (Adar 27, 5684 Jewish Calendar) (2423,847.5 or 2423,848th Julian Day), the day on which the Ottoman Caliphate was abolished. On the next day, March 4, 1924, he and his family had to leave Turkey. He chose to go to Paris, France and he died there on August 23, 1944 (Ramadan 4, 1363 Hijri) which coincided with liberation of France from Nazi occupation. The sultan’s descendants were not allowed to enter Turkey. The female members of the Ottoman dynasty were not allowed to return to Turkey till June 16, 1952 (Ramadan 23, 1371 Hijri). The males remained barred from returning to Turkey until 1974 when the Turkish Grand National Assembly granted them the right to acquire Turkish citizenship if they requested. The last surviving heir to the past Ottoman throne, Mr. Ertugrul Osman, who was 4th in line to the throne, died in Istanbul on September 23, 2009 (Tishri 5, 5770 Jewish), at the age of 97.

On April 20, 1924, the Turkish Parliament adopted a new constitution.

After Ottoman Caliphate was abolished on March 3, 1924, Al-Hussein son of Ali, claimed the title of the Caliph on March 7, 1924. Six months later, Al-Hussein son of Ali was forced to abdicate all of his secular titles in favour of his eldest son Ali on Friday, October 3, 1924 (at night, the eve of October 4) (Rabi Awwal 5, 1343 Hijri) (Tishri 5, 5685 Jewish) (2424,061.5th Julian Day) due to his defeat against the advancing forces of Abdul Aziz Al-Saud, the Sultan of Najd at that time (who later on established the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia). This effectively turned out to be the end of the Islamic Caliphate because neither Al-Hussein’s son, Ali nor Abdul Aziz Al-Saud proclaimed to be Caliph of Muslims. Al-Hussein son of Ali was the last credible person to have claimed to be Caliph of all Muslims. Abdul Aziz Al-Saud captured Mecca on October 13, 1924 (Rabi’ Awwal 14, 1343 Hijri) (Tishri 15, 5685 Jewish Calendar) (2424,071.5th Julian Calendar). Medina surrendered to Abdul Aziz's forces on December 12 (or 5), 1925. King Ali son Al-Hussein abdicated the throne on December 19, 1925 (Jumada Thania 2, 1344 Hijri) and fled to Iraq on December 22, 1925. Jeddah fell on December 23, 1925, but Abdul Aziz’s forces entered it on Friday, January 8, 1926 (Jumada Thania 22 (or 23), 1344 Hijri). On January 10, 1926 (Jumada Thania 24 (or 25), 1344 Hijri), Abdul Aziz declared himself King of the Hijaz. On January 27, 1927 (Rajab 24, 1345 Hijri), he added the title of King of Najd (his previous title was Sultan of Najd), and elevated the status of Najd from Sultanate to Kingdom. For the next five years, he administered the two parts of his dual kingdom as separate units. By the Treaty of Jeddah, signed on May 20, 1927, Britain recognized the independence of Abdul-Aziz's realm (then known as the Kingdom of Hijaz and Kingdom of Najd). On September 23, 1932 (Jumada Ula 22 (or 21, 1351 Hijri) (Elul 22, 5692 Jewish), the Kingdom of Najd and the Kingdom of Hijaz were united to form the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and Abdul Aziz became the King of Saudi Arabia. That is why today, the Saudi National Day is celebrated annually on September 23. Al-Hussein son of Ali was forced to live in exile in Cyprus where he suffered a stroke. Only then, he was allowed to move to Amman, Jordan, where he died on June 4, 1931 (Muharram 19 (or 18), 1350 Hijri) and was buried in the Aqsa Mosque in Jerusalem.

The King of Saudi Arabia, Abdullah bin Abdulaziz Al Saud, was born on August 1, 1924 (Zu Al-Hijja 29, 1342 Hijri) (Av 1, 5684 Jewish). He died on January 23, 2015 (Rabi Thani 3, 1436 Hijri).

Vladimir Lenin was born April 22, 1870 (Muharram 20, 1287 Hijri) and died on January 21, 1924 (Jumada Thania 13, 1342 Hijri).

The Turkish National Assembly adopted a resolution to fund a project to translate the Quran into Turkish to make reading and recitation of the Quran in Turkish instead of Arabic on February 21, 1925 (Rajab 27, 1343 Hijri). In December 1931, Mustafa Kemal Atatürk commissioned a group of 9 Turkish Islamic scholars to prepare for the Azan to be recited in Turkish. The first Azan in Turkish, instead of Arabic, was chanted on January 29, 1932 by Hafiz Rifat in Fatih Mosque in Istanbul. On February 3, 1932, on the night of Laila of the Qadr, the Azan, Takbir and the Quran recitation were done in Turkish in Hagia Sophia Mosque in Istanbul. On July 18, 1932, the Ministry of Religious Affairs in Turkey issued a decree that the Azan must be chanted in Turkish. In 1941, the Turkish Parliament passed a legislation which stated that “Reading the adhan in Arabic could lead to up to three months’ imprisonment or fined from 10 TL up to 200 TL.”

On July 11, 1927 (Muharram 11, 1346 Hijri) (Tammuz 11, 5687 Jewish), an earthquake in Palestine of 6.2 to 6.25 on the Richter scale in magnitude, happened at 3:08 pm local time. It was a devastating event that shook the Palestine and Transjordan regions. The epicenter of the earthquake was in the northern area of the Dead Sea. The cities of Jerusalem, Jericho, Ramle, Tiberias, and Nablus were heavily damaged. At least 500 were estimated to have been killed. The earthquake also caused heavy damage to Al-Aqsa Mosque, Dome of the Rock Mosque, and Church of the Holy Sepulchre.

On September 11, 1927 (Rabi Awwal 14, 1346 Hijri) (Elul 14, 5687 Jewish), at 22:15 UTC, an earthquake struck Crimea with a moment magnitude of 6.7 at a depth of 35 kilometres (22 miles). According to experts, the epicenter was located under the sea, south of Yalta, and stretched along the coast. This earthquake was followed by aftershocks that also generated a tsunami. The series of aftershocks, which occurred during the night of September 11 - 12, caused tremendous damage. The strength of the tremors reached 9 points. The earthquake caused the death of more than 60 people. The houses were bursting glass, plaster falling off, cracked floors and ceilings, rattling iron sheets on the roofs, chimneys fell. Following this quake, natural gas that was released from the sea floor created flames that were visible along the coastline, and was accompanied by bright flashes and explosions. Numerous, very large flames were seen offshore Sevastopol, Cape Lucullus, and Yalta in the early morning of the next day. Several types of fire and flame were described by witnesses. Pale flames were up to 2,000 meters (6,600 ft) wide and up to 500 meters (1,600 ft) in height, and were visible for several minutes at a time. Other flames began with a whitish glow and became bright red; this style of flame sometimes burned for more than an hour. Bright flashes and explosions were also reported. The flames and explosions were attributed to methane or other hydrocarbon gasses that had been released from the seabed and spontaneously combusted in Phosphine (a self-igniting gas).

The 1928 treaty, of a series of Anglo-Trans-Jordanian Treaties, was concluded on February 20, 1928 (Shaban 29, 1346 Hijri), in Jerusalem. It gave certain legislative and executive authority to the emir and at the same time strengthened British control over Trans-Jordan’s foreign, financial, and concessions policy. The treaty also gave Great Britain the right to maintain a certain number of troops in the country and to proclaim martial law.

The final plan for the new Philadelphia Museum of Art (which resembles the "Parthenon in its design) were finally adopted in March 1917. Within a month of the design’s acceptance, however, the United States entered World War I. As the war progressed, building materials gradually became unavailable and actual construction on the new Museum did not begin until July 1919 when Mayor Thomas B. Smith laid the cornerstone of the main building in a Masonic ceremony. The construction continued for the next 9 years. By 1923, the terracing of the granite hill on which the Museum was to stand had been completed. The foundations of the building, as well as the broad, now iconic steps leading up to it from street level, had been laid. The new Museum opened to the public on March 26, 1928 (Shawwal 4, 1346 Hijri).

On April 10, 1928 (Shawwal 19, 1346 Hijri), Turkey became secular and a constitutional provision that used to declare Islam as official religion was deleted.

In Turkey, at the time of President Kemal Ataturk, the language revolution to replace the Arabic script of the Turkish language with Latin script officially began in 1928. In May 1928, numbers written in Arabic were replaced with their Western equivalents. On November 1, 1928 (Jumada Ula 17, 1347 Hijri), the Grand National Assembly approved the new Latin alphabet of Turkish language that had been devised by a committee of scholars. Many members of the assembly favored gradually introducing the new letters over a period up to five years. However, Ataturk insisted that the transition last only a few months, and his opinion prevailed. On January 1, 1929 (Rajab 19, 1347 Hijri), it became unlawful to use the Arabic alphabet to write in Turkish language.

Construction of the Sanctuary of Fatima in Portugal started on May 13 1928 (Zu Al-Qada 23, 1346 Hijri) (Iyar 23, 5688 Jewish). The Sanctuary of Fatima was opened and consecrated on October 7, 1953 (Muharram 28, 1373 Hijri) (Tishri 28, 5714 Jewish).

In 326 AD, Emperor Constantine built a Basilica over St. Peter's tomb. Construction of The current St. Peter's Basilica started in 1506 and it was consecrated in 1626.

Emperor Constantine moved the capital of the Roman Empire from Rome to Constantinople in 330 AD. Emperor of the Eastern Roman Empire, Justinian, while residing in Constantinople, officially issued a decree, proclaiming Bishop of Rome (meaning the Pope) to be supreme in religious matters and the Universal Pontiff. Since then, the Pope has assumed the garb of representative of Jesus Christ on Earth.

The Battle of the Allia which happened on July 18, 390 (or 387) AD, was fought between the Senones, one of the Gallic tribes which had invaded northern Italy, and the Romans. It was fought at the confluence of the rivers Tiber and Allia, eleven Roman miles north of Rome. The Romans were routed and subsequently the Senones sacked Rome.

The Sack of Rome on August 24, 410 AD happened when the city was attacked by the Visigoths led by King Alaric. At that time, Rome was no longer the capital of the Western Roman Empire, having been replaced in that position by Ravenna (near Venice) in 402 AD. Nevertheless, the city of Rome retained a paramount position as "the eternal city" and a spiritual center of the Empire. This was the first time in almost 800 years that Rome had fallen to a foreign enemy. This sack of Rome lasted 3 days.
The Sack of Rome which started on June 2, 455 Julian (June 3, 455 Gregorian) lasted for 14 days. It was conducted by the Vandals (Germanic tribes) coming in a fleet from Carthage (in today’s Tunis). After Western Roman Emperor Petronius Maximus at that time started his reign on March 17, 455, he married Licinia Eudoxia, the widow of the previous Emperor Valentinian III, and later infuriated the King of Vandals Genseric when he cancelled the betrothal of Licinia’s daughter to the son of the Genseric. The Vandals’ fleet landed in Italy on May 31, 455. As Maximus was attempting to flee from Rome on May 31, 455, he was captured and stoned to death by an angry group of people. At that time, Rome was no longer the capital of the Western Roman Empire, having been replaced in that position by Ravenna (near Venice) in 402 AD. The Vandal tribes had moved through Gaul, settled for a time in Iberia, and were finally forced to move to the Roman province of North Africa in 430 AD. In addition, the Vandals allied themselves with the indigenous Berber tribes which had opposed the Roman occupation of North Africa for 500 years. Pope Leo begged King Genseric of the Vandals not to destroy the Rome or to murder its people and King Genseric agreed. All of Rome’s gates were opened, and an army of 10,000 to 20,000 Vandals and Berbers was allowed to enter and take away what they wanted. Gold, silver, jewels, statuary, and anything perceived as valuable were taken. The Vandals even stripped the Temple of Jupiter Capitolinus (the greatest temple in the Roman World) of its treasures. Every church in the city was emptied of its treasures. In an interesting twist to history, the Vandals took back to North Africa the loot of Jerusalem and the Second Jewish Temple that had been taken by Emperor Titus to Rome in the year 70 AD when the Second Jewish Temple was destroyed by the Romans.

The ancient Western Roman Empire ended, when Romulus Augustus, the last Emperor of the Western Roman Empire, was deposed by Odoacer, a Germanic chieftain on September 4, 476 AD (Elul 28, 4236 Hijri).

The Ostrogoths maintained their strong control of Rome which prevented the popes to have much power. Pope Vigilius in 538 AD, the second year of his reign, benefited from the defeat of the Ostrogoths and their consequent expulsion from Italy when Pope Vigilius became the first Pope enabled to exercise as well as to hold the powerful titles of Pontifex Maximus (pagan title which means “Bridge builder between Heaven and Earth”) and Universal Bishop. This Papal power lasted 1260 years from 538 AD till 1798 AD when Napoleon’s French forces marched to Rome.

The Sack of Rome on December 17, 546 AD was carried out by the Gothic king Totila during the Gothic War of 535 AD –554 AD between the Ostrogoths and the Byzantine Empire. Totila was based at Tivoli and, in pursuit of his quest to reconquer the region of Latium, he moved against Rome. The city endured a siege lasting almost a year before falling to the Goths on December 17, 546 AD.

The Sack of Rome of May 1084 was a Norman sack, the result of the pope's call for aid from the Duke of Apulia, Robert Guiscard. Pope Gregory VII was besieged in the Castel Sant'Angelo by the Emperor Henry IV in June 1083. He held out and called for aid from Robert Guiscard, who was then fighting the Byzantine Emperor Alexius I Comnenus in the Balkans. However, Robert Guiscard returned to Italy and marched north with 36,000 men. He entered Rome and forced Emperor Henry IV to retire, but a riot of the citizens led to a three days sack, after which Guiscard escorted the Pope to the Lateran.
The Sack of Rome on May 6, 1527 Julian (May 16, 1527 Gregorian) (Shaban 5, 933 Hijri) (Sivan 6, 5287 Jewish) was a military event carried out by the mutinous troops of Charles V, Holy Roman Emperor in Rome, then part of the Papal States. It marked a crucial imperial victory in the conflict between Charles and the League of Cognac (1526 –1529) — the alliance of France, Milan, Venice, Florence and the Papacy. Pope Clement VII had given his support to the Kingdom of France in an attempt to alter the balance of power in the region, and free the Papacy from dependency, i.e. a growing weakness to "Imperial domination" by the Holy Roman Empire (and the Habsburg dynasty).

Napoleon’s French forces marched to Rome, entered it unopposed on Saturday, February 10, 1798 (Shaban 24 or 23, 1212 Hijri) (Shevat 24, 5558 Jewish) (2377.806.5th Julian Day), proclaimed a Roman Republic on February 15, 1798 (Shaban 29, 1212 Hijri) (Shevat 29, 5558 Jewish) (2377, 806.5th Julian Day), demanded of Pope Pius VI the renunciation of his temporal power, and upon Pope Pius VI’s refusal, he was taken prisoner. February 15 was the 23rd anniversary of Pope Pius VI’s election as Pope on February 15, 1775. On February 20, 1798 (Ramadan 5 or 4, 1212 Hijri), Pope Pius VI was sent by Napoleon from the Vatican to Siena, and afterwards to Certosa, near Florence. He died in prison, on August 29, 1799, having then reigned longer than any pope.

On May 18, 1804 Gregorian (May 6, 1804 Julian) (Safar 7, 1219 Hijri) (Sivan 8, 5564 Jewish) (2380.094.5th or 2380,095th Julian Day), the French Senate vested the Republican government in an Emperor and approved granting Napoleon the title “Emperor of the French”. Not content with this secular appointment, Napoleon wanted a religious consecration. On December 2, 1804 (Shaban 29, 1219 Hijri), Napoleon Bonaparte was consecrated as emperor by Pope Pius VII, like Charlemagne was consecrated by a Pope Leo III in 800 AD, but Pope Pius VII had to leave the Vatican and come to France to perform the consecration ceremony at Notre-Dame de Paris Cathedral. Napoleon placed the crown on his head by himself, facing the congregation, rather than the high altar to mark his independence from the Church.

On July 12, 1806 (Rabi Thani 26, 1221 Hijri) (Tammuz 26, 5566 Jewish), sixteen states in present-day Germany left the Holy Roman Empire and joined together in a confederation called "Confederation of the Rhine", with Napoleon as their Protector.

On August 6, 1806 (Jumada Ula 21, 1221 Hijri) (Av 22, 5566 Jewish), following an ultimatum by Napoleon, the Austrian Emperor Francis II proclaimed himself as Emperor of Austria only and gave up the title of Emperor of Germany and the title of Holy Roman Emperor, effectively dissolving Holy Roman Empire founded by Charlemagne in 800 A.D.

On May 17, 1809 (Rabi Thani 2, 1224 Hijri) (Sivan 2, 5569 Jewish) (2381,919.5th or 2381,920th Julian Day), Napoleon annexed the Italian Papal States to the French Empire. On June 10, 1809, Pope Pius VII made public a bull of excommunication of those involved in the annexation, including Napoleon. Around 3:00 AM on Thursday, July 6, 1809 (Jumada Ula 22, 1224 Hijri) (Tammuz 22, 5569 Jewish) (2381,969.5th Julian Day), Pope Pius VII was arrested and remained imprisoned.

After Napoleon's army was defeated in the Battle of Paris on March 31, 1814 (Rabi Thani 10, 1229 Hijri) (Nisan 10, 5574 Jewish) and Napoleon abdicated on April 11, 1814 (Rabi Thani 20, 1229 Hijri) (Nisan 21, 5574 Jewish), Pope Pius VII returned to Rome in May 24, 1814 (Jumada Thania 5, 1229 Hijri). Napoleon escaped from Elba on February 26, 1815 (Rabi Awwal 16, 1230 Hijri) (Adar I 16, 5575 Jewish), landed in France on March 1, 1815, and entered Paris on March 20, 1815 (Rabi Thani 8, 1230 Hijri) (Adar II 8, 5575 Jewish). Pope Pius VII left Rome to Genoa during the “100 Days” after Napoleon escaped from Elba. Pope Pius VII returned finally to Rome on June 7, 1815 (Jumada Thania 28, 1230 Hijri) (Iyar 28, 5575 Jewish). Napoleon was defeated in the Battle of Waterloo on June 18, 1815 (Rajab 10, 1230 Hijri) (Sivan 10, 5575 Jewish). Napoleon abdicated, in favor of his son Napoleon II, 4 days later on June 22, 1815. In the meantime, the Provisional Government deposed his son and tried to negotiate a conditional surrender with the Coalition powers. They failed to obtain any significant concessions from the Coalition who insisted on a military surrender. On the July 7, 1815 (Rajab 29, 1230 Hijri) (Sivan 29, 5575 Jewish), coalition forces entered Paris. Napoleon was notified of his exile to St. Helena on July 31, 1815 (Shaban 23, 1230 Hijri) (Tammuz 23, 5575 Jewish). On August 8, 1815 (Ramadan 1 (or 2), 1230 Hijri) (Av 2, 5575 Jewish), early in the morning, a British ship called “The Northumberland”, carrying Napoleon Bonaparte, set sail to Island of Saint Helena for his last exile.

Following Treaty of Chaumont in 1814 and the Treaty of Paris (signed on May 30, 1814), the Congress of Vienna, a conference of representatives of European states, including Russia, was held in Vienna from September 1814 to June 1815 to re-organize Europe after the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars. The immediate background was Napoleonic France's defeat and surrender in May 1814, which brought an end to 25 years of nearly continuous war. Negotiations continued despite the outbreak of fighting triggered by Napoleon's dramatic return from exile and resumption of power in France during the Hundred Days of March–July 1815. Congress of Vienna ended on June 8, 1815 (Jumada Thania 29, 1230 Hijri) (Iyar 29, 5575 Jewish). The General Treaty of the Final Act of the Congress of Vienna embodying all the separate treaties, was signed on June 9, 1815 (Rajab 1, 1230 Hijri) (Sivan 1, 5575 Jewish), just 9 days before Napoleon's final defeat at the Battle of Waterloo on June 18, 1815 (Rajab 10, 1230 Hijri) (Sivan 10, 5575 Jewish). The objective of the Congress was to provide a long-term peace plan for Europe by settling critical issues arising from the French Revolutionary Wars and the Napoleonic Wars. The goal was not simply to restore old boundaries between European countries, but to resize the main powers so they could balance each other off and remain at peace. The Congress of Vienna was the first of a series of international meetings which attempted to forge a peaceful balance of power in Europe. The Congress of Vienna was the first occasion in history where, on a continental scale, national representatives came together to formulate treaties, instead of relying mostly on messages between the several capitals. Congress of Vienna was the first genuine attempt to create an international order based upon consensus rather than conflict. It served as a model for later organizations such as the League of Nations in 1919 and the United Nations in 1945. Congress of Vienna prevented another widespread European war for nearly a hundred years from 1815 till the outbreak of World War I in 1914. The treaty that resulted from Congress of Vienna was the most-comprehensive treaty Europe had ever seen. The Congress of Vienna resulted in the consolidation of Germany from the nearly 300 states of the Holy Roman Empire (dissolved in 1806) into a much less complex system of 39 states (4 of which were free cities). These states formed a loose German Confederation under the leadership of Prussia and Austria. The Papal States were restored to the Pope. As Austrian troops withdrew from Rome, the temporal power of the Pope was restored. Pope Pius VII entered Rome, coming back from Genoa, on June 7, 1815 (Jumada Thania 28, 1230 Hijri) (Iyar 28, 5575 Jewish), where he was staying as a refuge from Napoleon.
During the Second Italian War of Independence, much of the Papal States had been conquered by the Piedmontese Army. The Kingdom of Italy was created on February 18, 1861 (Shaban 7, 1277 Hijri), and officially on March 17, 1861 (Ramadan 5 or 6, 1277 Hijri). On March 27, 1861 (Ramadan 15, 1277 Hijri), the Parliament declared Rome the Capital of the Kingdom of Italy. However, the Italian government could not take its seat in Rome because it did not control the territory. In addition, a French garrison was maintained in the city by Napoleon III of France in support of Pope Pius IX. The Franco-Prussian War started on July 19, 1870. After the Battle of Sedan fought between France and Prussia on September 1, 1870, the situation changed radically. It resulted in the surrender and capture of Emperor Napoleon III and large numbers of his troops on September 2, 1870. The French lost over 17,000 men killed and wounded with 21,000 captured. On September 4, 1870, with disgraced emperor in captivity, the French Emperor was deposed. The new French government was clearly in no position to retaliate against Italy, nor did it possess the political will to protect the Pope's position. King of Italy, Victor Emmanuel II sent Conte Gustavo Ponza di San Martino as a delegate to Pope Pius IX with a personal letter, offering a face-saving proposal that would have allowed the peaceful entry of the Italian Army into Rome. The Pope would retain the inviolability and prerogatives attaching to him as a sovereign. The Leonine city would remain under the full jurisdiction and sovereignty of the Pope. The envoy of King Victor Emmanuel II headed to Rome on September 9, 1870 and met with Cardinal Antonelli (Secretary of State) that same evening. The negotiations lasted till September 10, 1870. The Pope’s reception of the envoy sent King Victor Emmanuel II on September 10, 1870 was unfriendly. The Pope said: “you will never enter Rome”. The Italian army of 60,000 soldiers, commanded by General Raffaele Cadorna, crossed the papal frontier on September 11 and advanced toward Rome. By September 19, Italian army was just outside Rome ready for entry. On September 20, 1870 (Jumada Thania 23, 1287 Hijri) (Elul 24, 5630 Jewish), after a limited battle, the Italian army of the Kingdom of Italy entered Rome. The next day, on September 21, 1870 (Jumada Thania 24, 1287 Hijri) (Elul 25, 5630 Jewish) (2404,326.5th Julian Day), the Italian army entered Leonine City, including the Vatican, seat of the Pope. Leonine City is the part of the city of Rome surrounded by the Leonine Wall from 3 sides and by the Tiber River on the 4th side. The Vatican is within the enclosed area. This is the end of the Papal State which was later revived through Lateran Treaty.

Lateran Treaty between the Pope and the Kingdom of Italy was signed in Lateran Palace, by Benito Mussolini, Prime Minister of Italy, representing the Italian government, on February 11, 1929 (Shaban 29, 1347 Hijri) (Adar 1, 5689 Jewish) (2425,653.5th Julian Day), was ratified by the Parliament of Italy, and became effective on June 7, 1929 (Zu Al-Hijja 28, 1347 Hijri) (Iyar 28, 5689 Jewish) (2425,769.5th Julian Day), establishing City of the Vatican as an independent State. In this treaty, Italy recognized papal sovereignty over the Vatican, and in return, the papacy recognized the Kingdom of Italy, with Rome as its capital. Since September 20 – 21, 1870, when the Italian army entered Rome and the Vatican and ended the Papal State, the Pope was a virtual prisoner in the Vatican, never leaving it, for 59 years until Lateran Treaty was signed. On February 18, 1984 (Jumada Ula 15, 1404 Hijri) (Adar I 15, 5744 Jewish), the Vatican and Italy signed a new treaty (Concordat) to replace Lateran Treaty. This new treaty became effective on on June 3, 1985 (Ramadan 14, 1405 Hijri) (Sivan 14, 5745 Jewish). In the new treaty, for the sake of establishing freedom of religion in Italy, Roman Catholicism no longer remained as the state religion of Italy. The Vatican became more independent without legal ties to Italy which opened the door for the Vatican to become a full-fledged member of the United Nations (U.N.). Furthermore, Rome ceased to be considered as a “Holy City”.

Both of the Prime Minister and the King of Italy approved Italy’s surrender to the Allies through an armistice on September 1, 1943 (Shaban 29, 1362 Hijri) (Elul 1, 1362 Jewish). Italy signed the secret Cassibile Armistice with the Allies in an Allied military base in Cassibile, Sicily on September 3, 1943 (Ramadan 2, 1362 Hijri) (Elul 3, 1362 Jewish). U.S. General Eisenhower publicly announces the surrender of Italy on September 8, 1943 (Ramadan 10, 1362 Hijri) (Elul 10, 1362 Jewish). Italy declared war on Germany on October 13, 1943 (Shawwal 14 (or 13), 1362 Hijri) (Tishri 14, 5704 Jewish). On November 5, 1943 (Zu Al-Qada 7, 1362 Hijri), at 8:10 pm, a single plane of the Allies dropped four bombs on the Vatican, on the area south-west of Saint Peter's Basilica, destroying a mosaic studio near the Vatican railway station and breaking the windows of the high cupola of St. Peter's Basilica, and nearly destroying Vatican Radio; however, there were no fatalities.

On June 4, 1944 (Jumada Thania 13, 1363 Hijri) (Sivan 13, 5704 Jewish), the American forces took possession of Rome. Rome had been declared an open city by the German Army so no resistance was encountered. On June 5, 1944, Italy’s King Victor Emmanuel turned over his remaining powers to his son Umberto and named him Lieutenant General of the Realm.

Yasir Arafat was born on August 24, 1929 (Rabi Awwal 18, 1348 Hijri). On July 24, 1995, Arafat's wife Suha gave birth to a daughter in France. Following a meal, he became very ill with nausea, vomiting, and abdominal pain on October 12, 2004 (Shaban 27, 1425 Hijri). He arrived to Paris, France, for medical treatment at the Percy Military Hospital on October 29, 2004. He fell into a coma on November 4, 2014. He died in France on November 11, 2004 (Ramadan 27, 1425 Hijri) (2453, 320.5th Julian day).

Gibran Khalil Gibran is a Lebanese author, philosopher, and painter, born in Bsharri, Lebanon on January 6, 1883 Gregorian (December 25, 1882 Julian) (Safar 26, 1300 Hijri), but lived most of his life in the U.S., where he was known as Kahlil Gibran. Gibran Khalil Gibran is considered the third best selling poet in history, after Shakespeare and Lao Tse. His most famous book is titled “The Prophet”. This book has been translated to almost all main languages of the World and is considered one of the best selling books of the 20th Century. In this book, written in poetic prose, the Prophet, called Al-Mustafa (the Chosen) lived in a city called Orphalese, away from his Island homeland, for 12 years. On 7th day of September, before he was about to sail back to his homeland, people of Orphalese asked him questions about various topics and he replied with memorable, philosophical words of wisdom that are still frequently quoted today. His book, The Prophet, was first published on September 12, 1923, even though he started writing it in 1912. He died in New York, at the age of 48, on April 10, 1931 (Zu Al-Qada 23, 1349 Hijri). An animated film based on this book was released in 2014. The book’s chapters were directed for the film by different directors from around the World, among them Paul and Gaëtan Brizzi (twin French directors).

- Hagia Sophia (in Greek language, it is called Aya Sophia, meaning “Holy Wisdom”) in Constantinople served as the Byzantine Orthodox Patriarchal Cathedral of Constantinople (comparable to St. Peter’s Basilica in the Vatican). Hagia Sophia was inaugurated on February 15, 360 AD (Adar 12, 4120 Jewish) during the reign of Emperor Constantius II. A fire, that accompanied riots, burned down Hagia Sophia in June 404 AD. A new church was ordered to be rebuilt by Theodosius II, who inaugurated the second Hagia Sophia on October 10, 415 AD (Tishri 21, 4176 Jewish). A fire burned the second Hagia Sophia to the ground on January 13 – 14, 532 AD (Shevat 20 – 21, 4292 Jewish). On February 23, 532 AD (Adar II 1, 4292 Jewish), only a few weeks after the destruction of the second Hagia Sophia, Emperor Justinian I decided to build a third basilica, larger and more majestic than its predecessors. More than ten thousand workers were employed in the construction. Emperor Justinian I and Patriarch Menas inaugurated the third Hagia Sophia on December 27, 537 (Teveth 8, 4298 Jewish). Earthquakes in August 553 and on December 14, 557 AD (Teveth 6, 4318 Jewish) caused cracks in the main dome and eastern half-dome. The main dome collapsed completely during a subsequent earthquake on May 7, 558 AD (Sivan 3, 4318 Jewish). After the great earthquake of October 25, 989 AD (Rajab 22, 379 Hijri), which collapsed the Western dome arch, the extent of the damage required six years of repair and reconstruction until the church was re-opened on May 13, 994 AD Julian (May 18, 994 Gregorian) (Rabi Thani 1, 384 Hijri) (Sivan 1, 4754 Jewish). Upon the capture of Constantinople during the Fourth Crusade, the church was ransacked and desecrated by the Latin Christians. During the Latin occupation of Constantinople (from 1204 till 1261), the church became a Roman Catholic cathedral. Baldwin I of Constantinople was crowned as an emperor on May 16, 1204 (Ramadan 15, 600 Hijri) (Sivan 15, 4964 Jewish) in Hagia Sophia. New cracks developed in the dome of Hagia Sophia after the earthquake of October 1344. Later on, due to an earthquake on May 19, 1346 (Muharram 26, 747 Hijri) (Iyar 26, 5106 Jewish), several parts of Hagia Sophia collapsed. Consequently, the church was closed until 1354, when repairs were undertaken by architects Astras and Peralta. After the Ottomans conquered Constantinople on May 29, 1453 Julian (June 7, 1453 Gregorian) (Jumada Al-Ula 20, 857 Hijri) (Sivan 21, 5213 Jewish) (2251,914.5th 2251,915th Julian Day), Hagia Sophia was converted into a mosque, serving as the Cami-i Kebir “Grand Mosque” of the Ottoman sultans. After the end of the Ottoman Sultanate, at the time of the first President of Turkey, Kemal Ataturk, Hagia Sophia was closed for 4 years from 1931 until it was converted into a museum that opened on February 1, 1935 (Shawwal 26, 1353 Hijri). Hagia Sophia was converted into the Museum by the decree of the Council of Ministers dated November 24, 1934 (Shaban 17, 1353 Hijri).

Dr. Rashad Khalifa was born on November 19, 1935 (Shaban 23, 1354 Hijri) (Heshvan 23, 5696 Jewish) (2428,125.5th Julian Day) (479,687th Hijri Day) in Egypt, but obtained his Master’s degree and Ph.D. in BioChemistry from the U.S. and lived afterwards in the U.S. He did extensive research on the mathematical structure of the Quran. He advocated a hypothesis that everything in the Quran is structured around the number 19 and he pointed out the verse 30 of Sura 74 which mentions number “Nineteen” is significant. Because the number of verses of the Quran did not fit his hypothesis, he claimed that the last 2 verses of Sura 9 are not authentic verses and should be excluded from the Quran. He later claimed to be a Messenger of Allah. Such controversial findings and claims were rejected by many Muslim scholars. On February 19, 1989 (Rajab 13, 1409 Hijri) (Adar 14, 5749 Hijri), a group of 38 Muslim scholars met in Saudi Arabia to discuss the issue and position of Salman Rushdi. They issued a fatwa (a religious decree). The fatwa was very interesting: "both Rashad Khalifa and Salman Rushdi are apostates." On January 31, 1990 (Rajab 5, 1410 Hijri) (Shevat 5, 5750 Jewish) (2447,922.5th Julian Day) (499,484.5th Hijri Day), Rashad Khalifa was stabbed to death in Arizona. Nineteen years after the murder, on April 28, 2009 (Jumada Ula 4, 1430 Hijri) (Iyar 4, 5769 Jewish), the police in Calgary, Canada arrested Glen Francis, a 52-year-old citizen of Trinidad and Tobago, on suspicion of killing Rashad Khalifa. On December 19, 2012 (Safar 5, 1434 Hijri), the jury of his trial in the U.S., after a three-hour deliberation, found Glen Francis guilty of first-degree murder. Today, there is still a group called Submitters (which is a translation of the word “Muslims”) who follow his teachings.

Shortly before his death, Rashad Khalifa proclaimed:
"Through Gabriel: I was commanded to make this announcement:
After I die, millions of believers will know that I represent the Messiah whom the Jews have been waiting for, the Christ whom the Christians have been expecting, the Mahdi whom the Muslims have been praying for..."

At night, on January 25, 1938 (Zu Al-Qada 23, 1356 Hijri) (Shevat 23, 5698 Jewish) (2428,923.5 Julian Day), a strange display of lights (accompanied by a crackling sound, attributable to discharges of atmospheric energy) was visible across Europe and North America. In London, two magnificent arcs appeared in the East and West, from which pulsating beams radiated like search-lights in dark red, greenish blue and purple colors. From an airplane, the display looked like “a shimmering curtain of fire.” Many people thought, it was fire, war, or End of the World. Telephone systems were tied up, wire services were disrupted, and all trans-atlantic radio communication was down until nearly midnight. This phenomenon is regarded as fulfillment of the sign mentioned in the Second Secret revealed to the 3 children in Fatima, Portugal:

“The war (meaning World War I) is going to end. If people do not cease offending God, a worse one (meaning World War II) will break out during the pontificate of Pius XI. When you see a night illumined by an unknown light, know that this is the great sign given to you by God that He is about to punish the world for its crimes, by means of war, famine, and persecutions of the Church and of the Holy Father (meaning the Pope).”

This seemed indeed as a sign that the World War II is approaching. A week after this phenomenon, on February 4, 1938, Hitler promoted himself to military chief in Germany. A month later, Germany marched into Austria. Soon, Hitler was meeting with Mussolini in Italy. Not too long after, there was the invasion of Poland in 1939, which signaled the formal advent of the World War II.

World War II started on Friday, September 1, 1939 (Rajab 17, 1358 Hijri) (Elul 17, 5699 Jewish) (2429,508th Julian Day) when Germany invaded Poland, which led Britain and France to declare war on Germany in retaliation on September 3, 1939 (Rajab 19, 1358 Hijri) (Elul 19, 5699 Jewish). World War II ended on the day Japan signed its surrender agreement called Instrument of Surrender. This means the surrender took place on Saturday, September 1, 1945 around 8:00 PM (U.S. Eastern Standard Time) (Ramadan 23, 1364 Hijri) (Elul 23, 5705 Jewish Calendar).

(Heshvan 1, 5700 Jewish), during World War II, a German submarine started firing torpedoes at a British battleship while it was at anchor in Scapa Flow, in Scotland, until it sank, resulting in the death of 833 crew members.

Farhud refers to the pogrom or "violent dispossession" carried out against the Jews in Baghdad, Iraq, during the Jewish holiday of Shavuot, on June 1 – 2, 1941 (Jumada Ula 6, 1360 Hijri) (Sivan 6, 5701 Jewish), immediately following the British victory in the Anglo-Iraqi War. The riots occurred in a power vacuum following the collapse of the pro-Nazi government of Rashid Ali, while the city was in a state of instability. Over 180 Jews were killed and 1,000 injured. Looting of Jewish property took place and 900 Jewish homes were destroyed.

Paul Anka is a famous singer and song writer. He wrote the lyrics of the song “My Way” in which he, unknowingly, tells the World that the End Times is near. The song starts with “And now the End is near”. He offered this song to Frank Sinatra to sing and it became Sinatra’s top song. Paul Anka is a Canadian of Lebanese origin. He was born on July 30, 1941 (Rajab 6, 1360 Hijri) (Av 6, 5701 Jewish) (2430,205.5 Julian Day).

Former Prime Minister of Israel, Ehud Barak was born on February 12, 1942 (Muharram 25, 1361 Hijri).
On July 23, 1942, Rostov-on-Don, nicknamed "The Gates of Caucasus," was captured by the Germans. On the same day, Hitler authorized Operation Edelweiss. It was a German plan to gain control over the Caucasus and capture the oil fields of Baku during the Soviet-German War.

On July 22, 1942 (Rajab 8, 1361 Hijri) (Av 8, 5702 Jewish Calendar), the systematic deportation of Jews by Nazi Germany from the Warsaw Ghetto for the Holocaust at Treblinka extermination camp started. Treblinka is a small town 80 Km northeast of Warsaw, Poland. The first shipment consisted of 6,500 victims. The gas chambers became operational the following day on July 23, 1942 (Rajab 9, 1361 Hijri) (Av 9, 5702 Jewish Calendar) (2430,563.5th Julian Day). The Zionists claim that more than 800,000 Jews died there.

The Battle of Hamburg, codenamed Operation Gomorrah, was a campaign of air raids by Britain against Hamburg, Germany, during World War II, beginning July 23 - 24, 1943 (Rajab 20 – 21, 1362 Hijri) (Tammuz 20 – 21, 5703 Jewish) and lasting for 8 days and 7 nights. In the night of July 23 - 24, 1943, at approximately 00:57 a.m., after midnight, the first bombing started by the British Royal Air Force (RAF) and lasted almost an hour. Britain used a new device which was preventing the anti-aircraft guns to find your bombers. The confusion caused to German radars kept losses of British aircrafts low. Fires caused by this air raid were still burning three days later. On the night of July 27 - 28, 1943, shortly before midnight, 787 British Royal Air Force (RAF) aircrafts bombed Hamburg. The unusually dry and warm weather, in addition to the concentration of the bombing in one area and firefighting limitations due to blockbuster bombs used in the early part of the raid, resulted in a phenomenon called FireStorm. The tornadic fire created a huge inferno, with wind speed of up to 240 kilometers per hour (150 mph), reaching temperatures of 800 °C (1,470 °F), and reaching altitudes in excess of 300 meters (1,000 ft), incinerating more than 21 square kilometers (8 sq mi) of the city. Asphalt streets burst into flame, and fuel oil from damaged and destroyed ships, barges and storage tanks spilled into the water of the canals and the harbor, causing them to ignite as well. The majority of deaths attributed to Operation Gomorrah occurred on this night. In just over half an hour, it is estimated that 550–600 bomb loads fell into an area measuring only 2 miles by 1 mile and this gradually spread the fire eastwards. The firestorm lasted for about three hours, destroying approximately 16,000 multi-floor apartment buildings and killing an estimated 30,000 people, most of them while staying in basement shelters where they were poisoned by carbon monoxide after the firestorm consumed most of the oxygen in the burning city above. The furious winds created by the firestorm had the power to sweep people up off the streets like dry leaves. Fearing further raids, two-thirds of Hamburg’s population, approximately 1,200,000 people, fled the city in the aftermath.

Battle of Hamburg (Operation Gomorrah) was at the time the heaviest assault in the history of aerial warfare and was later called the Hiroshima and Nagasaki of Germany by British officials. In January 1946, Major Cortez F. Enloe, a surgeon in the USAAF who worked on the United States Strategic Bombing Survey (USBS), said that the fire effects of the atomic bomb dropped on Nagasaki were not nearly as bad as the effects of the R.A.F. raids on Hamburg on July 27, 1943. Operation Gomorrah killed 42,600 people, left 37,000 wounded and caused some one million German civilians to flee the city. Hamburg’s labor force was reduced by ten percent. Approximately 3,000 aircraft were deployed, 9,000 tons of bombs were dropped and over 250,000 homes and houses were destroyed. No subsequent city raid shook Germany as did that on Hamburg. Figures given by German sources indicate that 183 large factories were destroyed out of 524 in the city and 4,118 smaller factories out of 9,068 were destroyed. Dwellings destroyed amounted to 214,350 out of 414,500. Local transport systems were completely disrupted and did not return to normal for some time.

And we did not descend unto you the Book, except to clarify to them what they differed regarding it and as a guidance and mercy to people who believe (verse 64 of Sura 16): 3944

On June 6, 1944 (Jumada Thania 14, 1363 Hijri) (Sivan 15, 5704 Jewish), more than 160,000 Allied troops landed along a 50-mile stretch of heavily-fortified French coastline, on the beaches of Normandy, France, to fight Nazi Germany which was ruling France. The Atlantic Wall (German: Atlantik wall) was an extensive system of coastal defence and fortifications built by Nazi Germany between 1942 and 1944 along the coast of continental Europe and Scandinavia as a defence against an anticipated Allied invasion of Nazi-occupied Europe from Great Britain during World War II. The defence system of this Wall included colossal coastal guns, batteries, mortars, and artillery, and thousands of German troops stationed to defend the wall. Almost one million French workers were drafted to build this Wall. However, on June 6, most of these Nazi defences were stormed by the invading Allies within hours after the beginning of the invasion. The Allies allocated to this Operation more than 5,000 ships and 13,000 aircrafts. This is considered the largest amphibious military operation in history. U.S. Army General, Dwight Eisenhower called the operation a Crusade in which, “we will accept nothing less than full victory.” This day of landing on the Normandy is called D-Day. By the end of this day, the Allies gained a foot-hold in Continental Europe. The cost in lives on D-Day was high. More than 9,000 Allied soldiers were killed or wounded, but their sacrifice allowed the Allied forces to begin the slow, hard march across Europe, to defeat the Nazi forces. D-Day not only divided Hitler’s armies on two fronts, but it also kept the Soviets out of Western Europe. D-Day was a strategic maneuver against the Soviet Union. The British and American forces wanted to reach Germany before the Soviets. The D-Day for the invasion of Normandy by the Allies was originally set for June 5, 1944, but bad weather and heavy seas caused General Eisenhower to delay it until the next day, June 6, 1944. The Allies conducted a substantial military deception to mislead the Germans as to the date and location of the main Allied landings. On June 6, 1944, in the U.S., Philadelphia’s historical Liberty Bell was rung to celebrate Landing on Normandy and the ringing was broadcast by radio across the U.S. The Allies managed to completely encircle the German army in Normandy around the French town of Falaise by August 20, 1944 (Ramadan 1, 1363 Hijri) (Elul 1, 5704 Jewish). This encirclement, that came to be called the “Falaise Pocket”, resulted in 10,000 dead German soldiers and the Allies’ capture of about 50,000 German soldiers. This led to Battle of Liberation of Paris from August 19, 1944 till the German garrison surrender in Paris on August 25, 1944.

On Saturday, August 5, 1944 (Shaban 16, 1363 Hijri) (Av 16, 5704 Jewish) (2431,307.5th or 2431,308th Julian Day), during World War II, the Wola (or Woli) massacre (or slaughter) started. Wola is a district within Warsaw, Poland. It continued for 7 days till August 12, 1944 (Shaban 23, 1363 Hijri) (Av 23, 5704 Jewish). It was the systematic killing of around 40,000 - 50,000 of Polish people including women, children and patients in hospitals (without distinction was made between Polish civilians and resistance fighters) in organized mass executions throughout the Wola district of the Polish capital Warsaw by Nazi German troops during the Warsaw Uprising in 1944.

And your Lord has not been perishing the Qura (towns, cities, countries, or communities) until he sends to their mother town (capital) a Messenger reciting our Ayat (verses, signs, messages) and We have not been perishing the Qura unless their people are oppressors (verse 59 of Sura 28): \[ 4945 \ (or\ 4946) \ (4945 \ is\ the\ 4283^{rd}\ Composite\ Number) \]

Ten and we have not made People of the Fire except Angels and we have not made their number except as Fitna (trial) for those who have disbelieved. So that those who been brought the Book become certain and (the belief of) those who have believed increases (verse 30 – 31 of Sura 74): \[ 570 + 6 + 41 + 154 + 102 + 282 + 32 + 105 + 6 + 41 + 154 + 519 + 32 + 535 + 820 + 307 + 660 + 791 + 414 + 454 \ + \[ 6 + 25 \ (or\ 26) + 791 + 98 \] = 6025 + 920 \ (or\ 921) = 6945 \ (6946) \]

And the Rahman, the Rahim, the Raheem. I do swear by Day of the Qiyama (Resurrection, Upheaval, or End Times). And I do swear by the self-reproaching spirit. Does the human being think that We are not going to assemble his bones? Yes, We are capable of re-constructing even his finger tips. However, the human being wishes to deny what is coming ahead of him. He asks: when will Day of the Qiyama (Resurrection, Upheaval, or End Times) be? When he sparkles the sight and eclipses the Moon. And the Sun and the Moon are combined. The human being says, on that day; where is (verse 1 – 10 of Sura 75): \[ 66 + 329 + 289 + 31 + 201 + 58 + 186 + 6 + 31 + 201 + 223 + 113 + 81 + 192 + 81 + 163 + 1015 \ (or\ 1016) + 42 + 364 + 110 + 51 + 126 + 108 + 32 + 224 + 192 + 323 + 87 + 100 \ + (62 + 56 + 186 + 782 + 302 + 323 + 6 + 740 + 371 + 6 + 113 + 431 + 6 + 371 + 146 + 192 + 766 + 61) = 5025 \ (or\ 5026) + 4920 = 9945 \ (or\ 9946) \]

The Yalta Conference, sometimes called the Crimea Conference, held from February 4, 1945 to February 11, 1945 (Safar 27, 1364 Hijri), was the World War II meeting of U.S. President Franklin D. Roosevelt, U.K. Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Soviet Union’s Premier Joseph Stalin, for the purpose of discussing Europe's post-war re-organization. The conference convened in the Livadia Palace near Yalta in Crimea.

Adolf Hitler was born on April 20, 1889 (Shaban 19, 1306 Hijri) (Nisan 19, 5649 Jewish) and he died on April 30, 1945 (Jumada Ula 17, 1364 Hijri) (Iyar 17, 5705 Jewish).

Berlin surrendered on May 2, 1945 (Jumada Ula 19, 1364 Hijri) (Iyar 19, 5705 Jewish). However, fighting continued to the north-west, west, and south-west of the city until the end of the war in Europe on May 8 (May 9 in the Soviet Union) as German units fought westward so that they could surrender to the Western Allies rather than to the Soviets. Two separate ceremonies for capitulation of Germany took place at the time. First, the capitulation of Germany to the Allied nations in Reims was signed on May 7, 1945 (Jumada Ula 24, 1364 Hijri) (Iyar 24, 5705 Jewish), effective 23:01 CET May 8. This date is commonly referred to as the V-E Day (Victory in Europe Day) in most western European countries. Joseph Stalin was displeased by this, believing that the German surrender should have been accepted only by the envoy of the USSR Supreme command and signed only in Berlin. Therefore, another ceremony was organized in the outskirts of Berlin late on May 8, when it was already May 9 in Moscow due to the difference in time zones. Victory Day is celebrated annually in Russia on May 9.

On June 5, 1945 (Jumada Thania 23 (or 24), 1364 Hijri) (Sivan 24, 5705 Jewish), the Soviet Union, the U.S., the U.K., and France acting on behalf of the Allies of World War II, signed Berlin Declaration, in which they jointly assumed "supreme authority" over German territory. The preamble of the declaration confirmed the complete legal extinction of the German State of the Third Reich, but the continued subsequent existence of a German national territory which for the purpose of the Declaration was taken to be as defined on December 31, 1937, subject to the four signatory powers also asserting their authority to determine the future boundaries of Germany. These four Allies would exercise supreme civil and military authority within German territory and over former German forces. The Treaty on the Final Settlement with respect to Germany was signed in Moscow on September 12, 1990 (Safar 22, 1411 Hijri) (Elul 22, 5750 Hijri) between on one side, the West Germany and East Germany, and on the other side, the Four Powers which occupied Germany at the end of World War II in Europe: the Soviet Union, the U.S., the U.K., and France. This Treaty paved the way for unification of East and West Germany on October 3, 1990 (Rabi Awwal 14, 1411 Hijri) (Tishri 14, 5751 Jewish). In this Treaty, the Four Powers renounced all rights they held in Germany, allowing a united Germany to become fully sovereign when this Treaty became effective on March 15, 1991 (Shaban 29, 1411 Hijri) (Adar 29, 5751 Jewish).

At 9:40 a.m. local time, on Saturday, July 28, 1945, (Shaban 18, 1364 Hijri) (Av 18, 5705 Jewish Calendar) (2431,664.5th or 2431,665th Julian day), during World War II, a U.S. bomber, piloted in thick fog by Lieutenant Colonel William Franklin Smith, Jr., in a routine mission transporting soldiers from Massachusetts to New York City's LaGuardia Airport, crashed into the north side of the Empire State Building, in New York, between the 79th and 80th floors, where the offices of the National Catholic Welfare Council were located. The building consists of 102 floors and it is 1,454 ft (443.2 m) high. The crash resulted in fourteen deaths, three crewmen and eleven people in the building.

On July 16, 1945 (Shaban 6, 1364 Hijri) (Av 6, 5705 Jewish), at 05:29 AM local time, the U.S. conducted the first nuclear detonation test in the World, called Trinity Test, at what is referred to as the Trinity Site, in New Mexico. This test and the atomic bombs that were dropped on Japan were part of the Manhattan Project, a research and development program sponsored by the United States, Canada, and the U.K. The date of this test is usually considered to be the beginning of the Atomic Age. Most of the components of the bomb, that was later dropped on Hiroshima, left San Francisco on an American ship called USS Indianapolis on July 16, 1945, reached Pearl Harbor on July 19, 1945 and arrived to its final destination, Tinian (an island in the Pacific ocean captured from Japan by U.S. forces in July 1944) on July 26, 1945 (Shaban 16, 1364 Hijri). On the same day, July 26, 1945, the U.S., Britain, and China made Potsdam Declaration, which was an ultimatum that called on Japan to “proclaim now the unconditional surrender of all Japanese armed forces ... The alternative for Japan is prompt and utter destruction.” The Declaration was released to the press in Potsdam, Germany on the evening of July 26. By 5 p.m. (Washington, D.C., time), Office of War Information (OWI)'s West Coast transmitters, aimed at the Japan, were broadcasting the text in English, and two hours later began broadcasting it in Japanese. Soon after daylight on July 27, 1945, the Potsdam Declaration reached Japan. At 4:00 pm (Japan Time), on July 28, 1945 (Shaban 18, 1364 Hijri) (Av 18, 5705 Jewish), the Japanese Prime Minister held a press conference in which he said that the Japanese government would “ignore” Potsdam Declaration and continue to fight till the end. He used the Japanese word “Mokusatsu” which means “ignore”, but was erroneously translated into English as “reject”. Halfway between the Philippines and Guam, shortly after midnight, at 12:14 a.m. local time, on July 30, 1945 [11:14 p.m. (Washington, DC, time) on July 29, 1945 (Shaban 19, 1364 Hijri)], USS Indianapolis was struck, by two torpedoes from a Japanese submarine, and sank. Of the 1197 crew members, only 317 survived and were rescued on August 2, 1945 (Shaban 23, 1364 Hijri) (Av 23, 5705 Jewish). On August 2, 1945, assembly of Nagasaki’s atomic bomb began. American war planes dropped Little Boy atomic bomb over Hiroshima, Japan on August 6, 1945 (Shaban 27, 1364 Hijri) (Av 27, 5705 Jewish), followed by Fat Man atomic bomb over Nagasaki, Japan at 11:01 a.m. (Japan Time) on August 9, 1945 (Shaban 30, 1364 Hijri) (Av 30, 5705 Jewish). On August 15, 1945 (Ramadan 6, 1364 Hijri) (Elul 6, 5705 Jewish), 6 days after the bombing of Nagasaki, Japan announced its surrender to the Allies. On Sunday, September 2, 1945 around 9:00 a.m. (Japan Time) (Ramadan 24, 1364 Hijri) (Elul 24, 5705 Jewish Calendar) (2431,700.5th Julian Day), Japan signed a surrender agreement on board of a U.S. ship in Tokyo Bay. Signatures of representatives of both Japan and the Allied countries were in place by 9:22 a.m. Following a few brief remarks by U.S. President, MacArthur, the surrender ceremony ended at 9:25 a.m. This means the surrender took place on Saturday, September 1, 1945 around 8:00 p.m. (U.S. Eastern Standard Time) (Ramadan 23, 1364 Hijri) (Elul 23, 5705 Jewish Calendar). On September 22, 1945, the U.S. issued a statement of general initial U.S. policy regarding Japan after its surrender. Japan’s singing of the surrender agreement is considered the official end of World War II.

On September 9, 1945, at the end of World War II, the Empire of Japan formally surrendered to China in a 20-minute ceremony in the auditorium of the Central Military Academy in Nanking, China on September 9, 1945, at 9:00 a.m. The surrender ceremony marked the conclusion of the Second Sino-Japanese War that lasted 8 years.
On September 9, 1945, on Morotai Island, before an assembly of more than 10,000 Australian and allied troops, the Commander-in-Chief of the Australian Military Forces accepted the formal surrender of all Japanese forces in the eastern half of the Netherlands East Indies.

On September 9, 1945, American forces finally reach Seoul, where they accept the surrender of Japanese forces in southern Korea.

On January 1, 1942 (Zu Al-Hijja 13, 1360 Hijri), representatives of 26 nations at war with the Axis powers met in Washington, DC, to sign the Declaration of the United Nations. The United Nations came into existence on October 24, 1945 (Zu Al-Qada 17, 1364 Hijri), after 29 nations had ratified the Charter.

On June 13, 1946, the day before the birth of Donald Trump, after a reigning for only 31 days, the last King of Italy, Umberto II, elected not to further contest the results of the June 2 referendum that abolished the monarchy, and he flew into exile. Earlier in the day, Parliament had granted Prime Minister Alcide De Gasperi power to serve as the acting head of state until the election results could be certified.

Donald Trump was born on Friday, June 14, 1946 (Rajab 15, 1365 Hijri) (Sivan 15, 5706 Jewish) (2431.985.5th Julian Day), a day on which there was a Total Lunar Eclipse. Donald Trump formally announced his candidacy for presidency of the U.S. on June 16, 2015 (Shaban 29, 1436 Hijri) (Sivan 29, 5775 Jewish), with a campaign rally and speech at Trump Tower in New York City. Donald Trump won the nomination of the Republican Party for U.S. presidency at the Republican National Convention on July 19, 2016 (Shawwal 13, 1437 Hijri) (Tammuz 13, 5776 Jewish). Donald Trump won the presidential election in the U.S. on November 8, 2016 (Safar 7, 1438 Hijri) (Heshvan 7, 5777 Jewish).
George W. Bush Jr. was born on July 6, 1946 (Shaban 7, 1365 Hijri) (Tammuz 7, 5706 Jewish Calendar) at 7:26 AM.

On July 22, 1946 (Shaban 23, 1365 Hijri) (Tammuz 23, 5706 Jewish) (2432,023.5th Julian day), the western part of the southern wing of King David Hotel in Jerusalem, which was serving as headquarters of the British Mandate, collapsed due to explosives set off by Irgun, a Zionist terrorist group led by Menahim Begin, who later became Prime Minister of Israel.

On November 20, 1920, Abdullah son of Al-Hussein marched into Ma'an, a district in Hijaz, at the head of an army of 300 men and announced his intention of attacking the French in Syria and restoring his brother Faisal to power there. Without facing opposition, Abdullah and his army had effectively occupied most of Transjordan by March 1921. In the Cairo Conference (March 12 - 30, 1921), Britain decided to create Kingdom of Iraq under British Administration, headed by Faisal son of Al-Hussein and Emirate of Transjordan under British Administration, headed by Abdullah son of Al-Hussein. Abdullah became Emir of TransJordan on April 1, 1921 (Rajab 22, 1339 Hijri), while Jordan was under the British mandate. In May 1925, the Aqaba and Ma'an districts of the Hijaz became part of Transjordan. The Treaty of London was signed between the United Kingdom and Transjordan on March 22, 1946 (Rabi Thani 19, 1365 Hijri) and came into force on June 17, 1946 (Rajab 17, 1365 Hijri) (Sivan 18, 5706 Jewish). In the Treaty of London, Britain agreed to recognize the independence of Transjordan, which would become known as the Hashemite Kingdom of Transjordan, with Abdullah I as its king. However, Britain would still maintain military bases within TransJordan and continue to subsidize and support the TransJordan’s army. On May 25, 1946 (Jumada Thania 23, 1365 Hijri), the parliament of Transjordan ratified the Treaty of London. In Jordan, May 25 is still celebrated annually as Independence Day, although the British mandate for Transjordan ended officially on June 17, 1946. Hashemite Kingdom of Transjordan changed its name into the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan on April 26, 1949 (Jumada Thania 27, 1368 Hijri).

From year 1946 (year of birth of Donald Trump and the blowing up of King David Hotel in Jerusalem) to 2019 (possible Beginning of the End Times), there are 73 years.

- On July 11, 1947 (Shaban 23, 1366 Hijri) (Tammuz 23, 1366 Jewish), Exodus 1947 ship, carrying illegal Jewish migrants, left the port of Sète near Marseilles, France, heading to Palestine.
Exodus 1947 ship was the largest Aliyah Bet ship. Aliyah Bet, meaning “Migration B”, refers to the Second Wave or Series of Jewish Migration attempts by European Jews to immigrate illegally to Palestine before and after World War II. The ship was carrying 4500 Jews, the largest-ever number of illegal Jewish immigrants to Palestine. The story of this ship received a lot of international attention. On July 18, 1947, (Ramadan 1, 1366 Hijri) (Av 1, 5707 Jewish), the British navy intercepted, boarded the Exodus ship, and refused its entry into Palestine at the port of Haifa. The Jewish migrants resisted violently, and the interception ended with two Jewish migrants and one crewman dead. British Foreign Secretary, Ernest Bevin, said that the migrants on board the Exodus ship would be returned to the ship's port of origin in France to deter future illegal immigrants. However, the French government announced that it would not permit the disembarkation of passengers unless it was voluntary on their part. The passengers refused to disembark, spending weeks in difficult conditions. The ship was then taken to Germany, where the passengers were forcibly removed in Hamburg and returned to DP camps.

Pakistan gained its independency from Great Britain on Thursday, August 14, 1947 (Ramadan 27, 1366 Hijri)

In February 1947, Britain announced its intent to terminate the Mandate for Palestine, referring the matter of the future of Palestine to the United Nations. On September 3, 1947, the United Nations Special Committee on Palestine (UNSCOP) reported to the U.N. General Assembly its recommendations. On September 23, 1947 (Zu Al-Qada 9, 1366 Hijri) (Tishri 9, 5708 Jewish), the U.N. General Assembly established an ad hoc Committee on the Palestinian Question to consider the UNSCOP report. The Arab Higher Committee rejected both the majority and minority recommendations within the UNSCOP report. On October 10, 1947 (Zu Al-Qada 25, 1366 Hijri), Haganah fighters raided the Atlit detainee camp, which was being used by the British to hold thousands of illegal Jewish immigrants from Europe, freeing 208 inmates. On October 11, 1947 (Zu Al-Qada 26, 1366 Hijri), Herschel Johnson, United States deputy representative on the United Nations Security Council, announces United States support for the partition plan of the United Nations Special Committee on Palestine.

On Saturday, November 29, 1947 (Muharram 16, 1367 Hijri) (Kislev 16, 5708 Jewish Calendar) (2432,518.5th or 2432,519th Julian Day) (November 29 is the 333rd day in normal years of the Gregorian Calendar or the 334th day in leap years), the U.N. voted in favour of partitioning Palestine, paving the way for the creation of State of Israel.

at the Tel Aviv Art Museum, announcing unilateral establishment of the State of Israel on the land of Palestine at 4:00 p.m. (Time in Palestine) just before the start of the Jewish Sabbath, on Friday, May 14, 1948 Gregorian (May 1, 1948 Julian) (Rajab 5, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 5, 5708 Jewish Calendar) (2432,685.5th Julian Day) (484,247th Hijri Day). Today, Israel celebrates Independence Day on Iyar 5, not May 14. If Iyar 5 falls on Monday, Israel delays the celebration of Independence Day to Tuesday. The Jews declared the independence of Israel 8 hours before the end of the British Mandate of Palestine, which was due to finish at midnight of May 14 -15, 1948. Eleven minutes after midnight, at 12:11 a.m., White House spokesman announced U.S. recognition of Israel. The Arab rulers were divided in their objectives and suffered from lack of co-ordination, mistrust of each other, unwillingness to help each other, and some of them had secret deals with the Israelis. When Isaac Herzog, the Chief Rabbi of Israel, came to the White House in 1949, he told U.S. President Harry Truman: “God put you in your mother's womb, so you would be the instrument to bring the rebirth of Israel.” General George Marshall, U.S. Secretary of State, whom Truman once called the greatest living American, was opposed to the creation of the Jewish state. The Arab countries did not send their armies to Palestine until May 15, 1948 (Rajab 6, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 6, 5708 Jewish Calendar), the day after the end of the British Mandate at midnight of May 14, 1948. Today, Palestinians annually commemorate Day of the Nakba (Catastrophe) on May 15. The Jewish month of Iyar is spelled in Arabic the same as Ayar, which is the name of the month of May, as known in Greater Syria. However, Jewish month of Iyar does not usually coincide with Ayar (May).

Tiferet Yisrael Synagogue was one of the most outstanding synagogues in the Old City of Jerusalem in the 19th and 20th centuries. Named after Rabbi Yisroel of Ruzhin, founder of the Ruzhin Hasidic dynasty. During the 1948 Arab-Israeli War, the Tiferet Yisrael Synagogue was used as a post by Haganah, Jewish gang, in the defense of the Old City. During the Jordanian army’s attempt to capture the Old City, it blew up the synagogue an hour after midnight on the night of May 20 - 21, 1948. It was left as ruins by the Israeli government after the re-capture of the Old City in the Six-Day War. In 2012, the Municipality of Jerusalem announced its approval for the plan to rebuild the synagogue. The cornerstone for the construction of Tiferet Yisrael Synagogue was laid on May 29, 2014.

On May 19, 1948 (Rajab 10, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 10, 5708 Jewish), Jordanian army forces led by AbdAllah Al-Tal marched to Jerusalem and took up positions around Zion Gate, closing access to Jewish Quarter. The Jordanian forces captured the Police Station in Sheikh Jarrah neighborhood, as Jewish gang fighters fled without a fight. Then, the Jordanian forces proceeded towards Mandelbaum House area, but were repulsed after heavy battle with Jewish fighters. On May 28, 1948 (Rajab 19, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 19, 5708 Jewish) (2432,699.5th Julian Day) (484,261st Hijri Day), the Jewish Quarter of the old city of Jerusalem was captured by the Jordanian forces. The civilian, non-combatant, Jewish inhabitants were protected from the wrath of angry Arabs by the Jordanian forces of King AbdAllah, and were expelled to West Jerusalem which was under control of the Jews. About 300 fighters of the Haganah (Jewish terrorist group) were taken prisoners. After the Jewish Quarter of Jerusalem was captured, the destruction, desecration and looting of Jewish sites began. According to a Jewish source, about 57 ancient synagogues, libraries and centers of religious study were ransacked and 12 were totally destroyed such as Hurva Synagogue, the oldest synagogue dated back to the 13th century. The Old City of Jerusalem remained under the control of Jordan till it was captured by Israeli forces on June 7, 1967 (Safar 28, 1387 Hijri) (Iyar 28, 5727 Jewish) in the 6-day war between Israel and the Arabs.
The Hurva Synagogue, (in Hebrew, it is called Beit ha-Knesset ha-Hurva, literally means "The Ruin Synagogue") (In Arabic, it is called Khirba, meaning “Ruin”), also known as Hurvat Rabbi Yehudah he-Hasid ("Ruin of Rabbi Judah, the Pious"), is a historic synagogue located in the Jewish Quarter of the Old City of Jerusalem. In the winter of 1700, a group of around 500 Ashkenazi Jews led by Yehudah (Judah) he-Hasid arrived from Europe. They were mystics who were intent on advancing the arrival of the Messianic Era by settling in Jerusalem and leading ascetic lives. A few days after their arrival in the city, he-Hasid died. They became without a leader. So, their messianic hopes dissipated and the community began to disintegrate. Those who remained managed to build forty dwellings and a small synagogue in the Ashkenazic Compound. Soon after, they endeavored to construct a larger synagogue, but the task proved expensive. So, they borrowed money, as loans, from local Arabs, eventually falling into severe debt. In late 1720, with the debts still outstanding, the Arab lenders lost patience and set the synagogue and its contents on fire. The leaders of the community were imprisoned and shortly after, all the Ashkenazim were banished from the city. The synagogue was left desolate, in a pile of rubble, so it thus became known as the "Hurva (Ruin) of Rabbi Judah he-Hasid". Between 1808 and 1812, another group of Jews, known as Perushim, immigrated to Palestine from Lithuania. They were disciples of the Vilna Gaon and had settled in the city of Safed. In late 1815, leader of the Safed Perushim, Rabbi Menachem Mendel of Shklov, arrived to Jerusalem with a group of followers. They directed their main efforts to rebuilding the Hurva Synagogue, which had symbolized the expulsion of the Ashkenazi Jews from Jerusalem. The rebuilding of Hurva Synagogue would represent the first step of rebuilding Jerusalem that the Bible mentions as a prerequisite for the arrival of the Messiah. After a very lengthy series of diplomatic efforts by the Jews and Europeans, the Ottoman Sultan, Abdul-Majid I, granted a permit for the rebuilding of the Hurva. The groundbreaking of the synagogue ceremony took place on the last day of Hanukkah of 1855. On April 22, 1856 (Shaban 17, 1272 Hijri) (Nisan 17, 5616 Jewish), the cornerstone was laid in the presence of Chief Rabbi of Jerusalem, Shmuel Salant. In 1864, the new synagogue was dedicated. Among the prominent figures who attended the dedication ceremony was Baron Alphonse James de Rothschild, who 8 years earlier had been given the honor of laying the first stone. The building was officially named Beit Yaakov – "House of Jacob". The new Hurva Synagogue was designed by the Ottoman Sultan's official architect who had come to Jerusalem to restore the Islamic shrines in the Aqsa Mosque compound. Hurva Synagogue had a neo-Byzantine design, similar to Constantinople's Hagia (Aya) Sophia cathedral/mosque, featuring 14-meter-high window arches and a huge dome which spanned the entire prayer space. The height of Hurva Synagogue, to the top of the dome, was 24 meters, making it one of the tallest structures in the walled Old City of Jerusalem. A balcony around the dome gave visitors an outstanding view over the city. The interior was decorated with ritual objects donated by different Jewish communities in Europe, and the Holy Ark, which could store up to 50 Torah scrolls, had come from the Nikolajewsky Synagogue in Kherson, Russia. From 1864 onwards till 1948, the Hurva Synagogue was considered the most beautiful and most important synagogue in Palestine. It also housed part of the Etz Chaim Yeshiva, the largest yeshiva (Jewish religious school or college) in Jerusalem. It was a focal point of Jewish spiritual life in the city. It became Jerusalem's main Ashkenazic synagogue and the site of the installation ceremonies of the Ashkenazic chief rabbis in Palestine. In 1948, about 100,000 Jews lived in Jerusalem: 2,000 in the Jewish Quarter of the Old City of Jerusalem and 98,000 in the western neighborhoods of Jerusalem. The Jewish presence in the Old City declined form a peak of 19,000 in the 1880, as people moved to the newer Western neighborhoods outside the walls of the Old City. Eight hours before the end of the British Mandate of Palestine, which was due to finish at midnight of May 14-15, 1948, David Ben-Gurion, Executive Head of the World Zionist Organization who later became the first Prime Minister of Israel, announced unilateral establishment of the State of Israel on the land of Palestine at 4:00 p.m. (Time in Palestine) just before the start of the Jewish Sabbath, on Friday, May 14, 1948 (Gregorian (May 1, 1948 Julian) (Rajab 5, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 5, 5708 on Jewish Calendar) (2432,685.5 Julian Day). The attack by Palestinian irregular fighters on the Jewish Quarter of Jerusalem began on May 16, 1948. By the following day, May 17, the Palestinian fighters had captured a third of the Jewish Quarter. On May 19, 1948 (Rajab 10, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 10, 5708 Jewish), Jordanian army forces led by Major AbdAllah Al-Tal started entering the Old City of Jerusalem and took up positions around Zion Gate, closing access to Jewish Quarter. The Jordanian forces captured the Police Station in Sheikh Jarrah neighborhood, as Jewish gang fighters fled without a fight. As days went by, the area under Jewish control was constantly shrinking. On May 25, 1948, during the battle for the Old City, Major AbdAllah Al-Tal, wrote to Otto Lehner of the International Red Cross to warn that unless the Jewish terrorist group, Haganah, abandoned its positions in Hurva Synagogue and its adjoining courtyard, he would be forced to attack it. Commander of the Haganah in the Old City ignored the warning, knowing that if the Hurva fell, the battle for the Jewish Quarter would soon be lost. On May 26, 1948, the Jordanian forces delivered an ultimatum to the Jews to surrender within 12 hours, otherwise Hurva Synagogue would be blown up. On May 27, 1948, Al-Tal, after receiving no answer to his proposal, told his men to "Get the Hurva Synagogue by Noon." The Jordanian army placed a 200-litre barrel filled with explosives against Hurva synagogue’s wall. The explosion resulted in a gaping hole. Jewish Haganah fighters spent 45 minutes fighting in vain to prevent the Jordanian troops from entering. When the Jordanian troops finally burst through, they tried to reach the top of its dome to plant an Arab flag. Three of the Jordanian troops were shot by snipers, but the fourth succeeded. The Arab flag flying over Hurva Synagogue signaled the triumph of the Jordanian army. In the evening on May 27, 1948, Hurva Synagogue, including the Etz Chaim Yeshiva attached to it, was blown up and completely rendered into rubble. The demolition of Hurva Synagogue was timed to coincide with Jordan’s King Abdullah’s visit to the Old City of Jerusalem on May 27 during which he visited Al-Aqsa Mosque compound, where he prayed for the welfare of his army. He also visited the Tomb of Christ in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher (Tomb), which is also called Church of the Qiyama (Resurrection), knelt inside and offered a prayer. On Friday, May 28, 1948 (Rajab 19, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 19, 5708 Jewish), after the rabbis of the Jewish Quarter negotiated a surrender agreement with King Abdullah of Jordan, the Jewish fighters finally surrendered in the afternoon and the Jordanian army liberated the Old City of Jerusalem. After the surrender agreement had been signed, the evacuation and departure (exodus) of the Jews, combatants and civilians, from the Old City of Jerusalem began and lasted till 2 a.m. on Sunday, May 30, 1948. One by one Jews came out of their cellars to be rushed off quickly. The wounded people were sent to hospitals. The women, children and old men were handed over to the Red Cross, and the fighters were taken as Prisoners-of-War (P.O.W). Jewish P.O.W were assembled before being led away to captivity, marching through the narrow alleys of the Old City. In his memoirs, Jordanian Major AbdAllah Al-Tal reported that he took measures to prevent Arab civilians seeking revenge from attacking the Jewish Quarter. He expressed pride in how his troops followed his orders and acted “according to the legacy of Arab tolerance”. He proudly reported that the Jews were astonished by the conduct of the Jordanian troops who handed over water and cigarettes to the women, children, and elderly. The photos taken by journalists clearly show the success of Al-Tal’s effort to secure an undisturbed and peaceful evacuation of all Jews from the Old City. The photos of Jewish refugees document old Jewish men, women, and many children, ultra-orthodox Ashkenazim and Sephardim walking to the assembly place and then to Zion Gate, the exit point from the Old City. A day after the surrender, a Jewish Agency spokesman commended the Jordanian troops who “conducted themselves admirably”. However, in defiance of the curfew imposed by the Jordanian Army, some Arab civilians raided the abandoned buildings in the Jewish Quarter, looting and setting fire to them on their way. A Jewish source claims that soon after the Jordanian army captured the Jewish Quarter of the Old City of Jerusalem, 57 synagogues, libraries and centers of religious study were ransacked and 12 were totally and deliberately destroyed. Those that remained standing were defaced, used for housing of people or animals. Jordan’s victory by gaining control of Old City of Jerusalem is arguably Israel’s worst and most humiliating defeat during the War of Independence. In his memoirs, Major AbdAllah Al-Tal explained the ramifications of the victory: “Al-Quds (Jerusalem) was purged of Jews and for the first time in 1000 years, no Jew remained there.” After Israel captured of the Old City of Jerusalem from Jordan during the Six-Day War on June 7, 1967 (Safar 28, 1387 Hijri) (Iyar 28, 5727 Jewish), a number of plans were submitted for re-building Hurva Synagogue. After years of deliberation and indecision, a commemorative Arch (reaching to the height of the last destroyed Hurva Synagogue) was erected instead in 1977 at the location of the ruined Hurva Synagogue. The Ark itself became a prominent landmark in the Jewish Quarter. The plan to rebuild Hurva Synagogue, as an exact replica of the last destroyed one, received approval by the Israeli Government in year 2000. After the construction of the new Hurva synagogue finished, it was dedicated on March 15 and March 16, 2010. March 16, 2010 (Rabi Thani 1, 1431 Hijri) (Nisan 1, 5770 Jewish) was Rosh Chodesh (Head of the Month) of Nisan, meaning the 1st day of the month of Nisan. Nisan 1 is the first day of the Jewish religious year. Nisan 1 is historically significant because it is the day on which the construction of the Biblical Wilderness Tabernacle was completed. For the Jews, construction of Hurva Synagogue symbolized end of exile and return of the Jews to the historical Land of Israel in preparation for the coming of the Messiah of the End Times. On March 20, 2010, Sabbath services were held in Hurva Synagogue for the first time since 1948.

In the afternoon on May 29, 1948, an Egyptian army column, including tanks, armored fighting vehicles and artillery was spotted, by the Israeli army, moving northwards up the coastal road, possibly headed towards Tel Aviv. Israel used aircrafts, recently imported from Czechoslovakia and assembled on the previous day, May 28, to stop the Egyptian army’s advance. The Egyptian army’s advance was stopped by June 3, 1948.

The U.N. declared a the first truce in the war between the Arabs and Jews on May 29, 1948, which began on June 11, 1948 and lasted till July 8, 1948 (Ramadan 1, 1367 Hijri).

On June 6, 1948 (Rajab 28, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 28, 5708 Jewish), nearly two brigades of the Arab Liberation Army and the Lebanese Army captured two Arab towns Al-Malkiyya and Qadas in Northern Palestine in what became the only intervention of the Lebanese army during the war.

On June 6, 1948 (Rajab 28, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 28, 5708 Jewish), Syrian forces attacked Mishmar HaYarden (Jewish Settlement) in Northern Palestine, but they were repulsed. On June 10, 1948, the Syrians captured Mishmar HaYarden and advanced to the main road, where they were stopped by the Israeli troops. Subsequently, the Syrians reverted to a defensive posture, conducting only a few minor attacks on small, vulnerable Israeli settlements.

The Battle of Nitzanim was fought in the kibbutz of Nitzanim, in Southern Palestine, between the Israeli army and the Egyptian Army in the 1948 Arab–Israeli War, on June 7 - 10, 1948. The kibbutz of Nitzanim is located on the coast between Gaza and Yafa and it was surrounded by the Arab towns: Isdud to the North, Majdal to the South, and Julis and Beit Daras to the East. The battle started around midnight of June 6 – 7, 1948 (Rajab 28 – 29, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 28 - 29, 5708 Jewish), with an Egyptian artillery bombardment of Nitzanim, followed by an Egyptian aerial bombardment and armored and infantry attacks. The main Egyptian attack broke through the Israeli defenses at around 11:00 a.m. on June 7, 1948. The Israelis started retreating. At 4:00 p.m. on June 7, 1948, 105 Israeli fighters, 26 of them injured, surrendered to the Egyptian Army. The Israeli survivors were later displayed in a victory parade in the nearby Arab town, Majdal, after which they were transferred to Cairo. Battle of Nitzanim was the first major Egyptian victory of the war, and one of the few cases of Israeli surrender.

On the night of June 7 – 8, 1948, the Israeli forces captured the strategic Hill 69 (located between Nitzanim and Isdud) and carried out an unsuccessful attack against the Arab town of Isdud. On the night of June 9 – 10, 1948, the Israeli forces attempted to re-capture Nitzanim. At dawn, an Israeli platoon managed to break into Nitzanim from the South and capture the "Palace" (an abandoned Arab Palace/ Mansion, located at a hill overlooking Nitzanim), but withdrew from Nitzanim after being hit by heavy Egyptian fire. The Egyptian artillery pursued the withdrawing Israelis until the Israelis reached Hill 69. The Egyptians attacked Hill 69. The Israelis suffered heavy casualties, so they withdrew from the Hill, but their withdrawal was disorganized and cost more casualties. The total Israeli death toll in the Battle of Hill 69 was 20 soldiers. So, the Egyptians managed to capture Hill 69 on June 10, 1948. The Egyptians attempted to continue towards Beit Daras and Be’er Tuvia, but met with strong Israel defense, so at nightfall, the Egyptians withdrew.

Palestine’s major cities such as Haifa, Yafa (Jaffa), Akka, etc. had fallen into the hands of the Jews before the Arab armies arrived. The first truce in the 1948 war between the Jews and the Arabs was declared by the U.N. on May 29, 1948 (Rajab 20, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 20, 5708 Jewish) and came into effect on Friday, June 11, 1948 and was supposed to last 4 weeks, until Friday July 9, 1948. However, on July 8, 1948 (Ramadan 1, 1367 Hijri) (Tammuz 1, 5708 Jewish) (2432,740.5th or 2432,741st Julian day) (484,302nd Hijri day) (The number of days between any day in 1948 and the same day in 2013 is 23,741 days), Egyptian forces renewed the war. On July 9, 1948, Israeli forces launched a simultaneous offensive on all three fronts of the confrontation. During the truce, Israel received massive shipments of weapons from Eastern Europe, most notably from Czechoslovakia, and increased the number of their fighters from 30,000 before the truce to 65,000 by the end of the truce, both of these matters were in violation of the terms of the truce. By the end of December 1948, Israel had more than 108,000 fighters. Whereas the Arab forces were far less, even before the first truce, Arab forces had only 25,000 fighters, and did not manage to increase the number of their fighters significantly. At the end of the first truce, the Arabs had little ammunition. For example, Jordan only had sufficient ammunition for only 4 days of fighting and no replenishments in sight. The 10-day period from July 8, 1948 till the beginning of the second truce which went into effect at 7: 00 pm on July 18, 1948 (Ramadan 11, 1367 Hijri) (Tammuz 11, 5708) (484,312th Hijri day) (2432,750.5th or 2432,751st Julian Day), known as “Battles of the Ten Days”, drastically changed the course of the war in favor of the Israelis.

August 2, 1948 ( Ramadan 26, 1367 Hijri) was the 2432,766th Julian Day . This was the day on which the Government of Israel decided to declare Jerusalem under its control as Israel-occupied territory.
This declaration was made retroactive to May 15, 1948. According to 1947 U.N.’s Partition Plan, Jerusalem was supposed to be placed under international regime. In May 1948, Israel recognized that all of Jerusalem, including the Jewish quarter, is not part of the Israeli territory.

On July 8, 1948 (Ramadan 1, 1367 Hijri), a political committee of the Arab League decided to set up a temporary civil Palestinian administration, not a government, and it would be supervised by the Arab League. At the request of the Arab Higher Committee (AHC) which was set up by the Arab League in 1945 and was headed by former Mufti of Jerusalem, Ameen Al-Husseini [descendant of Al Hussein, grandson of Prophet Mohammad (p)], a Palestinian government based in Gaza (which was ruled by Egypt), was proposed at the Arab League's meeting in Alexandria, Egypt, held on September 6 - 16, 1948 (Zu Al-Qa’da 2 - 12, 1367 Hijri (Elul 2 – 12, 5708 Jewish). It was formally announced by the Arab Higher Committee (AHC) on September 23, 1948. Palestinian National Council convened in Gaza on September 30 - October 1, 1948 (Zu Al-Qa’da 26 - 27, 1367 Hijri) (Elul 26 - 27, 5708 Jewish). It issued a declaration of independence over the whole land of Palestine, with Jerusalem as its capital. That is why it is known as All-Palestine government. It elected unanimously former Mufti of Jerusalem, Ameen Al-Husseini as President of Palestine. Ahmad Hilmi Abd-Al-Baqi (who was of Albanian origin, born in Saida, Lebanon) was chosen as Prime Minister. The government included representatives of many Palestinian political parties. On October 2, 1948, Jordan's King AbdAllah who was interested in formally annexing the West Bank to Jordan, rather than allowing the Palestinians to rule themselves, retaliated by organizing a series of Palestinian conference to counter the decision taken in Gaza. On October 3, 1948, Jordan’s minister of defense ordered all armed Palestinian groups in the West Bank and Jordan to be disbanded. Glubb Pasha (British), the head of the Jordanian army which was called Arab Legion, particularly cracked down on Ameen Al-Husseini’s Holy War Army. Nonetheless, Egypt recognized the All-Palestine Government on October 12, 1948 (Zu Hijja 9, 1367 Hijri), followed by Syria and Lebanon on October 13, 1948 (Zu Hijja 10, 1367 Hijri) (Tishri 10, 5709 Jewish) (2432,837.5th Julian Day), Saudi Arabia on October 14, 1948 and Yemen on October 16, 1948. Iraq’s decision to recognize the All-Palestine Government was made formally on October 12, 1948, but was not made public. In contrast, both Great Britain and the U.S. backed Jordan’s King AbdAllah. The Palestinian Government which was based in Gaza was entirely relocated to Cairo in late October 1948 and became a government-in-exile, gradually losing its importance. A conference, sponsored by Jordan’s King AbdAllah, was held in Jericho, in the West Bank (which was ruled by Jordan) on December 1, 1948 (Muharram 29, 1368 Hijri). The conference in Jericho called for unification of the two banks of Jordan River under the rule of Jordan, meaning the annexation of the West Bank to Jordan. Another conference sponsored by King AbdAllah was held in Nablus on December 28, 1948 (Safar 26, 1368 Hijri) which called for unification of all Palestine with Jordan into one state headed by King AbdAllah. On April 24, 1950 (Rajab 6 (or 7), 1369 Hijri), the Jordanian House of Deputies and House of Notables held a join session and adopted a resolution for the unification of the East and West bank of Jordan River into one state. On the other side, the pro-Egypt All-Palestine Government was eventually dissolved in 1959 by Gamal Abd-Nasir who envisaged a United Arab Republic encompassing Syria, Egypt and Palestine so Al-Husseini moved to Lebanon. Al-Husseini died in Beirut, Lebanon, on July 4, 1974 (Jumada Thania 13, 1394 Hijri).

On March 23, 1949 (Jumada Ula 23, 1368 Hijri), Israel and Lebanon signed an armistice (truce) agreement.

On March 30, 1949 (Jumada Thania 1, 1368 Hijri), Husni Al-Zaeem (of Kurdish ancestry) led the first military coup in Syria after its independence. It was a bloodless coup sponsored by the U.S. His rule of Syria lasted only till August 14, 1949 when another coup ousted him and he was hanged the next day.

Anton Saada, founder of the Syrian Social Nationalist Party, was executed, by a firing squad, at dawn, on July 8, 1949 (Ramadan 11, 1368 Hijri) (Tammuz 11, 5709 Hebrew).

On July 20, 1949 (Ramadan 23, 1368 Hijri) (Tammuz 23, 5709 Hebrew) (2433, 117.5 or 2433, 118th Julian day), Israel and Syria signed an Armistice (truce) agreement which was the 4th and last of similar separate agreements signed between Israel and each of its Arab neighbours separately, ending the official war between them that started with the Zionists’ war against the Arabs to establish the terrorist State of Israel.

On November 29, 1947 (Muharram 16, 1367 Hijri) (Kislev 16, 5708 Jewish), the U.N.’s voted in favor of partitioning Palestine by giving the Jews a significant portion of Palestine. The Zionist Jews unilaterally declared the establishment of State Israel in Palestine on May 14, 1948 (Rajab 5, 1367 Hijri) (Iyar 5, 5708 Jewish). This led to invasion of Palestine by neighboring Arab countries, on May 15, 1948, to liberate it. The war between the Jews and the Arabs in Palestine ended next year, with an armistice (truce) agreement signed separately on different dates between Israel and each of the four Arab countries that participated in the war, meaning Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon, and Syria. The last such armistice (truce) agreement (which was the 4th armistice) was signed between Israel and Syria on July 20, 1949 (Ramadan 23, 1368 Hijri (Tammuz 23, 5709 Jewish). So, Israel became fully established, enjoying temporary relative peace and safe borders, starting from July 20, 1949, meaning about 19 months after the U.N. resolution to partition Palestine on November 30, 1947. A Hadith attributed to Prophet Mohammad (p) mentions that there will be 4 truces (or armistices) between Muslims and Bani Asfar (Western Romans), then they break the 4th truce and attack Muslims.

Benjamin Netanyahu was born on October 21, 1949 (Zu Al-Hijja 29 (or 28), 1368 Hijri) (Tishri 28, 5710 Jewish).

On March 14, 1950 (Jumada Ula 24, 1369 Hijri) (Adar 25, 5710 Jewish), Israel's Knesset passed the "Absentees' Property Law", which provided for the confiscation of the property owned by any of the Arab-Palestinians who had fled from Israel and were "not physically within the state's borders".

On May 19, 1950 (Shaban 2, 1369 Hijri) (Sivan 3, 5710 Jewish) (2433,420.5 or 2433,421 Julian Day), the first 175 Jews were airlifted out of Iraq in two planes to Israel. Jews started leaving Iraq earlier by land, but that was not sufficient, so air transportation was deemed necessary. Iraqi laws authorized the revocation of Iraqi citizenship to any Jew who willingly left Iraq. Upon exit from Iraq, assets of Jews were frozen. Once the Jews registered to migrate, they were required to leave Iraq within 15 days. In 1949, there were an estimated 130,000 Jews in the Iraq, with about 90,000 of them in Baghdad. In fact, Baghdad Chamber of Commerce listed 2,430 member companies. A third of these companies were owned by Jews. A third of the Chamber’s board and almost all of its employees were Jewish. Jewish firms transacted 45 percent of all exports and nearly 75 percent of all imports. Between January 1950 and December 1951, about 119,788 Iraqi Jews left Iraq to Israel by land or by air. Only few thousand Jews remained in Iraq. Israel at first called the planned exodus of Iraqi Jews as “Operation Ali Baba”, but it later became known by the original code name, “Operation Ezra and Nehemiah”. Ezra and Nehemiah are the prophets who had led the Jews of Babylon out of exile back to Israel. The Jews in Iraq are descendants of the Jews who were exiled by Nebuchadnezzar, the king of Babylonians (also known as Chaldeans), 2600 years ago from Judah (the southern Kingdom of Israel whose capital was Jerusalem) to Babylon, the capital the Babylonian Empire, in today’s Iraq. Babylonians conquered Jerusalem and started deporting Jews in 597 BC and the second wave of deportation happened 11 years later in 586 BC when Kingdom of Judah ceased to exist. The Babylonians destroyed the first Temple of Solomon. After Cyrus, the King of Persia, conquered the Babylonian Empire, he issued a decree in 539 BC, allowing the Jews to return to Israel. Only about 50,000 Jews returned from Babylon to Israel, while most of the Jews chose to remain in Babylon. The period these Jews spent in Babylon is called the Babylonian Exile.

On July 5, 1950 (Ramadan 19, 1369 Hijri) (Tammuz 20, 5710 Jewish), the Law of Return, granting every Jew in the World the right to settle in Israel, was passed by the Israeli Knesset.
Two amendments were later added on to the Law of Return - one passed August 23, 1954, and the other passed March 10, 1970 (Muharram 2, 1390 Hijri).

In Turkey, the Democratic Party won 52% of the votes in the first free parliamentary elections in Turkish history on May 14, 1950 (Rajab 27, 1369 Hijri) (Iyar 27, 5710 Jewish). This led one of the Democratic Party’s founders, Adnan Menderes to form Turkey’s 19th government and serve as Prime Minister from May 22, 1950 (Shaban 4, 1369 Hijri). He introduced pro-Islam policies. On Friday, June 16, 1950 (Ramadan 1, 1369 Hijri), the Azan (Call to Prayer in Mosques) in Arabic was legalized in Turkey. A military coup took over on May 27, 1960 Gregorian (May 14, 1960 Julian) (Zu Hijja 1, 1379 Hijri). While Turkey was ruled by the military coup leaders, Adnan Menderes was hanged on September 17, 1961 (Rabi Thani 6, 1381 Hijri).

After the Imam of Yemen, Ahmad bin Yahya Hamidaddin, agreed to let Yemeni Jews leave through Aden (which was a British colony), between June 1949 (Shaban 1368 Hijri) and September 24, 1950, about 49,000 Yemeni Jews were flown to Israel in Operation Magic Carpet, also referred to as “Operation on the Wings of Eagles,” from the Biblical passage in Exodus, 19:4, “…and I will transport you on eagles’ wings and bring you to me...” On September 24, 1950 Gregorian (September 11, 1950 Julian) (Zu Al-Hijja 11, 1369 Hijri) (Tishri 13, 5711 Jewish), the final two planes carrying Jews from Yemen to Israel as part of this operation touched down at Lod airport in Israel, carrying 177 Yemeni Jews. This was first mass migration of the Jews to Israel, after the establishment of State of Israel. The Jews believe that the Jews from around the World will be gathered and return to the Land of Israel and this linked to the End Times and arrival of the Messiah.

On July 20, 1951 (Shawwal 15, 1370 Hijri) (Tammuz 16, 5711 Jewish) (2433, 847.5\textsuperscript{th} Julian Day), King Abdullah I of Jordan, while entering Al-Aqsa Mosque in Jerusalem for Friday noon prayer, was shot dead by a Palestinian man. He died at the age of 69.

Operation Ezra and Nehemiah for migration of Iraqi Jews to Israel was conducted by the Near East Transport Company and the Israeli national airline El Al. Operation Ezra and Nehemiah was named after Ezra and Nehemiah, who led the Jewish people from exile in Babylonia to return to Israel in the 5th century BC. The flights began in mid-May 1951, when Iraqi Jews were airlifted to Cyprus, from where they were flown to Israel. Several months later, a giant airlift operated directly from Baghdad to Lod Airport. This operation ended in early 1952, transporting about 90,000 Iraqi Jews, leaving only about 6,000 Jews in Iraq.

The Suez Canal is an artificial sea-level waterway in Egypt, connecting the Mediterranean Sea and the Red Sea. On April 25, 1859 (Ramadan 22, 1275 Hijri) (Nisan 21, 5619 Jewish), (2400,159.5th Julian Day), the ceremony for the beginning of construction of the Suez Canal was held. On November 17, 1869 (Shaban 12, 1286 Hijri) (Kislev 13, 5630 Jewish), the Suez Canal was opened to navigation. Egypt was ruled by as the Albanian dynasty of Muhammad Ali Pasha as an autonomous province of the Ottoman Empire, since May 17, 1805. The ruler’s title was Khedive.

In 1878, an Egyptian army officer, Ahmad Urabi Al-Husseini [a descendant of Al-Hussein, grandson of Prophet Mohammad (p)] started a rebellion against Tewfik Pasha, the Khedive of Egypt and Sudan, against the corrupted government of Egypt. On May 20, 1882, a combined Anglo-French fleet arrived at Alexandria to support Tewfik Pasha. On June 13, 1882, Khedive Tewfik fled from Cairo to Alexandria which was protected by the British fleet. On July 11, 1882 (Shaban 24 (or 23), 1299 Hijri) (Tammuz 24, 5642 Jewish), the British fleet started bombarding Alexandria. A large British naval force finally managed to land in Alexandria by July 13, 1882 (Shaban 26 (or 25), 1299 Hijri). On September 13, 1882 (Shawwal 29, 1299 Hijri) (Elul 29, 5642 Jewish), Britain’s decisively defeated the Egyptian forces loyal to Ahmad Urabi in the Battle of Tal El-Kabir, near Cairo. In the evening of September 14, 1882 (Zu Al-Qada 1, 1299 Hijri) (Tishri 1, 5642 Jewish), the British advancing forces reached Cairo and Ahmad Urabi surrendered to the British forces. On September 24, 1882, Khedive Tewfik and his “ministers” returned to Cairo. Ahmad Urabi was sentenced to death in December 1882, but was later exiled to the British colony of Ceylon (Sri Lanka).

The British influence over Egypt started in 1882. The first period of British rule (1882–1914) is often called the "veiled protectorate". During this time the Khedivate of Egypt remained an autonomous province of the Ottoman Empire, and the British occupation had no legal basis but constituted a de facto protectorate over the country. This state of affairs lasted until the Ottoman Empire joined the First World War on the side of the Central Powers in November 1914 and Britain unilaterally declared a protectorate over Egypt. The ruling khedive was deposed and his successor, Hussein Kamel, compelled to declare himself Sultan of Egypt independent of the Ottomans in December 1914. Britain established a protectorate over Egypt on December 18, 1914 (Safar 1, 1333 Hijri). In the aftermath of the Egyptian Revolution of 1919, the protectorate status was brought to an end by the unilateral declaration of Egyptian independence issued by Britain on February 28, 1922 (Rajab 1, 1340 Hijri). Through this declaration, the British government unilaterally ended its protectorate over Egypt and granted it nominal independence with the exception of four "reserved" areas: foreign relations, communications, the military and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. However, British troops remained in the country following Egypt’s independence in order to protect British interests, including the Suez Canal. On March 15, 1922, Sultan Ahmed Fouad proclaimed the establishment of Kingdom of Egypt, assuming the title of King Fouad I and proclaimed Egypt’s independence from Britain. Britain and Egypt signed the Anglo-Egyptian Treaty on August 26, 1936 (Jumada Thania 8, 1355 Hijri) (Elul 8, 5696 Jewish), which provided for the withdrawal of British troops from Egypt, except for the Suez Canal zone for the defence of the Suez Canal.

The Egyptian government formally requested on September 23, 1945 (Shawwal 15, 1364), that the Anglo-Egyptian Treaty of 1936 be revised and that British military occupation of the Suez Canal zone be terminated. In 1951, Egypt repudiated the treaty. On July 23, 1952 (Zu Al-Qada 1, 1371 Hijri) (Av 1, 5712 Jewish), the Free Officers Movement, led by Muhammad Nageeb and Gamal Abd-Nasir, staged a coup aimed at overthrowing the monarchy, establishing a republic.

President of Egypt, Abd-Nasir, ordered Palestinian Fedayeen armed groups to attack targets inside Israel. In response, on September 1, 1955, Israeli forces penetrated three miles inside Egyptian territory along the Gaza strip and attacked an Egyptian police station at Khan Yunis. Then as a diversion tactic, also attacked the small Arab village of Abasan. Thirty six Egyptians were killed and 13 wounded, most of them police and soldiers. The UN forces in the area were unable to stop the fighting between the Israelis and the Egyptians. On September 11, 1955, Egypt retaliated for the Israeli raid, by declaring a sea blockade against Israel, blocking the Straits of Tiran at the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba. This move blocked any shipping to and from the Israeli port of Elath.

On June 13, 1956 (Zu Al-Qada 4, 1375 Hijri) (Tammuz 4, 5716 Jewish), British troops completed their withdrawal from the Suez Canal, consequently Egypt started enjoying exclusive control of the Canal. On July 19, 1956 (Zu Hijja 10, 1375 Hijri) (Av 11, 5716 Jewish), the U.S. withdrew all American financial aid for the Aswan Dam project and the International Monetary Fund followed suit. On July 26, 1956 (anniversary of exile of King Farouk) (Zu Al-Hijja 17, 1375 Hijri), President Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal in order to finance the construction of the Aswan High Dam. On August 16 – 23, 1956, the first London Suez Conference meets in London in an attempt to find a diplomatic solution and adopts eighteen proposals which include an offer to Nasser of Egyptian representation on the Suez Canal Company board and a share in its profits. On September 9, 1956, U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles proposed the creation the Suez Canal Users’ Association (S.C.U.A.) as an international partnership of 18 of the world’s leading naval nations, to operate the Canal. On September 19 – 21, 1956, the second London Suez Conference was held in London, and ended with agreement to establish Suez Canal Users’ Association (SCUA). On September 23, 1956 (Safar 17, 1376 Hijri), France and Britain requested that the U.N. Security Council convene to consider the "situation created by the unilateral action of the Egyptian government in bringing to an end the system of international operation of the Suez Canal. On September 23, 1956, President Nasser, King Saud, and President of Syria Quwatly met in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia to discuss the Suez Canal Crisis. On October 29, 1956 (Rabi Awwal 24, 1376 Hijri), Israeli troops attacked Egypt in the Sinai Peninsula. On October 31, 1956, British military aircrafts attacked Egyptian military bases. On November 5, 1956, British troops invaded the Suez Canal zone. On December 22, 1956
(Jumada Ula 19, 1376 Hijri), the UN Security Council deployed U.N. peace-keeping troops in the northern Suez Canal zone, following the withdrawal of British troops. On April 24, 1957 (Ramadan 23, 1376 Hijri) (Nisan 23, 5717 Jewish), the Suez Canal was fully re-opened to navigation after being closed since 1956 Suez Canal war and on that day, the Egyptian government issued a Declaration in a letter addressed to the U.N. Secretary General in which Egypt pledged to maintain uninterrupted navigation to all nations through the Suez Canal. On January 17, 1959, Egypt and Britain signed an agreement that settled outstanding issues related to the Suez Canal.

An agreement to create Arab Union (or Confederation), between Hashimite Kingdom of Iraq and Hashimite Kingdom of Jordan, was signed by King Faisal II of Iraq and King Hussein of Jordan on February 14, 1958. The membership in this union was also made open to other Arab countries wishing to join it later. The head of this union was designated as the King of Iraq and the headquarters of the union would be changed every 6 months: Baghdad for 6 months and Amman for 6 months. Each of the two Kingdoms remained as a sovereign state with its own separate government. This Arab Union between Iraq and Jordan was designed to be a pro-Western rival to the pro-Soviet Union, socialist union between Syria and Egypt, called United Arab Republic, that was announced on February 1, 1958. Constitution of the Arab Union of Iraq and Jordan was completed on March 29, 1958. King of Saudi Arabia, Saud bin Abd-Al-Aziz Al-Saud, made an 8 – day visit to Iraq from May 11 to May 18, 1958 to meet King Faisal II to support this Union. On May 19, 1958 (Shawwal 29, 1377 Hijri) (Iyar 29, 5718 Jewish), the Arab Union of Iraq and Jordan officially came into existence and the first government was formed with Nuri Al-Saeed as prime minister. A military coup in Iraq led by socialist officers, Abd Al-Kareem Qasim and Abd Al-Salam Arif on July 14, 1958 killed Iraq's King Faisal II and his family and ended for 37 years since August 23, 1921 when King Faisal I became the first King of Iraq after the end of the Ottoman's rule of Iraq. Prime Minister Nuri Al-Saeed was captured, killed, and mutilated on July 15, 1958.

Thousands of American marines landed in Beirut, Lebanon, backed by American Navy ships, to support President of Lebanon, Kameel Shamoun, on July 15, 1958 (Zu Hijja 27, 1377 Hijri).

Pope Pius XII was born on March 2, 1876 (Safar 5, 1293 Hijri). He was elected as Pope on his birthday, March 2, 1939 (Muharram 10, 1358 Hijri). He served as Pope till his death on October 9, 1958. For his embalming, the Pope had not wanted the vital organs removed, demanding that his body be kept in the same condition "in which God created it". His physician Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi claimed that he and an embalmer from Naples, Professor Nuzzi, had used a new system with the same oils and resins with which the body of Jesus Christ had been preserved. However, the weather was so hot that the body decomposed rapidly before burial, and the public viewing had to be terminated. He was buried in a crypt under Saint Peter's Basilica on October 13, 1958 (Rabi Awwal 29, 1378 Hijri) (Tishri 29, 5719 Jewish). He was consecrated by Pope Benedict XV as titular Bishop of Sardis and elevated to archbishop in the Sistine Chapel on May 13, 1917. After Pope Pius XII’s death, Pope John XXIII (John 23rd) was elected as Pope. According to Pope Pius XII’s own testimony in a handwritten, unpublished note, the Pope saw the “miracle of the sun” four times in 1950: on October 30, October 31, November 1 (the day of the definition of the dogma of the Assumption of Mary), and the last time on November 8. The first of these visions took place at 4:00 pm on October 30, 1950 (Muharram 18, 1370 Hijri) during his "habitual walk in the Vatican Gardens, reading and studying," having arrived to the statue of Our Lady of Lourdes, "toward the top of the hill […] he was awestruck by a phenomenon that he had never seen before. "The sun, which was still quite high, looked like a pale, opaque sphere, entirely surrounded by a luminous circle," he recounted. And one could look at the sun, "without the slightest bother. The Pope acknowledged that on other days at about the same hour, he tried to see if the phenomenon would be repeated, "but in vain -- I couldn't fix my gaze [on the Sun] for even an instant; my eyes would be dazzled." Pope Pius XII declared the dogma of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary into Heaven which means that Mary, having completed the course of her earthly life, was assumed body and soul into heavenly glory. Pope Pius XII considered his visions of the Miracle of the Sun as a confirmation of his plan to declare the dogma. On October 13, 1951 (Muharram 13, 1371 Hijri) (Tishri 13, 5712 Jewish), the papal legate, Cardinal Tedeschini, revealed to a crowd of million people gathered for the closing ceremonies for the Holy Year of the universal Church held in Fatima, Portugal that Pope Pius XII himself saw the miracle of the sun in the Vatican gardens 4 times in 1950. As a Pope, in 1940, Pope Pius XII approved the Fatima apparitions, and on October 13, 1942 (Shawwal 2, 1361 Hijri) (Heshvan 2, 5703 Jewish), he consecrated the entire World to the Immaculate Heart of Mary. As well, Pius XII often spoke with Sister Lucia, the visionary of Fatima, and he asked her to transcribe the messages she received from the Virgin. He thus became the first Pope to know the “third secret of Fatima,” which Pope John Paul II would later make public. The original Miracle of the Sun witnessed by the 3 children, and 70,000 people, in Fatima, Portugal on October 13, 1917 was officially accepted as a miracle by the Roman Catholic Church on October 13, 1930 (Jumada Ula 21, 1349 Hijri). On October 13, 2013 (Zu Al-Hijja 9, 1434 Hijri), Pope Francis consecrated the world to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

On July 23, 1959, Richard Nixon, as Vice President of the United States, began his visit to the U.S.S.R.

On September 12, 1959 (Rabi Awwal 9, 1379 Hijri) (Elul 9, 5719 Jewish), at 06:39:42 UTC, Luna 2, the Soviet Union launched Luna 2 spacecraft to the Moon from Baikonur Cosmodrome (World's oldest and largest spaceport) in Kazakhstan. The launch was initially scheduled for September 9, 1959, but the core stage was shut down after it failed to reach full thrust at ignition. Fixing the problem caused a delay in the launch by three days. Luna 2 became the first spacecraft, without a human crew, to reach the surface of the Moon, and the first man-made object, without a human crew, to land on a celestial body, other than the Earth. On September 13, 1959 (Rabi Awwal 10, 1379 Hijri) (Elul 10, 5719 Jewish), at 21:02:24 UTC, radio signals from Luna 2 abruptly ceased, indicating it had impacted the Moon. Luna 2 would have been travelling at a speed of 3.3 kilometers a second, or over 7200 miles an hour, when it hit the Moon. About 30 minutes later, the third stage of its rocket also impacted the Moon at an unknown location. Even before the launch of Luna 2, Russia seemed optimistic about it, given that Russia had informed Jodrell Bank in Britain about this voyage ahead of time to track it. Jodrell Bank was a British space observatory that was equipped with the World's largest radio telescope and the only one capable of tracking Luna 2 from Earth to the Moon. This radio telescope began receiving signals from Luna 2 after its launch. When the signals stopped, this was a confirmation that Luna 2 had reached the surface of the Moon as the impact would have destroyed the spacecraft. Several astronomers confirm that at around the same time, they spotted a flash of light on the Moon's surface. During its journey, Luna 2 released sodium gas which reacted with radiation from the Sun, making it glow and thus making Luna 2 easier to spot and turning this spacecraft into a man-made comet.

A series of of powerful earthquakes hit Chile between May 21, 1960 and June 6, 1960 (Zu Al-Hijja 10, 1379 Hijri). The strongest one was the Valdivia earthquake. On May 22, 1960 (Zu Al-Qada 25, 1379 Hijri), in the afternoon at 3:11 p.m. local time, the most powerful earthquake in the World (measuring 9.5 on Richter Scale), ever recorded and measured by seismographs, happened in Valdivia, Chile. Accurate estimates of magnitude of earthquakes only became possible in the early 1900’s. This was a mega-thrust earthquake that occurred at a depth of about 20 miles where the Nazca Plate, an oceanic plate, is subducting beneath the Plate of the South American continent. Mega-thrust earthquakes are very large earthquakes in which the rocks break along a long section of a fault zone. This earthquake produced a 500-mile long rupture zone extending from Talca, Chile to the Chiloe Archipelago. The epicenter of Valdivia earthquake (the point on the earth's surface directly above the focus of an earthquake) was 60 meters down below the ocean floor about 100 miles off the coast of Chile out in the Pacific. The closest towns of Valdivia and Puerto Montt suffered devastating damage. It triggered devastating tsunamis (created by the shifting of the sea floor) across the Pacific Ocean with waves up to 10 meters high, traveling at speeds up to 200 miles per hour, affecting the coastal regions of South and North America, Hawaii, New Zealand, Australia, Philippines, and Japan. In Chile, the earthquake triggered five volcanoes and caused a new one to erupt. Due to this earthquake, two days later, on May 24, 1960, Cordón Caulle Volcano in Chile erupted and its eruption remained till July 22, 1960. As a result of this earthquake, land-slides and flooding happened, and the lines of communication and electric power were cut off. Some land-slides were so enormous they changed the course of major rivers or dammed them up, creating new lakes. The earth itself was forever changed by the enormous amount of energy released from below. Two small mountains disappeared. The tsunamis swept over small islands off the coast of Chile, literally causing many towns to vanish. The earthquake resulted in the death of 2500 – 6000 people. The loss of human life was not too high because before the big quake, there was a fore-shock (smaller earthquake, tremor or shaking), 30 minutes earlier, that caused people to run into the streets in terror and were still in the streets when the big earthquake happened. Chilean government estimated two million people were left homeless and 58,622 houses were completely destroyed. The cost of damage was US$400 million to $800 million (equivalent to $3.19 billion to $6.38 billion today, adjusted for inflation). In the United States, the coastal region of California was affected by the tsunami, particularly Crescent City (which is over 9,000 miles away from the epicenter of the earthquake), Los Angeles, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Santa Barbara, and San Diego. A total of $500,000 to $1,000,000 in damage was done by the tsunami to the United States west coast. The damage in Hawaii was $75 million while the damage in Japan was $50 million. Following the main earthquake, native Lafkenches people carried out a human sacrifice ritual, during the days, to calm the Earth and the ocean. The last of the series of earthquakes that hit Chile happened at 5:55 a.m. on June 6, 1960, had a magnitude of 7.2. The epicenter of this last earthquake was 70.95 km from Aysén, Chile.

On Wednesday, August 10, 1960 (Safar 16, 1380 Hijri) (Av 17, 5720 Jewish), an earthquake measuring 5.0 hit Israel causing the ceiling of the Knesset (Israel’s Parliament) to crack.

On Monday, June 5, 1967 (Safar 26, 1387 Hijri) (Iyar 26, 5727 Jewish) (2439,646.5th or 2439,647th Julian Day), at 7:45 a.m., Israel launched its 6-day war against the Arabs, starting with air raids on nine Egyptian air bases. In less than 2 hours, Israel destroyed about 300 warplanes, of Egypt’s 420 warplanes, while they were still parked in the air bases. Israel captured Gaza on June 6, 1967. Then, Israel captured East Jerusalem including the Old City of Jerusalem and the Aqsa Mosque and therefore, all of Jerusalem became under its control on Wednesday, June 7, 1967 (Safar 28, 1387 Hijri) (Iyar 28, 5727 Jewish) (2439,648.5th or 2439,649th Julian Day) (491,209th Hijri Day). Today, Iyar 28 is celebrated annually in Israel as Jerusalem Day. The commander of the Israeli brigade that penetrated the Old City of Jerusalem, Lt. General Mordechai (Motta) Gur [who was born on May 6, 1930 (Zu Hijja 7, 1348 Hijri) (Iyar 8, 5690 Jewish) and died by committing suicide on July 16, 1995 (Safar 18, 1416 Hijri) (Tammuz 18, 5755 Jewish)] communicated the unfolding events by radio: “Shortly we’re going to go in to the Old City of Jerusalem, that all generations have dreamed about. We will be the first to enter the Old City.” Then, after an intense battle, he uttered his now-famous words: “The Temple Mount is in our hands!” Then, the Chief Rabbi of Israel’s army, Shlomo Goren (who was born on February 3, 1917 and died on October 29, 1994), while dressed in military uniform and carrying a Torah scroll, blew a Trumpet (ram’s horn) at the Western Wall to announce the reunification of East Jerusalem (which was ruled by Jordan) with West Jerusalem (which was ruled by Israel), and held the first Jewish prayer session at the Western Wall since 1948. Until then, during the Ottoman and the British occupation of Jerusalem, Jews were not allowed to sound the Trumpet at the Western Wall. Israeli soldiers were singing a popular Israeli song titled “Jerusalem of Gold” written by Israeli poetess and song-writer, Naomi Shemer. This event was broadcast live on Voice of Israel radio station. This war resulted in Israel capturing East Jerusalem, Gaza, and Golan Heights from the Arabs.

On June 27, 1967, the Israeli Knesset amended the Law and Administration Ordinance of 1948. This amendment added, to section 11, a declaration that the "law, jurisdiction and administration of the State of Israel government shall extend to any area of 'Eretz Israel' it so orders." Therefore, Israeli law extended to cover all parts of Jerusalem; the Western as well as the Eastern parts, which gave Jerusalem a different status than the rest of the Occupied Territories, since Israel did not consider itself an occupying power in East Jerusalem. On June 28, 1967 the Knesset amended the law of 1950, which proclaimed Jerusalem as Israel's capital, to reflect the newly defined municipal boundaries. In addition, the Israeli authorities dissolved the Palestinian Municipal Council already in existence in East Jerusalem, and discharged the Palestinian Mayor of East Jerusalem, Rawhi Al-Khatib, on June 29, 1967.

Moshe Dayan, whose real name is Moshe Kitaigorodsky, was born to Jewish Ukrainian immigrant parents in a Jewish Kibbutz in Palestine on May 20, 1915 (May 7, 1915 Julian) (Rajab 7, 1333 Hijri) (Sivan 7, 5675 Jewish) and died on October 16, 1981 (Zu Al-Hijja 17, 1401 Hijri) (Tishri 18, 5742 Jewish). In 1929, he joined the Haganah, a powerful underground Jewish militia in Palestine. He became involved in launching raids against the British rule of Palestine and against Arab Palestinians. In 1939, he was captured and imprisoned in Acre (Akka), Palestine, but he was released in 1941, with an offer to join the British forces in Palestine, as a Haganah scout, in fighting the pro-Nazi Vichy French ruling Lebanon. On June 1, 1941 Gregorian (May 19, 1941 Julian) (Jumada Ula 6, 1360 Hijri) (Sivan 6, 5701 Jewish) (2430146.5th Julian Day), he was called by his immediate superior in Haganah and he was ordered to join a Haganah unit slated to operate in support of the Australian 7th Division of the British forces, as an Officer of the unit, leading a group of 30 fighters who were to operate in the area of Bint-Jbeil in Southern Lebanon. On June 7, 1941, Dayan's unit crossed the Palestine-Lebanon border and secured two bridges over the Litani River in Southern Lebanon. When Dayan's unit was not relieved as expected, at 4:00 AM on June 8, 1941 (Jumada Ula 13, 1360 Hijri), the unit perceived that it was exposed to possible attack and, on its own initiative, attacked a nearby Vichy French police station and was able to capture it. A few hours later, while he was on the roof of the building of the Police Station using binoculars to scan Vichy French positions on the other side of the Litani River, his binoculars was struck by a bullet fired by a French sniper, propelling metal and glass fragments into his left eye. Six hours passed before he could be evacuated. Not only Moshe Dayan lost the eye, but in addition, the damage to the extra-ocular muscles was so severe to the extent that Dayan could not even be fitted with a glass eye. So, he was compelled to wear the black eye-patch for the rest of his life and that this eye-patch on became his distinguished feature. So, he was an Awar (a person who has a defective eye) like the Dajjal, as described by Prophet Mohammad (p). Dayan wrote in his autobiography that he was "ready to make any effort and stand any suffering, if only I could get rid of my black eye patch. The attention it drew was intolerable to me. I preferred to shut myself up at home, doing anything, rather than encounter the reactions of people wherever I went." When Arab armies marched into Palestine in 1948, Moshe Dayan fought the Syrians in Galilee, led a commando battalion on raids against Lod and Ramallah, and commanded the Jerusalem front. In his capacity as Commander of the Jerusalem front, Moshe Dayan met King Abdullah of Jordan a number of times and engaged in informal negotiations with him. He was involved in reaching the informal agreement concerning the border of "no man's land" of Jerusalem which became operative on December 1, 1948. Dayan became Chief of Staff of the Israeli Armed Forces in 1953 and in this position, he drew up and executed the plan for the Sinai invasion in 1956. On June 1, 1967 Gregorian (May 19, 1967 Julian) (Safar 22, 1387 Hijri) (Iyar 22, 5727 Jewish), when war with Israel’s Arab neighbors was imminent, Moshe Dayan was appointed Minister of Defense of Israel. He personally oversaw Israel’s capture of East Jerusalem on June 7, 1967. On June 8, 1967, Dayan bypassed both the Prime Minister and the Chief of Staff, ordering the Israeli army to attack and capture the Golan Heights in Syria. On Saturday June 17, 1967 (Rabi Awwal 9, 1387 Hijri), shortly after the end of the Six Day War, Defense minister Moshe Dayan entered the Al-Aqsa Mosque for a historic meeting. In a gesture of good will, Dayan sat down on the prayer carpet with five leaders of the Supreme Muslim Council (the Waqf) of what had been Jordanian-controlled Jerusalem. That discussion fixed Israel's policy regarding the Temple Mount, a policy that remains unchanged to this day. The administrative control over the Temple Mount was to be the sole responsibility of the Supreme Muslim Council - the (Jordanian) Waqf. For the next six years following Israel’s victory in 1967 war and until the 1973 war, Moshe Dayan was like a king of Israel, like no man before him and no man after him. Together with Israel's next Prime Minister, Golda Meir, he led a firm state policy, which opposed receding any territories, approved the first Jewish settlements and delayed peace efforts. Israeli Military historian Yossi Argaman said about Moshe Dayan: "In all the years of Israel’s history, there has not existed a military hero or dominant figure like him. Moshe Dayan symbolized the national and military rebirth and the revitalization of Jewish strength, the myth of the Jewish fighter. He climbed so high, that he became a kind of god. " However, after being criticized for the Israeli's army unreadiness for the Yom Kipper War of October 6 - 24, 1973, Moshe Dayan resigned as Minister of Defense on June 3, 1974. From 1977 to 1979, he served as the Foreign Minister of Israel and in that capacity, he helped negotiate the final peace treaty between Israel and Egypt. Moshe Dayan was also one of the Leaders of Palmach (Jewish commando units founded on May 19, 1941). Moshe Dayan was an atheist. Moshe Dayan is also widely considered Israel's most famous adulterer.

On July 14, 1958 (Zu Al-Hijja 26, 1377 Hijri) (Tammuz 26, 5718 Jewish) (2436,398.5th Julian Day), a military coup headed by General Abdul Kareem Qasim and Colonel Abdul Salam Arif overthrew the Hashimite monarchy which had reigned over Iraq since 1921 (for 37 years), killed the royal family, and formed a military government. The last King of Iraq Faisal II was great grandson of Hussein son of Ali, Sherif of Mecca, who stated the Arab revolution that led to the end Ottoman’s rule of Arab countries and was the last man to be Caliph of Muslims. Faisal II had become head of Arab Federation of Iraq and Jordan on February 14, 1958.

Rabbi Shlomo Goren (who was born on February 3, 1917 and died on October 29, 1994), then chief chaplain of the Israeli army, and one of the leading advocates for the rebuilding of the Temple, attempted to establish a Jewish identity on the Mount. On August 15, 1967 (Jumada Ula 9, 1387 Hijri)
(Av 9, 5727 Jewish), Goren led demonstrative Jewish prayers on the Temple Mount compound. The two chief Rabbis of Israel (Sephardic and Askenazi) then prepared a joint statement forbidding Jews to visit the Temple Mount. There position was that the Jewish people were ceremonially unclean and might accidentally tread on the place where the holy of holies stood in the Temple.

The Khartoum Resolution of September 1, 1967 (Jumada Ula 26, 1387 Hijri) was issued at the conclusion of 1967 Arab League Summit which lasted from August 29 to September 1 in Khartoum, Sudan. This resolution is famous for containing (in the third paragraph) what became known as the "The Three No's ": "no peace with Israel, no recognition of Israel, no negotiations with it..."

The United Nations Security Council Resolution 242 was adopted unanimously by the UN Security Council on November 22, 1967 (Shaban 19, 1387 Hijri), in the aftermath of the Six-Day War. The preamble refers to the "inadmissibility of the acquisition of territory by war. The resolution calls for: (i) Withdrawal of Israel armed forces from territories occupied in the recent conflict; (ii) Termination of all claims or states of belligerency and respect for and acknowledgment of the sovereignty, territorial integrity and political independence of every State in the area and their right to live in peace within secure and recognized boundaries free from threats or acts of force.

Technicians were putting the rocket and spacecraft through their pre-flight checks. The launch countdown for Apollo 11 started on Monday, July 14, 1969, but it was launched

Thalith Ashar (Thirteenth) + Tammuz (July – in Greater Syria) + 1917:
On July 13, 1917 is the date of the third apparition/vision of the three Catholic children in Fatima, Portugal, on which 3 secrets about the future were revealed to them.

On July 23, 1970, Qaboos became Sultan of Oman by overthrowing his father, Said bin Taimur, initiating massive reforms and modernization programs and ending a decade long civil war.

On September 1, 1970 (Jumada Thania 29, 1390 Hijri) (Av 30, 5730 Jewish), Palestinian rebels attempted to assassinate King Hussein of Jordan while he was on his way to Amman airport, but the assassination attempt failed. On September 6, 1970, militants belonging to the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (P.F.L.P.) almost simultaneously hijacked three civilian airplanes shortly after they take off from European airports on routes toward the United States. When hijackers on one plane are foiled, hijackers seized a fourth plane (Pan Am), diverted it to Beirut and then to Cairo where the passengers were taken out of the plane and the hijackers blew up the plane on September 6, 1970. The two other hijacked planes (SwissAir and TWA) were ordered to land in a desert air strip known as Dawson Field in Zarqa, Jordan. On September 9, 1970, they also hijacked British Overseas Airways flight from Bombay to London and diverted to Beirut and later to Dawson Field in Jordan. The PFLP announced that the hijackings were intended "to pay special attention to the Palestinian problem". The PFLP submitted a formal list of demands that called for the release of Palestinian and Arab prisoners in European and Israeli jails. On September 11, 1970 (Rajab 10, 1390 Hijri) (Elul 10, 5730 Jewish), PFLP freed the majority of the 421 hostages. But they moved 40 hostages to a secret location (35 men and five women) whom they said were members of the Israeli army and therefore "prisoners-of-war". On September 12, 1970, the PFLP hijackers, in a dramatic scene, blew up the 3 airplanes, in front of TV cameras. Directly confronting and angering the King, the rebels declared the Irbid area a "liberated region." On September 16, 1970, King Hussein dismissed the civilian government of Jordan and appointed a military government headed by General Mohammad Dawoud and this military government declared martial law. Field Marshal Habis al Majali was appointed as a commander in chief of the Jordanian armed forces. The head of Pakistani training mission to Jordan, Brigadier Muhammad Zia-ul-Haq (who later became President of Pakistan), played a key role in planning the offensive against the Palestinian Liberation Organization (P.L.O.). The next day, on September 17, 1970, Jordanian army launched a military attack against PLO rebels and the headquarters of Palestinian organizations in Amman. On September 18, 1970, Syria tried to intervene militarily by sending 20,000 Syrian troops to Jordan to support of the Palestinian. On September 21, 1970, the Syrian 5th Division broke through the defenses of the Jordanian 40th Armoured Brigade. On September 21, 1970, in a secret deal brokered by Henry Kissenger (President Nixon’s Assistant for National Security), King Hussein agreed to intervention from Israel. To support Jordan, on September 22, 1970, Israel sent 4 Israeli F-4E Phantom jets to scare the Syrian army, by flying low over the invading Syrian land army divisions, throughout the entire northern Jordan front, making sure that the Syrian army can positively identify the planes as Israeli Phantoms. So, on the late afternoon of September 22, 1970, the Syrian army began to retreat. Both the U.S., in support of Jordan, and the U.S.S.R., in support of Syria, intervened militarily, but this tension gradually decreased once it became clear, around September 23 that the Syrian drive into Jordan had failed. The Jordanian army re-gained control of key cities and intersections in the country before accepting the ceasefire agreement brokered by Gamal Abd-Nasir, President of Egypt, during an emergency Arab League Summit, attended by both King Hussein and Yasir Arafat, on September 27, 1970 (Rajab 26, 1390 Hijri) (Elul 26, 5730 Hijri).
Jewish). In this summit, King Hussein was forced to sign an agreement which preserved the right of the Palestinian organizations to operate in Jordan, but required them to leave Jordanian cities and stay near the borders with Israel. On September 28, 1970 (Rajab 27, 1390 Hijri), Gamal Abd-Nasir died of a sudden heart attack. As a result the P.L.O. lost its protection, and King Hussein continued the attack. The hostage crisis of the hijacked planes was resolved on September 30, 1970 when the PFLP released the last six hostages it held, in exchange for the release of several Palestinian and Arab prisoners held in European and Israeli jails. The Palestinian death toll in the days of fighting was estimated by Jordan at 3,400, while Palestinian sources often cite the number 5,000, mainly Palestinian civilians killed. This Palestinian-Jordanian confrontation is known as Black September.

President of Egypt, Gamal Abd-Nasir was born on January 15, 1918. He died at the age of 52, 6:00 pm on September 28, 1970 (Rajab 27, 1390 Hijri) (Elul 27, 5730 Jewish) after suffering from a heart attack on the same day, at the end of Arab League Summit held in Cairo to resolve the Jordan-PLO conflict.

On November 13, 1970 (Ramadan 14, 1390 Hijri), a coup known as the Corrective Movement, brought Lieutenant General Hafiz Al-Asad to power in Syria. On November 19, 1970 (Ramadan 20, 1390 Hijri) (Heshvan 20, 5731 Jewish), Hafiz Al-Asad was appointed as Syria’s Prime Minister and Minister of Defense. On March 12, 1971 (Muharram 15, 1391 Hijri), Hafiz Al-Asad was elected President of Syria in a referendum. He was born in Kurdaha near Ladikia, Syria, on October 6, 1930 (Jumada Ula 13, 1349 Hijri). He died in Damascus at the age of 69 on June 10, 2000 (Rabi Awwal 7, 1421 Hijri).

On May 13, 1967 (50th anniversary of the first apparition), Pope Paul VI visited Fatima, Portugal. In the presence of 1,000,000 pilgrims, after a Mass celebrated in the open square in front of the basilica in Fatima, Portugal, Lucia approached Pope Paul VI and said: "I want to have a private conversation with you." She repeated this request several times. But Pope Paul VI rejected her requests. His rejection made Lucia start weeping. According to at least one Fatima expert, Lucia pleaded with Pope Paul VI to release the Third Secret, but he refused. On November 27, 1970 (Ramadan 28, 1390 Hijri) (Heshvan 28, 5731 Jewish), at 9:30 a.m., shortly after the Pope Paul VI disembarked from his chartered airplane at Manila airport in his visit to the Philippines, Pope Paul VI was attacked and stabbed with a dagger by Benjamín Mendoza y Amor Flores, a Bolivian painter, disguised as a priest. Pope Paul VI was wounded in this incident. This assassination attempt could be connected to the third apparition of the 3 children in Fatima, Portugal.

He was told that his baby died moments after being born. Then, he was convinced by the hospital chaplain to secretly adopt an orphan baby boy whose mother died at the same time that his baby died. He agreed, but did not reveal to his wife that the baby was not theirs. Soon after, Robert was appointed as U.S. Ambassador to the U.K. The final scene of the movie showed the double funeral of Katherine and Robert was attended by the President of the United States, who apparently took custody of the boy, Damien.

On September 11, 1977 (Elul 28, 5737 Jewish), Foreign Minister of Israel, Moshe Dayan, addressing nearly 1000 supporters attending a Policy Forum at Kfar Hamaccabiah near Ramat Gan, outlined his proposal regarding the Israeli-occupied West Bank in which the Palestinian Arabs would be given substantial internal autonomy and self-government while the Israelis would maintain strategic military installations for security purposes. He proposed that the 1.6 million Palestinian refugees living outside of territories occupied by Israel should become citizens of the countries in which they now live. Moshe Dayan said: “Jordan is already prepared to integrate the 500,000 refugees in its territory and Kuwait could do the same for the 120,000 Palestinians now earning good wages there.” He said “Israel is prepared to absorb the 300,000 Palestinians in the Gaza Strip who are formally stateless at present because Egypt has denied them citizenship. They can choose what nationality they want to have—Israeli or Jordanian. Once these refugees have been absorbed into the Arab lands, Israel will be able to negotiate with the 700,000 Palestinians on the West Bank, most of whom are not refugees, in order to find ways of living together.” However, he categorically rejected the creation of a Palestinian state or any negotiations with the Palestine Liberation Organization.

On Wednesday, November 9, 1977 (Zu Al-Qada 28, 1397 Hijri), Egyptian President Anwar Sadat delivered a speech in front of the Egyptian Parliament, in the presence of Yasin Arafat. In the section on foreign policy he described his efforts to advance the cause of peace before, during and after the 1973 war. He proposed to go to Geneva to demand Israeli withdrawal and a Palestinian state. In an unplanned addition to the speech, Sadat declared: "I am ready to go to the end of the World if this would prevent the wounding, let alone the killing, of a soldier or an officer of my boys…. Israel will be surprised when it hears me say that I won't refuse to go to their own home, to the Knesset itself, to discuss it [peace]." On November 10, 1977, Israeli Prime Minister, Menachem Begin, issued a press release stating that if Sadat decided to come to Jerusalem, he would be received with all the honors due to a president. The following day, November 11, 1977, Begin made a speech on TV addressed to the Egyptian people in English language. On November 14, 1977, Begin and Sadat appeared in a joint interview with Walter Cronkite on C.B.S. (an American TV channel), in which Sadat told that he was ready to go to Jerusalem if asked. On November 15, 1977, Begin announced, in the Knesset, his invitation to Sadat to visit Israel. At night, on Saturday, Day of Arafat and eve of Eid Al-Adha, November 19, 1977 (Zu Al-Hijja 9, 1397 Hijri) (Tevet 9, 5766 Jewish), the dark/black-skinned Egyptian President Anwar Sadat arrived to Israel becoming the first Arab leader to publicly visit Israel by making an unexpected 2-day visit to Israel. The next day, on Sunday, November 20, 1977, he performed Eid Al-Adha (Feast of the Sacrifice) prayer in the morning at the Al-Aqsa mosque and delivered a speech addressing the Knesset in the afternoon. He returned to Egypt at night on November 21, 1977. Anwar Sadat and Barack Obama are similar to each other in the sense that their skin color is much darker than average citizen of their countries. Similarly, while Barack Obama was a U.S. Senator, he arrived for the first time to Israel at night on Monday, eve of Eid Al-Adha, January 9, 2006 (Zu Al-Hijja 9, 1426 Hijri), for a 5-day visit to Israel after having spent 4 days in the Middle East, visiting Iraq, Qatar, Kuwait, and Jordan. He visited the Western Wall and Church of the Holy Sepulcher (called “Church of the Qiyama” by Arab Christians) on January 13, 2006. He left Israel on January 14, 2006. It is worth noting that Egyptian President Anwar Al-Sadat was assassinated on October 6, 1981 (Zu Hijja 8, 1401 Hijri) (Tishri 8, 5742 Jewish).

On September 8, 1978 (Shawwal 5, 1398 Hijri) (Elul 6, 5738 Jewish), during Camp David Summit, direct negotiations between the Israeli and Egyptian delegations seemed to reach an impasse which necessitated an intervention from Jimmy Carter. So, Carter and his team as mediators began one-on-one meetings with each of the Israeli and Egyptian delegations separately. On September 19, 1978, Egypt's cabinet unanimously approved President Anwar Sadat's Camp David agreement to sign a peace treaty with Israel within three months. According to a public opinion poll released on September 21, 1978, Menachem Begin’s popularity rating among Israelis rose due to the signing of Camp David agreements, showing that 78 percent of the 500 Israelis questioned replied that they were satisfied with Begin as Israel’s Prime Minister. On Friday, September 22, 1978, Israeli Prime Minister, Menachem Begin returned from the U.S. to a hero’s welcome at Israel’s Ben Gurion Airport. More than 40,000 jubilant Israelis greeted him at the airport. On September 23, 1978, 100,000 cheering Egyptians welcomed Anwar Sadat back to Egypt from Camp David summit.

It is rare for a revolution to involve as much as 1% of a country's population. According to one historian, "these figures may represent the largest protest event in history.” On December 11, a dozen military officers were shot dead by their own troops at Tehran's Lavizan barracks. The last Shah of Iran, Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, left Iran for exile on January 16, 1979 (Safar 16, 1399 Hijri), as the last Persian monarch, leaving his duties to a regency council and an opposition-based prime minister, Bakhtiar. Bakhtiar took several measures designed to appeal to moderate elements in the opposition movement. He lifted restrictions on the press, set free remaining political prisoners. He promised the dissolution of SAVAK, the lifting of martial law, and free elections. Bakhtiar sought unsuccessfully to persuade Ayatollah Khomeini to postpone his return to Iran until conditions in the country were normalized. Khomeini refused to meet in Paris a member of the regency council Bakhtiar sent as an emissary. After some hesitation, Khomeini rejected Bakhtiar's offer to come to Paris personally for consultations. Bakhtiar's attempt to prevent Khomeini's imminent return by closing the Mehrabad Airport in Tehran on January 26, 1979 (Safar 26, 1399 Hijri) proved to be only a stopgap measure. Ayatollah Khomeini returned to Iran and was greeted by millions of supporting Iranians on February 1, 1979. Khomeini established komiteh-ye Imam (the Imam's committee) to oversee the revolution. On February 5, 1979, Khomeini named Mehdi Bazargan as prime minister of a provisional government. On February 10, 1979 (Rabi Awwal 12, 1399 Hijri), fighting erupted at Tehran's Doshan Tappeh air force base. The armed rebels attacked a weapons factory, capturing nearly 50,000 machine guns and distributing them to civilians who joined in the fighting. The rebels began storming police stations, military bases, and government buildings throughout Tehran. The final collapse of the government came at 2 p.m. on February 11, 1979 (Rabi Awwal 13, 1399 Hijri) (Shevat 14, 5739 Jewish) (2443,915.5 or 2443,916th Julian Day)., when the Supreme Military Council announced that the armed forces would observe neutrality in the confrontation between the government and the people and ordered the troops back to their base. Revolutionaries took over government buildings, T.V. and radio stations, and palaces of the Pahlavi Dynasty, marking the end of the monarchy in Iran, and bringing AyatAllah Khomeini to official power. Today, the period, from February 1 to 11, is celebrated annually in Iran as the “Decade of Fajr (Dawn)”. February 11 is celebrated as "Islamic Revolution's Victory Day". On March 30 - 31, 1979, a national referendum was held in Iran over whether to replace the monarchy with an "Islamic Republic". The result which was in favor of becoming an Islamic Republic was announced on April 1, 1979 (Jumada Ula 4, 1399 Hijri). The last Shah of Iran, Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, died of cancer in his exile in Egypt on July 27, 1980.

1979 Egypt–Israel Peace Treaty was signed in the White House on March 26, 1979 Gregorian (March 13, 1979 Julian) (Rabi Thani 27, 1399 Hijri) (Adar 27, 5739 Jewish), following the Camp David Accords in 1978.

November 20, 1979 was Muharram 1, 1400 Hijri, the first day of 1400 Hijri, meaning the beginning of our current Hijri century.

An unpublicized limited-scale uprising or unrest in Western Arabia (Hijaz region) started in early November 1979. Later, on November 20, 1979 (Muharram 1, 1400 Hijri) (Heshvan 30, 5740 Jewish) at the time of Dawn prayer, a group of militant rebels led by Muhammad AbdAllah Al-Qahtani (who was declared to be the Mahdi) [born on September 28, 1935 (Jumada Thania 29, and Juhaíman Al-Otaíbi [born on September 16, 1936 (Jumada Thania 29, 1355 Hijri) (Elul 29, 5696 Jewish)] took over the Haram Mosque in Mecca. They entered the Mosque carrying several coffins with them and they told the Mosque guards that the coffins contained dead bodies. In reality, the coffins contained dozens of weapons. During the Fajr prayer, the rebels chained all of the mosque’s doors and placed two guards at each door. The rebels stormed the loud speakers room and took control of the mosque’s loudspeakers. Immediately after the prayer, the rebels announced the appearance of the Mahdi. The rebels said their Mahdi had escaped from his enemies and was taking refuge inside the Haram Mosque. In their announcement, the rebels questioned the legitimacy of the Saudi monarchy of Al-Saud. The rebels then started to pledge allegiance to the Mahdi. Year 1400 Hijri (the beginning of the current Hijri century) is equivalent to 400, the numerical value of the Satan. On November 24 – 25, 1979, Saudi forces launched a major attack against the rebels which drove the rebels to hide in the basement of the Mosque. Some sources said that about 1000 of the 3000 Saudi National Guard troops that were sent to the Mosque to end the rebellion refused to attack the rebels or joined the rebels. On November 24, 1979, several thousand people held demonstrations in Jeddah in support of the rebels. On November 26, 1979 (Muḥarram 7, 1400 Hijri), many Western newspapers, such as Chicago Tribune, reported that the man who claimed to be the Mahdi was arrested and Saudi security forces took control of most of the Mosque. However, the information regarding the arrest of the Mahdi was false. On November 28, 1979, Saudi Arabia sought help from France’s GIGN (National Gendarmerie Intervention Group). The French acted as consultants assisting the Saudi forces. On December 4, 1979 (Muḥarram 14, 1400 Hijri), the Saudi forces managed to capture the rebels and the Saudi TV, at night, showed footage of the captured rebels, including Juhaíman Al-Otaíbi. On December 5, 1979 (Muḥarram 15, 1400 Hijri), Saudi TV showed footage of the dead body of Mohammad Al-Qahtani. French police claimed that 4000 people died in this rebellion. At dawn on January 9, 1980 (Saʿfar 20, 1400 Hijri), 63 of the rebels, including Juhaíman Al-Otaíbi, were publicly beheaded in the squares of eight Saudi cities. It is worth noting that in the Eastern region of Saudi Arabia, Shia protesters defied the Saudi government ban on Shia rituals for commemoration of the Martyrdom of Al-Hussein on Muḥarram 10. The Shia protesters staged demonstrations in the first few days of Muḥarram, calling on the government to end discrimination against them.

Pope John Paul II was shot by Mohammad Ali Agca, but survived the assassination attempt, on May 13, 1981 (Rajab 9, 1401 Hijri) (Iyar 9, 5741 Hijri) (2444.737.5th Julian Day). From the first apparition in Fatima, Portugal on May 13, 1917 till Pope John Paul II's assassination attempt of on May 13, 1981, there are 64 years.

Pope John Paul II read the third Secret for the first time on July 18, 1981 (Ramadan 16, 1401 Hijri) (Tammuz 16, 5741 Jewish) (2444.803.5th Julian Day), according to Cardinal Bertone.

On June 24, 1981 (Shaban 22, 1401 Hijri) and on June 25, 1981 (Shaban 23, 1401 Hijri), young Catholic Croatian children reported seeing an apparition of the Virgin Mary in a village called Medjugorje (means “Between Mountains”) in what is now Bosnia and Herzegovina. Today, Medjugorje's population is about 2300 people, primarily Catholic Croats and Muslim Bosnians. Medjugorje is about 25 km from Mostar, a Muslim city. The Virgin Mary told them about 10 Secrets. The Virgin Mary told them that June 25 apparition should be commemorated. Some of the Medjugorje visionaries, who are now adults, are still reporting receiving messages from Virgin Mary. On August 25, 1991 (Safar 14, 1412 Hijri), the Virgin Mary told them: “I invite you to self-renunciation for nine days so that, with your help, everything that I desire to realize through the secrets I began in Fatima, may be fulfilled.”

On Wednesday, July 29, 1981 Gregorian (July 16, 1981 Julian) (Ramadan 26 (or 27), 1401 Hijri) (Tammuz 27, 5741 Jewish Calendar) (2444.814.5th Julian Day), a worldwide television audience of over 700 million people watched the wedding of Charles, Prince of Wales, and Lady Diana Spencer at St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

Anwar Al-Sadat, former President of Egypt, was born on December 25, 1918 (Rabi Awwal 21 (or 22), 1337 Hijri). He was assassinated on October 6, 1981 (Zu Hijja 8, 1401 Hijri) (Tishri 8, 5742 Jewish).

Pope John Paul II visited the town of Fatima, Portugal, for the first time, on May 13, 1982 (65th anniversary of the first apparition in Fatima, Portugal) (Rajab 19, 1402 Hijri) (Iyar 20, 5742 Jewish) (2445, 102.5th Julian Day). On May 13, 1991 (Shawwal 29, 1411 Hijri) (Iyar 29, 5751 Jewish), he visited Fatima for the second time. On May 13, 2000, in his third trip to Fatima, Portugal, Pope John Paul II beatified Francisco Marto and Jacinta Marto, two of the children who reported seeing visions of the Virgin Mary in 1917.

Pope John Paul II was wounded when he was attacked by Juan Fernandez y Krohn (born in 1948), a fanatical, ultra-conservative Spanish Catholic priest, during his first visit to Fatima, Portugal, on May 13, 1982 (Rajab 19, 1402 Hijri) (Iyar 20, 5742 Hijri) in which consecrated the World to Heart of the Virgin Mary, but not in union with Bishops of the World. In 2008, the Pope’s secretary, Cardinal Stanislaw Dziwisz finally disclosed that the Pope was bloodied in the attack. Cardinal Dziwisz made his revelation as the Vatican prepared for the first screening of a movie, Testimony, based on the Polish cardinal's book, My Friend Karol, about his 40 years as secretary to the late Pontiff. The Vatican had chosen not to disclose the wound at the time of the assassination attempt. Juan Fernandez y Krohn served three years in a Portuguese prison after being convicted of the assault. He later left the priesthood and worked as a lawyer. He has been involved in several other criminal cases involving violent behavior at extremist political protests.

Prince William was born on Monday, June 21, 1982 (Shaban 29, 1402 Hijri) (Sivan 30, 5742 Jewish Calendar) (2445, 141.5th Julian Day).
U.S. President Ronald Reagan met with Pope John Paul II in the Vatican on June 7, 1982 (Shaban 15 or 16, 1402 Hijri) (Sivan 16, 5742 Jewish), and on June 6, 1987 (Shawwal 8 or 9, 1407 Hijri).

While Israel’s Prime Minister was Menachem Begin, and Israel’s Minister of Defense was Ariel Sharon, Israel started an invasion of Lebanon on June 6, 1982 (May 24, 1982 Julian) (Shaban 14 or 15, 1402 Hijri) (Sivan 15, 5742 Jewish). Israeli forces started their siege of Beirut on June 14, 1982 (Shaban 22 or 23, 1402 Hijri) (Sivan 23, 5742 Jewish). On August 25, 1982, a multi-national peace-keeping force (mainly American, French, and Italian) arrived in Lebanon in order to supervise the departure of the PLO from Lebanon. By September 1, 1982 (Zu Al-Qada 12, 1402 Hijri), over 14,000 armed PLO forces had left Beirut. PLO headquarters was transferred to Tunis, Tunisia.

On September 11, 1982 (Zu Al-Qada 22, 1402 Hijri) (Elul 23, 5742 Jewish), the international forces that were guaranteeing the safety of Palestinian refugees left Beirut. Then on September 14, 1982 (Zu Al-Qada 25 or 26, 1402 Hijri) (Elul 26, 5742 Jewish), Bashir Gemayel (Head of a Christian militia called the Lebanese forces who had been elected as President of Lebanon on August 23, 1982) was assassinated in a massive explosion. At night on September 14, 1982, the Israeli army chief of staff, Eitan, flew to Beirut where he met with the leadership of the Lebanese Forces, a Christian militia and told them that Israel was going to enter West Beirut, but that Israel wanted the Lebanese Forces militia to enter Sabra and Shatila Palestinian Camps. On September 15, 1982 (Zu Al-Qada 26 or 27, 1402 Hijri), Yasir Arafat met, for the first time, with Pope John Paul II in the Vatican, following a lunch with President of Italy. Shortly after 6:00 a.m. on September 15, 1982, the Israeli army started entering West Beirut and in control of Beirut by the following day.

The massacre, of about 3000 Palestinian civilians, in Palestinian refugee camps of Sabra and Shatila in Beirut, Lebanon by a Lebanese Forces militia headed Eli Hobeika lasted from around 6:00 pm, on Thursday, September 16, 1982 (Zu Al-Qada 27 or 28, 1402 Hijri) (Elul 28, 5742 Jewish) (2445,228.5$^{th}$ Julian Day) till around 8:00 am, Saturday, September 18, 1982 (Zu Al-Qada 29 or 30, 1402 Hijri) (Tishri 1, 5743 Jewish).

On September 4, 1980, Iran bombarded by artillery an Iraqi border town of Khanaqin (90 miles northeast of Baghdad). On September 17, 1980, President of Iraq, Saddam Hussein, announced cancellation of Algiers Accord between Iraq with Iran, signed on March 6, 1975, which gave Iran sovereignty over certain disputed areas along the Iraq-Iran border, including part of the Shat Al-Arab. On September 22, 1980 (Zu Al-Qada 12, 1400 Hijri) (Tishri 12, 5741 Jewish) (2444, 504.5th Julian Day), Iraqi fighter-bombers attacked 10 Iranian airfields after weeks of border clashes, war between the two countries. This is how the Iran-Iraq war started. The beginning of the end of the Iran-Iraq war came with UN’s adoption of Resolution 598 calling for an immediate cease-fire (or truce) on July 20, 1988 (Zu Hijja 5, 1408 Hijri) (Av 6, 5748 Jewish). Both Iran and Iraq had accepted Resolution 598 on July 20, 1988. However, Iraq decided to make a final push and attempted to invade Iran, once again. The Iraqi army attacked Khuzestan province, beginning with chemical and air strikes, and once again pushed towards Khorramshahr. However, Iran had anticipated the attack, and used its air force in conjunction with surface-to-air missiles to defeat the larger Iraqi air force. The Iranian forces then took the offensive on July 25, 1988 (Zu Al-Hijja 10, 1408 Hijri) (Av 11, 5748 Jewish) and captured 600 square kilometres (230 sq mi) of Iraqi territory. Both sides eventually withdrew to the international border in the coming weeks, with Resolution 598 becoming effective on August 8, 1988, ending all combat operations between the two countries. U.N. Peacekeepers were placed on Iraq-Iran borders till 1991.

In 1989, the following events happened: (a) George Bush Sr. became President of the U.S. who brought the American army to the Midde East to liberate Kuwait, (b) Beginning of the Fall of Communism, (c) Beginning of the Destruction of Berlin Wall.

The construction of Berlin Wall started on August 12 - 13, 1961 (Rabi Awwal 1, 1381 Hijri) (Elul 1, 5721 Jewish Calendar). After several weeks of civil unrest, the East German government announced on November 9, 1989 (Rabi Thani 10, 1410 Hijri) (Heshvan 11, 5750 Jewish) that all East Germany’s citizens could visit West Germany and West Berlin. Crowds of East Germans crossed and climbed onto Berlin Wall, joined by West Germans on the other side in a celebratory atmosphere. Over the next few weeks, euphoric people and souvenir hunters chipped away parts of Berlin Wall. Contrary to popular belief, the wall's actual demolition did not begin until June 13, 1990 (Zu Al-Qada 20, 1410 Hijri) and was not completed until 1992. The end of the re-unification process of East and West Germany was October 3, 1990 (Rabi Awwal 14, 1411 Hijri) (Tishri 14, 5751 Jewish) (2448, 167.5th Julian Day). Today, Germany celebrates annually the German Unity Day on October 3.

Year 1989 coincided with 1410 Hijri. Number 410 is the numerical value of Lailat (Eve) of the Qadr.

Sammy Davis Jr. was an American singer, dancer, actor, and comedian. He was born on December 8, 1925 (Jumada Ula 22, 1344 Hijri) (Kislev 21, 5686 Jewish). On November 19, 1954 (Rabi Awwal 23, 1374 Hijri) (Heshvan 23, 5715 Jewish), he lost his left eye due to a car accident. At around 7:00 a.m., while Sammy Davis Jr. was driving his new Cadillac car from Las Vegas (after performing at the Frontier Hotel) back to Los Angeles to record a soundtrack for the film Six Bridges to Cross, his car hit the rear of a car driven by an elderly lady that was backing out in front of him in San Bernardino, California. Then, Sammy’s car shifted its direction, miraculously missing oncoming traffic, and came to a stop after slamming into a stone column at the entrance to a driveway. The impact of the crash actually pushed the engine of his car back into the front seat, driving Sammy’s face into the steering wheel and his left eye was forced out of its socket by the bullet-shaped cone at the center of the steering wheel. Sammy broke his nose on the sun visor, and he broke his knee cap on the emergency brake handle. He had a companion in his car who had driven the first part of the trip. His companion was also badly injured in the collision which fractured his jaw and broke out all of his teeth. Sammy and his companion were rushed by ambulance to San Bernardino County Hospital and were transferred to San Bernardino Community Hospital later that day. Sammy spent six hours in the hospital hallway waiting for an operating room in the cramped and outdated hospital. The damage to his left eye was so severe that it had to be removed. The eye surgeon attached a prosthetic socket onto Sammy’s left eye muscles to hold and direct a “glass eye” that was later implanted after he healed further. So, he became an Awar (with a defective eye or has lost one of his eyes). Prophet Mohammad (p) said the Dajjal is Awar. Sammy was released from the hospital on November 28, 1954. Sammy Davis Jr. was back on stage only two months later. The car accident and hospital stay made a profound impact on Sammy’s life. He believed that surviving the car accident was a miracle and spent much of his recovery reflecting on his existence. While being treated at the hospital in San Bernardino, he was visited by a Jewish rabbi chaplain. Later, Sammy Davis Jr. said about this visit: “We had a long talk. Some of the things he said helped me; and for the first time in my life, a religion started to make sense to me.” Although Sammy’s parents were Christians, he was not deeply religious. But after learning about history of the Jews, he felt that the Jews and the Blacks shared a similar history of oppression. Over the next years, he studied more Judaism and eventually converted to Judaism few years after his car accident. In August 1989, doctors discovered a cancerous tumor in Sammy Davis’ throat.

Realizing that Sammy Davis was not going to be around much longer, his friends in the entertainment industry arranged a tribute to Sammy Davis which was broadcast on TV on February 4, 1990. Sammy Davis Jr. attended the event, and at the end of it, he got up, did not speak, but did a little soft-shoe tap dance to a standing ovation. Frank Sinatra visited Sammy Davis Jr. at the hospital where he was being treated, and according to the National Enquirer “A softball-size tumor stuck out of Sammy’s neck, giving off a horrible odor”. This sight devastated Sinatra. After Sammy Davis Jr. died on May 16, 1990 (Shawwal 20, 1410 Hijri) (Iyar 21, 5750 Jewish), it was decided that his memorial service would be held at 11:00 a.m. on Friday, May 18, 1990 (Shawwal 22, 1410 Hijri) (Iyar 23, 5750 Jewish) at Hall of Liberty in Forest Lawn Memorial Park in Hollywood Hills, Los Angeles, California and that it would be open to the public. So, on Friday morning, 400 free tickets were given to individuals who arrived early enough to Forest Lawn Memorial Park. People started lining up at 6 a.m. About 1200 people jammed the Hall of Liberty, and hundreds more were outside. His song "I’ve Got To Be Me" was played on the loudspeaker, and the crowd cheered. The service lasted for 90 minutes. Rev. Jesse Jackson eulogized him. Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Michael Jackson and Bill Cosby were honorary pall-bearers. After the memorial service, Sammy was buried in the Davis family plot at Forest Lawn in Glendale.

Iraq started its invasion of Kuwait on August 2, 1990 (Muharram 10, 1411 Hijri) (Av 11, 5750 Jewish). On August 8, 1990 (Muharram 16, 1411 Hijri), Iraq declared that Kuwait is the 19th province of Iraq. The intervention of the Coalition led by the U.S. started on January 17, 1991 (Rajab 1, 1411 Hijri).

U.S. President George H. Bush Sr. delivered a speech at a joint session of the U.S. Congress on September 11, 1990 (Safar 21, 1411 Hijri) (Elul 21, 5750 Jewish), titled: "Towards a New World Order."

The next day, December 26, 1991, the Council of Republics, the upper chamber of the Union's Supreme Soviet, issued a formal Declaration recognizing that the Soviet Union had ceased to exist.

On December 9 - 10, 1991 (Jumada Thania 2, 1412 Hijri) (Teveth 2, 5752 Jewish), the city of Maastricht, Netherlands hosted the European Council which drafted the Maastricht Treaty. The Maastricht Treaty (formally called “The Treaty on European Union” or T.E.U.) undertaken to integrate Europe was signed in Maastricht on February 7, 1992 (Shaban 3, 1412 Hijri) (Adar I 3, 5752 Jewish) by the members of the European Community. Upon its entry into force on November 1, 1993 (Jumada Ula 16, 1414 Hijri) (Heshvan 17, 5754 Jewish), the treaty created the European Union and led to the creation of the single European currency, the Euro.

The first terrorist attack on the World Trade Center happened at 12:17 p.m on February 26, 1993 (Ramadan 4, 1413 Hijri) (Adar 5, 5753 Jewish).

Jerusalem Covenant was written in 1992 by Deputy Chief Justice Rabbi Menachem Elon. It is intended as a renewal of the Biblical covenant between God and the Children of Israel and emphasizes the importance of Jerusalem for the Jews and their insistence on having all of Jerusalem as the capital of Israel. The signing of this Covenant started in May 31, 1992 (Iyar 28, 5752 Jewish).
because it was Jerusalem Day, an annual holiday celebrated in Israel on Iyar 28, the anniversary of Israel’s capture of the Old City of Jerusalem on June 7, 1967 (Iyar 28, 5727 Jewish). May 31, 1992 (Iyar 28, 5752 Jewish) was the 25th anniversary of Israel’s capture of Old City of Jerusalem. The Covenant is in the form of a scroll written on parchment. It was circulated to all the Jewish communities in the World for signing for one Jewish year that was designated as Year of Jerusalem, starting from May 31, 1992 (Zu Al-Qada 28, 1412 Hijri) (Jerusalem Day, Iyar 28, 5752 Jewish) till Iyar 28 of the next year, meaning till May 19, 1993 (Zu Al-Qada 28, 1413 Hijri) (Jerusalem Day, Iyar 28, 5753 Jewish) the day on which the Covenant returned to Jerusalem and was signed by hundred of prominent individuals who came to Jerusalem to sign this Covenant and attend the big celebration of this occasion that was held in Jerusalem. The Jerusalem Covenant has been displayed since 1993 alongside Israel's Declaration of Independence in the Knesset (Parliament) of Israel. The Jerusalem Covenant project was the main accomplishment of the Ministry of Jerusalem Affairs created by Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir. The campaign to solicit signatures to this Covenant from the general public throughout the World, particularly on the internet, continues even till now.

The final text of the Oslo I Accord for Palestinian limited self-government between the Palestinians and Israel was completed in Oslo, Norway on August 20, 1993 (Rabi Awwal 2, 1414 Hijri). On September 9, 1993 (Rabi Awwal 22, 1414 Hijri) (Elul 23, 5753 Jewish), Israel and the PLO exchange letters formally recognizing each other. The U.S. recognized PLO on September 10, 1993. Oslo I Accord which constituted a Declaration of Principles for Palestinian self-government was signed in the White House, in Washington DC, in the presence of Yasser Arafat (Chairman of Palestine Liberation Organization (PLO), Yitzhak Rabin (Prime Minister of Israel) and U.S. President Bill Clinton on September 13, 1993 (Rabi Awwal 26, 1414 Hijri) (Elul 27, 5753 Jewish) (2449,243.5th Composite Number). On September 23, 1993, the Israeli parliament ratified Oslo I Accord. The Declaration of Principles for Palestinian self-government was essentially an agenda for negotiations, governed by a tight timetable, rather than a full-blown agreement. The Declaration laid down that within two months of the signing ceremony, agreement on Israel's military withdrawal from Gaza and Jericho should be reached and within four months, the withdrawal should be completed. A Palestinian police force, made up mostly of pro-Arafat Palestinian fighters, was to be imported to maintain internal security in Gaza and Jericho, with Israel retaining overall responsibility for external security and foreign affairs. At the same time, elsewhere in the West Bank, Israel undertook to transfer power to ‘authorized Palestinians’ in five spheres: education, health, social welfare, direct taxation and tourism. Within nine months, the Palestinians in the West Bank and Gaza were to hold elections to a Palestinian Council to take office and assume responsibility for most government functions except defence and foreign affairs. Within two years, Israel and the Palestinians agreed to commence negotiations on the final status of the territories, and at the end of five years the permanent settlement comes into force. On July 1, 1994 (Muharram 22, 1415 Hijri) (Tammuz 22, 5754 Jewish) (2449,534.5th Julian Day or 2449,535th Julian Day), as a result of Oslo Accord, Yasir Arafat arrived to Gaza for the first time since Gaza was occupied by Israel on June 6, 1967 and the headquarters of the Palestinian Authority was established in Gaza.
On July 1, 1994 (Muharram 22, 1415 Hijri) (Tammuz 22, 5754 Jewish) (2449,534.5 th Julian Day or 2449,535 th Julian Day), as a result of Oslo Accord, Yasir Arafat arrived to Gaza for the first time since Gaza was occupied by Israel on June 6, 1967.

On July 20, 1994 (Safar 11, 1415 Hijri) (Av 12, 5754 Jewish) (2449,553.5 th Julian Day), Israel's Shimon Peres visited Jordan. He was the highest ranking Israeli official to visit Jordan.

Comet Hale – Bopp was discovered after midnight, in the early hours of July 23, 1995 (Safar 25, 1416 Hijri) (Tammuz 25, 5755 Jewish) (2449,922nd Julian Day) independently by two observers in the U.S., Alan Hale in New Mexico and Thomas Bopp in Arizona. Comet Hale – Bopp was perhaps the most widely observed comet of the 20th century and one of the brightest seen for many decades. It was visible, to the naked eye, for a record 18 months, twice as long as the previous record holder, the Great Comet of 1811. Hale–Bopp became visible to the naked eye in May 1996. Hale–Bopp had its closest approach to Earth on March 22, 1997. As it passed perihelion on April 1, 1997 (Zu Al-Qada 23, 1417 Hijri) the comet developed into a spectacular sight. It shone brighter than any star in the sky except Sirius, and its dust tail stretched 40 - 45 degrees across the sky. The comet was visible well before the sky got fully dark each night, and while many great comets are very close to the Sun as they pass perihelion, comet Hale–Bopp was visible all night to northern hemisphere observers. The last naked-eye observations were reported in the Southern Hemisphere in December 1997, which meant that the comet had remained visible without aid for 569 days, or about 18 and a half months. The comet likely made its last perihelion 4,200 years ago. Astronomers believe the previous visit of Comet Hale–Bopp was probably in July 2215 BC.

Yitzhak Rabin (5th Prime Minister of Israel) was assassinated on November 4, 1995 (Jumada Thania 11, 1416 Hijri) (Heshvan 11, 5756 Jewish) at 21:30, at the end of a rally in support of the Oslo Accords at the Kings of Israel Square in Tel Aviv. The assassin, an Israeli ultra-nationalist named Yigal Amir, radically opposed Rabin's peace initiative and particularly the signing of the Oslo Accords. He was born on March 1, 1922 (Rajab 1, 1340 Hijri).

Attendance of the funeral services was by invitation only. Sinatra's friends from the music and film industry attended the funeral. He was born on December 12, 1915 (Safar 4, 1334 Hijri) (2420,843.5th Julian Day). After Jordan’s King Abdullah son of the Sharif of Mecca, Hussein son of Ali, was assassinated in the Aqsa Mosque on July 20, 1951, his son Talal became the king of Jordan. King Talal was forced to abdicate by Jordanian Parliament a year after he became the king, due to his mental illness. His son, King Hussein, was proclaimed King of Jordan on August 11, 1952; however, a Regency Council (to assume the powers of the king because the monarch was still a minor) was appointed till King Hussein reached the age of 18, according to the Islamic lunar calendar when he assumed his full power and responsibilities as king on May 2, 1953 (Shaban 18, 1372 Hijri). King Hussein was born on November 14, 1935 (Shaban 18, 1354 Hijri) (Heshvan 18, 5696 Jewish). King Hussein of Jordan died on February 7, 1999 (Shawwal 20, 1419 Hijri) (2451, 216.5th Julian Day).

On the same day, his son Mohammad was offered bay’a (pledge of allegiance) as Prince of the Believers and he was officially crowned as King Mohammad VI, the 23rd king of the Alawite dynasty, on July 30, 1999. His visit to the Holy Land was considered as a form of pilgrimage.

On March 5, 2000 (Zu Al-Qada 28, 1420 Hijri), the Israeli cabinet (headed by Prime Minister, Ehud Barak) voted unanimously to unilaterally withdraw from Lebanon by July 7, 2000, the first anniversary of Ehud Barak’s becoming Prime Minister. Around mid May, 2000, in preparation for its Israeli army’s main withdrawal from southern Lebanon in July 2000, the Israeli army started transferring control of some outposts in southern Lebanon to Israel’s ally, the South Lebanon Army (S.L.A.) Israeli-backed Lebanese militia. A brief hand-over ceremony for each of these posts was held with the SLA commander assuming responsibility. On May 18, 2000 (Safar 13, 1421 Hijri) (Iyar 13, 5760 Jewish), the attack of the Lebanese resistance forced members of the South Lebanon Army (SLA) to abandon a Lebanese village they were holding in Israel's self-declared "security zone" inside Lebanon. On May 21 - 22, 2000, the South Lebanon Army (S.L.A.) started to quickly collapse against the advancing Lebanese resistance forces and civilian demonstrations. Some S.L.A. soldiers surrendered to Lebanese authorities while others took refuge in Israel. The quick collapse of S.L.A. was in contrast with how S.L.A. managed to maintain its control of a significant area of South Lebanon between the Israel’s invasion in 1978 and Israel’s invasion in 1982. This forced Israel in the night of May 23 - 24, 2000, before the dawn of May 24, 2000 (Safar 19, 1421 Hijri) (Iyar 19, 5760 Jewish), to complete full withdrawal of Israeli troops (ahead of its initial planned withdrawal in July) from most of the Lebanese territories it had occupied since its Israel’s first invasion of Lebanon in 1978.

On Wednesday January 4, 2006 (Zu Al-Hijja 4, 1426 Hijri) (Tevet 4, 5766 Hijri) (2453,739.5 th Julian Day), he suffered a hemorrhagic stroke. After two surgeries lasting 7 and 14 hours, doctors stopped the bleeding in Sharon's brain, but were unable to prevent him from entering into a coma. He remained in this coma till his death. On January 11, 2014 (Rabi Awwal 10, 1435 Hijri) (Shevat 10, 5774 Jewish) (2456,668.5 th Julian Day), he died and Sharon's state funeral was held on January 13, 2014 (Rabi Awwal 12, 1435 Hijri) (Shevat 12, 5774 Jewish). He was born on February 26, 1928 (Ramadan 5, 1346 Hijri). In a special election held February 6, 2001, Ariel Sharon was elected Prime Minister for the first time. However, Ariel Sharon started to serve as Israel’s Prime Minister on Wednesday, March 7, 2001 (Zu Al-Hijja 10, 1421 Hijri) (2451,975.5th Julian Day), the day on which he delivered an inauguration speech in the Knesset (Israel’s Parliament) and presented his government to the Knesset.

On September 29, 2000 (Jumada Thania 29, 1421 Hijri) (Elul 29, 5760 Jewish) (2451,816.5th Julian Day), the day after Ariel Sharon’s visit to the Aqsa Mosque, the Second Intifada (uprising) of the Palestinians started. The second intifada led to Israel’s ending the Jewish Setlements and ending Israel’s rule of Gaza on September 11 – 12, 2005.
